CONGRESSIONAL REMAPPING BILL OFFERED STATE

Opposition Expected from Politicians.

(Maps on back page.)

BY PARKE BROWN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hugh M. Luckey.

Springfield, Ill., March 13.—A bill for remapping of the congressional districts of the state was introduced in the Illinois house of representatives today by Hugh M. Luckey [R., Potomac], chairman of the committee on reapportionment.

The measure, which adhered strictly to the constitutional principle requiring approximate equality in population and compactness, was pronounced almost perfect in its disregard of political expedience.

Luckey was armed with some maps designed to illustrate the terms of his bill, but few legislators saw them because the senate went home last night and the house adjourned soon after the bill came in. Persons who did see them expressed belief that it would require the full force of Gov. Green's administration, full support by the Republican majority, and tremendous public pressure to give the bill any substantial chance of success.

Politics a Handicap.

The congressional district boundaries have not been redrawn since 1901. Repeated efforts in this direction have failed because of the apparently irresistible urge of politicians to play politics, to take care of their own congressmen and their own districts by gerrymandering.

It was the gerrymandering in an act of 1931 that caused the state Supreme court to invalidate it, and political analysts say that some degree of map juggling must be practiced in this new effort if there are to be enough votes rallied to effect passage of the bill.

Yet it is the avowed intention of Chairman Luckey and of Speaker Schnackenberg, who is supporting him all the way, to lead a fight to keep the bill in its present form altho some of their colleagues already have labeled it as ultraidealistic.

Schnackenberg's Orders.

Schnackenberg said that the legislative reference bureau, which drew up the bill, had been given precise instructions to ignore political reasoning in setting up the new districts, to ignore present district boundaries completely, and to set up 26 parcels—divided 13 and 13—with complete disregard as to the effect on the political color of any of the 26 and as to the fates of the present congressmen.

The rough maps indicated that the orders had been followed faithfully. The rotten boroughs of Chicago were eliminated, the overgrown districts in Cook county were reduced in size, and the addition of three new seats for the Chicago home county was made. Similar effects were recorded in the downstate remapping.

"Disaster" to Politicians.

But the political postmortem on the results of this reapportionment if put into effect immediately began to pile up a long list of what the politicians call disasters.

In several cases the new map places two present congressmen in the same district, takes strong Republican territory away from some sitting Republicans and, in Chicago particularly, adds strong Republican areas to small districts controled for years by the Democrats. Few of the present districts would escape without changes.

EFFECT ON CANDIDATES

Illinois congressmen planning to run for reëlection next year would face formidable problems if the proposed reapportionment measure introduced in the legislature yesterday were adopted, a study indicated.

The proposed district boundaries would bunch two incumbent congressmen each into four downstate districts. The suggested law would set up three districts in Chicago and one downstate in which no congressman resides. It would work tremendous changes in the size and political complexion of most of the Cook county districts.

Illinois had a population of about

ARMS STRIKERS DENOUNCED ON FLOOR OF HOUSE

'Greed, Disloyalty' Hit by Hoffman.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Rep. Clare E. Hoffman.

Washington, D. C., March 13.—Arising dramatically to a question of personal privilege in answer to a suggestion that he be removed from office, Representative Clare E. Hoffman [R., Mich.] today assailed strikers in armament industries. He charged them with tying up the preparedness program and humiliating the army and navy before the world.

Hoffman declared that loyal union men are aghast at the lack of patriotism and the greed of the union officials who, he charged, are standing in the way of the nation's efforts to arm. These officials, he said, are insisting that the United States can be prepared only when and if their demands are met.

He also charged that the communist party is behind many of the strikes and labor disorders, engaging in a far reaching campaign to wreck the armament program by promoting unrest thruout the country to further its revolutionary objectives.

At Mercy of a Minority.

"Why talk about patriotism, about sacrifice?" he asked. "Why appropriate billions of dollars to aid England and increase our rearmament production; why boast of the power of our army, our navy, of our ability to destroy the Axis powers?

"Why these things when here at home, because of the strangling grip of a few politicians in high places, the army and navy are unable to cope successfully with a minority pressure group headed by greedy, racketeering union officials and Red communists stalling for Stalin?"

Hoffman rose on the personal question in reply to a resolution of the Grand Rapids federation of labor attacking him for an alleged antilabor attitude and urging that he be ousted from congress. The resolution, adopted Jan. 27, described him as "a reactionary demagog still living in the oxcart days."

Resolution Traced to His Bill.

Hoffman said the resolution undoubtedly is traceable to a bill which he introduced which would make it unlawful for any person working on the armament program or furnishing materials to be required either to pay a fee or join an organization as a condition for rendering service to the country.

"Is a man who stands on the floor of congress representing his people, union and nonunion, a demagog or tricky politician when he offers legislation which would enable a man to earn a livelihood for himself and his family without being required to pay for a work permit from a union organization?" he asked.

"Is a man a demagog who urges his fellow members of congress to end the practices of greedy collectors who stand outside the gates of our army cantonments or, with the government's permission, roam thruout those cantonments demanding the discharge of every American citizen, no matter how needy, who refuses to pay the sum demanded by the union agent?

"Is a man a demagog because he insists that the policy of those who, at Fort Sheridan and at the Great Lakes naval training station, will not permit American citizens to work as carpenters until they have paid $122 initiation fee, deny employment to laborers until they have paid $42, be ended?"

Wave of Strikes Cited.

One after another the Michigan representative tolled out the long list of strikes which have caused the preparedness program to sag alarmingly in recent weeks.

After each, he asked the same question:

"Is a man a demagog when he sees these things and knowing they threaten the very existence of his country protects them in the halls of congress?"

"The army and navy have been humiliated before the world," he declared. "But the responsibility does not lie with them. It lies directly on the shoulders of a few labor politicians and high government officials."

Development of a new skin test which indicates within an hour whether a woman is pregnant was announced yesterday by the University of Illinois college of medicine. Physicians there reported that the test has been used on several hundred patients in the last year and is 98 per cent reliable, the same rate of success as the Aschheim-Zondek method, which is widely used but requires two days before results are known.

The new test is the work of Dr. Frederick H. Falls, head of the department of gynecology and obstetrics at the medical college; Dr. V. C. Freda of that department, and Dr. N. H. Cohen of the physiological chemistry department. Dr. William H. Welker, head of the latter department, acted as consultant.

Fluid Injected in Arm.

The method consists of a fluid injection into the skin of the forearm of the woman patient. If she is pregnant, the physicians found, there is no reaction, but if she is not, a reddish area 1 to 2 inches in diameter appears around the injection point in a half hour to an hour. It vanishes in four or five hours.

The fluid injected is colostrum, a watery liquid secreted in the breasts during pregnancy, and is taken from women known to be in that condition. The fluid is diluted with an equal amount of salt solution and a small amount of preservative is added. A fiftieth of a cubic centimeter of the preparation is used in each test.

Test Is Less Expensive.

Dr. Falls said that he and his colleagues have tried their method not only on pregnant and nonpregnant women, but also on women beyond the child bearing age and on children and men. The test is of great value, he said, in helping to differentiate between pregnancy and abdominal tumor in women.

The new test is considerably less expensive than the Aschheim-Zondek test, it was reported.

GALLERY OF DOCTORS VIEWS A CAESAREAN BIRTH TO MOTHER, 11

Carson City, Mich., March 13 [Special].—A Cæsarean operation on an 11 year old Mexican girl was performed at the Carson City hospital today as a surgical clinic was concluding a two day program dedicating the opening of a new wing of the community institution.

The unwed girl became the mother of a baby boy weighing seven pounds and four ounces. Both were reported doing well after the operation, which was performed by Dr. Emmett Binkert, chief of staff of the osteopathic hospital.

The operation, of 23 minutes' duration, was witnessed by a group of state physicians and surgeons including officials of the Michigan Osteopathic association.

N. Y. ASSEMBLY BLASTS SEAWAY PLAN AS FOLLY

Albany, N. Y., March 13 (AP).—A resolution terming the proposed St. Lawrence seaway "highly unwarranted" and voicing opposition of New York's legislature to the development passed the assembly today and went to the senate.

The resolution asserts "it would seem an act of national folly to dissipate labor and resources on a project not vitally necessary and which could not be placed in operation before 1948."

"The United States should concentrate now upon construction of airplanes, ships, guns, tanks, and other munitions."

Assails Record of Hunter as WPA Official

Washington, D. C., March 13 [Special].—The record of Howard O. Hunter, former Boy Scout leader, social worker and Chicago relief administrator, who recently was nominated to be commisioner of the Work Projects administration, was assailed before the house today by Representative Robert F. Jones [R., Ohio]. Hunter now is acting commissioner.

"This man," Jones said, "who spent the greater part of his time for five and a half years traveling at government expense in search of the forgotten man, cannot, as WPA administrator, be expected ever to find him."

Hunts for Forgotten Man.

Hunter, however, hunted in unusual places for the men the government is seeking to help, according to the congressman. Referring to the report of a house WPA investigating committee, Jones said:

"The record shows Hunter's official travel led the way to Kentucky for the annual Derby, and to other states where important sporting events took place. He managed to make New Orleans for holidays, football games, and the like."

Jones said that Hunter collected traveling expenses of $8,558 and spent $9,172 for transportation in addition to his salary. He spent 1,416 days as a traveler between Aug. 1, 1934, and Jan. 31, 1940, a total of 71 per cent of that time, the Ohioan asserted.

Jones said the investigating committee's report disclosed bad administration about which WPA officials did nothing.

Minor to Major Offenses.

"The category," he said, "runs all the way from minor offenses to major offenses. Howard Hunter was deputy administrator at the time these major offenses were committed."

The congressman delivered part of his speech on the floor and had the remainder printed in the Congressional Record.

Hunter, whose father was a Baptist minister, spent five years in Chicago after having been an executive in the Boy Scouts of America and a director of community chest funds and a social worker in New England.

Hunter began his tenure in Chicago as regional director of the Federal Emergency Relief administration. He became field supervisor of the Civil Works administration for six states and, with the advent of WPA, became a regional administrator of that agency.

Collision of 2 Bombers Kills 7 in Canada

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TORONTO, Ont., March 13.—Canada's worst air training disaster took the lives of seven British airmen at Bond Head, 30 miles north of here, this afternoon when two bombers, each carrying four men, collided and crashed to earth. All in one plane died instantly. Two of the men in the other plane were taken from the wreckage alive but one died on the way to a hospital at Barrie.

The sole survivor, Second Aircraftman J. L. Flowers, of Hampshire, England, a radio operator, said he did not know how the collision occurred.

Squadron Leader E. E. Veille, of the Air Navigation school at Goderich, described the wrecked planes as Anson aircraft and said they were engaged in navigation exercises.

Eyewitnesses said the bombers collided within 1,000 feet of the ground, then separated and hurtled to earth. The plane from which the two flyers were taken alive went into a corkscrew dive and crashed on its back. The other bomber flew upside down several hundred yards before diving onto a farm.

It was the second crash in two days. The body of Aircraftman D. A. Williams was recovered from his wrecked plane near Moncton, N. B., today.

Reveal Those Beating War Drums in U. S.

New York, March 13 [Special].—Analysis of the list of 681 contributors made public by the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies presented an enlightening picture tonight of the makeup of the leading war minded propaganda group. These moneyed interventionists have poured $324,459 into the committee's war chest to date.

The element most heavily represented is drawn from the social register. The Park avenue, Long Island, Piping Rock, and Nassau international set, the American equivalent of English "county" society, appear to be the most rabid group in beating the war drums of the Aid the Allies committee.

Financial Stakes in Britain.

Also strongly represented are international bankers and corporation directors whose interests spread far beyond American frontiers into the financial network of the British empire. Some are interested in armament contracts.

Professional Anglophiles, born or educated in Britain, or married into the British aristocracy, have also been drawn to the committee.

Hollywood is represented by actors and actresses, producers and executives; the New York stage by actors and playwrights, among them Robert E. Sherwood, author of an antiaggression play and a top $5,000 contributor, and the book publishing and music fields by their practitioners.

Wear Foreign Decorations.

Others, the investigation showed, are internationally minded persons who spend their time between wars "cultivating opinion favorable to peace," presiding over league of nations nonpartisan associations, or giving away huge sums to promote "a better understanding among all mankind."

Numerous contributors to Aid the Allies wear the decorations of foreign countries. Some of them puttered around the Versailles peace conference in unofficial capacities in 1919. There are former diplomats among them, some of whom served in pre-Hitler Germany. There are retired legal advisers to the British embassy in Washington.

Among them also are ex-Oxonians and old school tie Americans. So, for reasons best known to himself, is a director of the National Casket company, who may find business looking up soon.

Nazi Dancing Girls Under 18 Must Wash Windows

Bills for 12 Billions Alarm Congress.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 13.—Congress today received a 3½ billion dollar naval appropriation bill, took steps to speed the 7 billion dollar British aid bill to house passage early next week, and sent a 1½ billion dollar armaments bill to the White House.

A little frightened at the unexampled magnitude of these military spending measures, the legislators turned their attention to the problem of partly financing them. The first suggestion to receive consideration was a proposal to place a tax of 5 per cent on the earnings of every worker receiving $25 a week and up. This would be in addition to the present income tax.

Would Pay Only Fraction.

A 5 per cent wage levy, it was said, would raise 3½ billions a year. Even tho burdensome to the wage earner, it would defray only a small part of the arms program alone. The United States during the fiscal year beginning July 1 will spend the staggering total of 35½ billions in the name of "defense," including the British arsenal measure.

Senators and representatives did not take kindly to the 5 per cent wage tax. Even tho accompanied by commensurate increases in taxes on incomes from investments, rentals, and other sources, it would arouse a storm of protest, they declared. However, some members observed that it would bring home to the man in the street the crushing penalties attached to involvement in Europe's wars.

Legislators Kept Dizzy.

A whirl of developments on Capitol hill kept the harassed legislators dizzy. Among them were the following:

1. The house appropriations committee recommended passage of a $3,446,585,144 navy bill to carry on the construction of 729 warships, intended to give the nation by 1946 a fleet capable of defending both Atlantic and Pacific coast lines from simultaneous attack.

2. Secret hearings were held on the 7 billion dollar appropriation requested by President Roosevelt to supply aircraft, ships, and munitions to Great Britain, Greece, and China. The house agreed to take up the measure next Tuesday and to pass it Wednesday or Thursday.

Report 99 Ships for Britain.

3. Senate and house agreed to a conference report on the $1,553,439,702 fourth supplemental "defense" appropriation bill and sent it to the White House. The measure carried items dealing with the expansion of the army.

4. The President was reported authoritatively to have decided to transfer 99 naval ships to Great Britain this year under the powers granted him in the war dictatorship bill. Tentatively scheduled for release are 17 destroyers of world war type, 55 submarine chasing patrol boats, 9 submarines, and 18 of the new mosquito torpedo boats.

In submitting the huge naval appropriation measure, the house committee warned that an additional 5½ billion dollars will have to be appropriated before the current shipbuilding program is completed. A fund of 1 billion 515 million dollars, the largest single item in the bill, is for shipbuilding.

Maintenance Costs Huge.

The navy's goal of an air force of 7,129 planes will be accomplished at an additional cost this year of $434,500,000, the committee reported. The planes were ordered last year. This fund also will be devoted to the maintenance and operation of aircraft and air stations.

Approximately 443 million dollars must be appropriated for maintenance and operation of the existing fleet, the committee said. In this connection it was noted that maintenance of the two-ocean navy alone will cost about a billion a year when it is completed.

Pay, subsistence, and training of personnel in the navy will cost the taxpayer 475 million dollars in the coming fiscal year. This item will also be doubled when the fleet is expanded.

Testimony before the committee at a secret session last month, made

DESIGN AUTOGIRO TO CARRY BOMBS AND GUARD SHIPS

Philadelphia, Pa., March 13 [Special].—A new type of autogiro equipped to carry bombs and designed to protect merchant ships from submarines has been developed at the plant of the Pitcairn-Larsen Autogiro company, it was disclosed today by Agnew E. Larsen, the company's general manager.

Carrying a heavy load of depth bombs, the craft could leave any merchant ship, cruise for perhaps five or six hours, drop its missiles and return to its mother ship, Larsen said. The unusual aircraft, he said, could make vertical ascents and descents from and to the deck of any merchant man. It has been offered to the navy department.

Larsen said that as a result of experiments for more than three years the designers finally evolved an autogiro weighing 4,200 pounds and capable of long range cruising. It has been demonstrated for navy officers at Bolling Field, Washington, and elsewhere. According to the builder, it can carry a pilot and observer, depth charges, a two way radio, and "any other needed equipment."

PACES CELL, ASKS ABOUT HIS FATE IN LOVE SLAYING

Wife Says She Won't Help Save Appelt.

Walter Appelt, accused as the slayer of his estranged wife's suitor, Joseph R. Lorenz, began to wonder aloud last night in the Town Hall police station about his prospective fate.

A little earlier Mrs. Waneta Appelt, the wife, had left for Milwaukee to attend the funeral today of Lorenz. Her comment was that Appelt was "inventing a tissue of lies to save his own neck." She said she certainly wouldn't do anything to help save him.

Appelt, a slim insurance agent of 32 years, who had surrendered in the morning to the state's attorney's police, halted in his cell pacing and his chain smoking of cigarets to ask a visitor what he thought was going to happen to him. The visitor said that men had been sent to the electric chair for killing.

Promises 'a Lot of Evidence.'

"Understand, I'm not making any statements," said Appelt. "But there's a lot of evidence that will come out at the right time. My wife has been talking about 'kissless love' for Lorenz, and there'll be plenty said about that, too.

"Many husbands have beaten this sort of case. Suppose I can show that I once had a happy home and that my wife loved me? Suppose I can show that this other man stole her away from me?"

He paused to ask another question. "What," he demanded, "would you do under similar circumstances?" The visitor asked him just what he had done.

"I'm not making any admissions," the prisoner replied. "You'll have to wait for the evidence to come out in court. I will be justified."

Lorenz was shot to death last Monday evening near his home at 4521 Malden street. Nine .22 caliber bullets were poured into his body. After he fell the slayer entered an automobile and drove away.

Admissions to Kinsmen.

Suspicion fell on the husband and it was reported Wednesday that he had told kinsmen downstate he was the killer; that he had carried his little rifle with him and tossed it away somewhere south of Bloomington.

Yesterday, accompanied by an attorney, he surrendered to Capt. Daniel Gilbert of the state's attorney's police and announced that by advice of counsel he would answer no questions and submit to no lie detector or other tests.

The police respected his reticence. But they put him in a line with six other men and had John G. Schuck of 4539 Malden street look at them. Unhesitatingly Schuck pointed to Appelt and asserted he was the killer. Schuck had witnessed the shooting from a distance of only 60 feet.

Another witness, a store clerk, Thomas Casper of 4811 North Bell avenue, identified Appelt as a man to whom he had sold a .22 rifle on Jan. 24. After that the prisoner was sent to Town Hall and his attorney filed an application for a writ of habeas corpus which will be argued this morning before Chief Justice James F. Fardy of the Criminal court.

Wife Appears in Court.

Mrs. Appelt had appeared during the day in the court of Judge Rudolph Desort, where her suit for divorce is pending. The judge refused to set a date for the hearing on the matter and ordered that the daughter of the couple Marcella, 6 years old, remain in the custody of her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Ida Koontz of 2124 Hudson avenue, whom Appelt once described as "the ideal mother-in-law."

At the time of his arrest the husband reiterated his good opinion of Mrs. Koontz but asserted he had on several occasions traced his wife and Lorenz, who was a well to do chemical engineer, to hotels.

Mrs. Appelt has denied there was anything illicit in her relations with Lorenz. She said he was "always a gentleman," and that she had gone to his apartment only because she was helping to serve his dinner guests.

She was accompanied to Milwaukee by Richard Lorenz, a brother of the slain man, and Mrs. Stephen Doyle, his aunt. The funeral services will be held at 10:30 a. m. today.

BLONDE SURVIVOR OF 4 HUSBANDS FREED IN KILLING

'Justice Always Wins,' Says Self-Made Widow.

BY MARCIA WINN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

East St. Louis, Ill., March 13.—A jury of six men and six women late today acquitted Mrs. Lue R. Burns, self-made widow, of the murder of John R. Burns.

The jury deliberated three and a half hours, but at no time considered Mrs. Burns, blonde survivor of four husbands, as guilty of murder. The vote was 7 to 5 for acquittal on the first ballot, five holding out for a verdict of manslaughter. Six ballots were taken.

Burns was the second husband the large, blonde widow had shot and killed in the last decade. In both instances she pleaded self defense. However, the present jury was not allowed to hear of the demise of Husband No. 3, Shelby Clay, a railroad man of Madison.

Smiles at Verdict.

As City Judge William S. Borders read the verdict, the widow, somberly arrayed in black caracul and silver fox, ventured her first smile of the swift, three day trial. It was wide, and revealed two gold teeth.

"I'm just thankful," she commented. "I think justice always wins if you're right in your heart."

Death Penalty Not Asked.

Mrs. Burns was the principal witness in her own defense. She took the stand yesterday to relate stolidly, her china blue eyes demure, how on Jan. 23 she terminated a conjugal quarrel by emptying a gun at Burns, the jeweler she married in 1932—only a year after a coroner's jury held her justified in a similar killing of Clay.

The state did not ask the death penalty, but was hopeful of a verdict of manslaughter. Assistant State's Attorney R. V. Gustin, in his final argument, urged the jury to find her guilty "so that she does not kill again."

Highway Police to Take Vacations Without Pay

Chief Lester Laird of the county highway police announced yesterday that the county's 125 highway patrolmen will take their regular two week vacations this year without pay. This move is to meet the county board's slash of 4 1/6 per cent in the salaries of all county employés for 1941. The board left the machinery of carrying out the pay cut up to each department head.

ROPED IN BY EFFICIENT BANDIT.

A gunman tied up three men with a rope in a shoe store at 1313 East 63d street yesterday, and escaped with $50. He carried his own rope. His victims were Leonard Johnson, the manager; Chris Immig, assistant manager, and a colored porter.

CONSCRIPT LAW SPONSOR URGES U. S. ENTER WAR

New York, March 13 [Special].—Grenville Clark, prominent New York attorney and a principal in the movement for national conscription, said in a speech here today that the United States should go to war against Germany immediately "in our own cold blooded self interest." He asserted that passage of the lend-lease bill will not be enough to bring defeat of the Nazis.

Clark, who spoke before the New York Young Republican club, is chairman of the National Emergency committee of the Military Training Camps association and helped draft the selective service training act.

He was described by former Senator Rush D. Holt [D., W. Va.] while in the senate as among the group of Wall street lawyers, international bankers, and directors in munitions enterprises who met at the Harvard club in New York City to discuss the conscription of American youth and who agreed to raise a $250,000 slush fund to finance propaganda to drive their idea thru congress.

JUVENILE CRIME RISES IN BRITAIN; DEMAND HOMES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 13.—Increased juvenile crime in Britain has overtaxed reformatory accommodations and magistrates are being forced to send children to prison. This was revealed tonight when the home office sharply rebuked authorities thruout the country for failing to provide necessary accommodations and demanded an immediate 50 per cent increase in children's homes. It suggested that adjoining localities set up joint homes.

U. S. IS LOOKING INTO DEMOCRATS' 2 PER CENT CLUB

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., March 13.—The federal government is investigating alleged violations of the Hatch [clean politics] act by state employés who contributed to the Democratic 2 per cent club during the administrations of the late Gov. Henry Horner and former Gov. John Stelle.

The Hatch act outlaws political activities by public employés on federal pay rolls and, under one interpretation, by public employés who spend federal money. The state highway department and other branches of the state government spend federal money.

A preliminary investigation is being made by three agents of the United States civil service commission, William High, Burke Thrasher, and Chester D. Smith. In the last two weeks they have questioned a score of state employés and plan to interrogate 500 or 600 more. They have discussed the inquiry with Gov. Dwight Green.

The inquiry is aimed at obtaining sufficient evidence for prosecution in the United States District court. It was said that an examining court may be set up here to conduct preliminary hearings.

KILLED BY TRAIN AT DOWAGIAC.

Dowagiac, Mich., March 13 [Special].—Jesse Lucas, 30, Niles, was killed today by a Michigan Central freight train that hit his automobile six miles west of here. He was the father of a child born two days ago.

ANOTHER HORSE PLAYER DIPS INTO CASH TILL TO BET

About a year ago Miss Lee Schuman, 33 years old, 6700 Sheridan road, bet on a "sure thing" horse race. She lost. She bet again and lost. She kept it up thruout the year.

In all, she lost $3,000 and she confessed yesterday to Assistant State's Attorney Francis McCurrie it wasn't her money. It belonged to her employer, the Globe Paper Box company, 223 West Huron street. She obtained the money by raising office expense checks.

Wednesday evening she removed four incriminating ledgers from the office, she told McCurrie, and threw them into the Des Plaines river near Wheeling. The disappearance of the ledgers was discovered soon afterward when a fire broke out in an office cabinet and destroyed a number of canceled checks. Miss Schuman said she knew nothing of the fire.

She was charged with embezzling and with forging a bank check and will be arraigned today in Felony court.

JUGO-SLAVS HUNT MIDDLE WAY OUT OF AXIS DILEMMA

Fear Offending Nazis, but Don't Want to Join.

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, March 13 (AP).—Like men lost in a maze, leaders of this world war born kingdom conferred for hours today in an effort to find a way to satisfy German demands without lashing their nation to the Berlin-Rome-Tokio axis.

Chief Regent Prince Paul and Premier Dragisha Tsvetkovitch locked themselves in conferences in Deinje palace's study, but what conclusions they reached were not disclosed. Earlier, Tsvetkovitch conferred with Dr. Vladimir Macek, leader of the Croatians, and lesser politicians.

Greece, which has declared she will continue her fight against the axis regardless of Jugo-Slavia's decision, busily fortified Thrace against attack by a German army on her Bulgarian frontier and continued to move civilians out of the line of march.

Turk Defenses "Adequate."

Turkey still watched the situation calmly, but with warlike preparations. Officially inspired newspapers counseled the public to be calm, and assured the nation that defenses were "adequate" for any contingency.

In German quarters in Belgrade there were reports that Berlin was growing impatient for Jugo-Slavia's decision and might demand a quick reply to the "invitation to join the axis."

Jugo-Slavs still carry over from world war days a hatred of the Germans and, conversely, affection for Britain and France, who helped at Versailles to amalgamate with the Serbs the numerous minor and antagonistic races which form this largest Balkan nation.

Boasts Army of Million.

Leaders of the nation's army of a million still talk some of the possibility of military resistance, but political leaders in answer point to the map showing five axis countries ringing Jugo-Slavia.

"Fight or die" advocates insist, however, that the army might carry on guerrilla warfare from the Serbian mountains, where blitzkrieg tactics would be of little value.

These arguments seemed to have changed the situation little from yesterday's report that Jugo-Slavia had agreed "in principle" to the German demands. Prince Paul apparently was seeking to back into the axis camp without so offending pro-British and Greek sentiment that his régime would fall, thus inviting a firmer German grip on the nation.

AUXILIARY SHIP IS SUNK, BRITISH NAVY DISCLOSES

LONDON, March 13 (AP).—The admiralty tonight issued this communique:

"The board of the admiralty regrets to announce H. M. S. Manistee [Lieutenant Commander E. H. Smith, R. N. R.], an auxiliary vessel of the royal navy, has been sunk. Next of kin of the casualties have been informed."

The 5,360 ton Manistee was owned by Elders & Fyffes Ltd. of Liverpool, a British subsidiary of the United Fruit company, an American firm. The British admiralty took over the vessel after the war started. The Manistee, built in 1920 at Birkenhead, was 400 feet long.

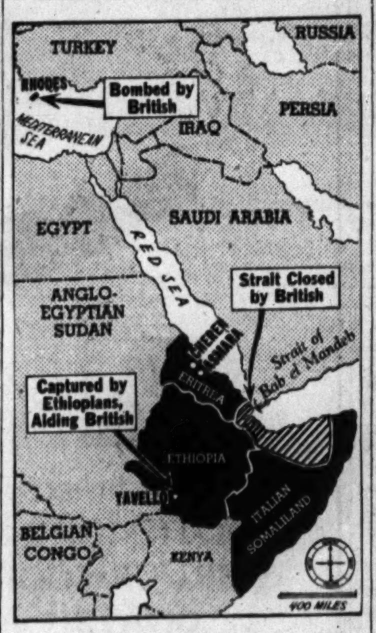
GREEKS REPULSE FRESH WAVES OF ITALIAN TROOPS

ATHENS, March 13 (AP).—The Italian command in Albania threw fresh infantrymen into the assault on a wide front today in what Greek sources termed a continuing series of strong but futile thrusts. The attacks were supported by strong artillery fire and a large number of planes.

Italian losses were heavy, the Greek command stated, and two Italian planes were shot down while Greek aviation bombed Italian military objectives.

The marine ministry said the Greek destroyer Psara, on convoy duty in the Aegean sea, had sunk an "enemy" submarine which attempted to sink ships in the convoy.

Bomb Italian Isles



Success in Ethiopia by native allies and renewed bombing attacks on Rhodes were reported by the British command in Africa yesterday.

CAIRO, Egypt, March 13 (AP).—Heavy bombing attacks Wednesday night on three airdromes on the Italian fortified island of Rhodes, largest of the Dodecanese, were reported tonight by the R. A. F. It was the third straight night Rhodes had been raided.

The communique said a large formation of bombers made the attack, and also dropped bombs on targets on the second largest of the islands, Scarpanto.

Adding pressure on the Italian colony of Eritrea, the British admiralty announced in London closure of the small strait of Bab el Mandeb, at the southern end of the Red sea, to bottle up any Italian ships remaining there. Closing the small strait, probably by mining, leaves open a larger channel some 9 to 16 miles wide, but easily kept under surveillance from the British held island of Perim.

From Nairobi the British reported that their Ethiopian allies had captured Yavello, often bombed Italian stronghold 100 miles inside southwest Ethiopia.

DR. SCOTT T. CURRIER DIES.

Sheffield, Ill., March 13 [Special].—Dr. Scott T. Currier, 74, a dentist in Sheffield 47 years and assessor in Concord township for two terms, died last night. Surviving are his widow and a son, Harvey, of New Britain, Conn.

NAZIS BAR SALE OF DUTCH FIRMS OWNED BY JEWS

AMSTERDAM [via Berlin], March 13 (AP).—Germany took the first step toward "aryanization" of business in occupied Holland today when Commissioner Arthur Seys-Inquart decreed that no Jewish business may be sold or leased without his consent.

The measure prevents fictitious sales to conceal Jewish ownership. Another provision empowers the commissioner to appoint for Jewish businesses administrators who would have authority to sell them. Finally, the commissioner is empowered to forbid Jewish enterprises.

Penalty for violation or evasion of the decree range up to five years in prison.

Irish Seize Man Who Says He Jumped from NaziPlane

DUBLIN, March 13 (AP).—Guards at Taghmon, County Wexford, today arrested a stranger who stated that he had landed by parachute during the night from a German plane at a town called Ballycullane in the same county, it was officially announced tonight. There was no report of any forced landing by any plane in the district where he descended.

BOMBER WAVES RAID LIVERPOOL IN NEW ATTACK

London Reports Glasgow Another Target.

LONDON, March 14, Friday (AP).—Relays of German raiders returned for widespread attacks on Great Britain last night and early today. The Nazi bombers made a prolonged attack on the big Clydebank shipbuilding center at Glasgow, Scotland, the government announced.

German bombers also sharply attacked Liverpool for the second successive night, but their heaviest raids seemed to be concentrated on a northeast British town where scream bombs added to the din of defending antiaircraft guns.

[Authorized sources in Berlin said the German air force singled out Glasgow, Scotland, for its heaviest overnight raids. The harbor and important war industries were reported attacked by the strongest German units, setting at least "20 huge fires." Other units were said to have renewed the bombardment of Liverpool and Birkenhead, dropping incendiary and explosive bombs, which "continued the work of destruction" started at these Mersey river ports on Wednesday night. "Effective" attacks also were reported Thursday night against industrial sections, food storage plants, and supply warehouses of a number of other Scottish and English cities.]

Claim Damage Kept Low.

Alert ground defenses and night fighter planes were credited by the British Press association with preventing extensive damage in Liverpool and the Merseyside area.

At least eight German bombers were reported shot down by ground defenses. This brought to 20 the number of German bombers reported downed since Wednesday night. The British admitted the loss of six planes in the same 24 hours.

[The Germans said 13 British planes were downed Wednesday night and 5 more last night and admitted the loss of 6 of their own.]

The British air force lashed out with its greatest offensive of the war against Germany and Nazi held territory Wednesday night and followed thru yesterday with an assault on the "invasion port" of Calais. Bombs scattered Nazi planes on the ground at Calais airdrome, the air ministry announced.

Long assaults Wednesday night extended from Boulogne, France, and Belgian ports to Berlin and Norway. Berlin, the air ministry said, was left alight with tremendous fires; so, too, were the main German ports of Hamburg and Bremen. Hamburg was attacked again last night. The attack on Berlin was the first since Dec. 20, and it was intimated there would be no more long immunity for Hitler's capital.

Planes Crash

The air ministry declared that off Jutland, in the North sea, a German destroyer was hit squarely on the stern by an aerial torpedo. A big supply ship anchored in Ijmuiden harbor of the Netherlands and other vessels off Ostend, Belgium, also were attacked. A Norwegian airdrome was bombed and others in the Low Countries.

Tell of Berlin Casualties.

BERLIN, March 13 (AP).—Informed quarters said British bombs killed 16 persons and injured 37 in its raid on Berlin. Three were reported killed and three injured at Bremen and none at Hamburg. Only minor damage was acknowledged at all three places. The building of the American counsul general at Hamburg was hit by a bomb, but no one was in it at the time. The consul's office and a staircase were damaged and many windows shattered.

A British destroyer was reported sunk by a speedboat off the English southeast coast and a merchantman was sunk and three others were hit in air attacks on convoys off the British east coast. The Nazis asserted 9,000,000 tons of British shipping space had been sunk by German forces since the beginning of the war.

[The British have charged that German figures on British losses have been exaggerated sometimes as much as 100 per cent.]

War Chief's Daughter Fights Effort to Bar Free Speech

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 13.—Miss Janet Margesson, daughter of the British war minister, Capt. David Margesson, is leading a movement among Cambridge university students against government attempts to ban freedom of speech, it was disclosed today by the News Chronicle. "Suppression of minority opinion in the university is against the interests of democracy for which we are fighting," she said.

GERMANS BOAST OF NEW WEAPONS SENT INTO ACTION

BERLIN, March 13 (AP).—The Germans declared today they have contrived new and sharper air and sea weapons for "the battle of the Atlantic." Improvements have been made in reconnaissance planes, speedboats and submarines, informed quarters said.

The buoyancy of the four-motored armed flying boat of the Dornier 26 class was described as superior to that of previous types. The bodies of these planes are extraordinarily long, with water tight hulls which replace pontoons in supporting the craft on water. In addition, each plane has two built-in pontoons which can be brought out automatically, distributing the weight of the craft more evenly in an emergency landing at sea.

For Weather Observation.

German sources declared experiments showed that a fully loaded plane equipped in this manner could rise even if one motor were disabled. The crews which recently have been using the Dornier 26 in the Atlantic as floating weather observation stations said "it represents an ideal form of seaplane."

The propellers on speedboats recently credited with destructive blows against British shipping were declared to have been improved.

The Hydrodynamics institute at Hamburg also indicated that experiments have been made with new submarine propellers brought so close to the hull that they are completely protected against nets.

"More Powerful Bombers."

LONDON, March 13 (AP).—"New and more powerful bombers"—their name, make, and origin not disclosed by the air ministry—went into action last night and today with the heaviest explosives in the British arsenal.

Offensively the American made Consolidated and four motor Boeing bombers are prominent in the picture, for they are expected to widen the British attacking area and thus force the Nazis to thin out their antiaircraft defenses.

Submits Defense Plans for Philippine Islands

MANILA, P. I., March 13 (AP).—A report on plans for defense of civilian population in event of war was submitted today to Francis B. Sayre, high commissioner, and President Manuel Quezon, by the civilian emergency planning board. The report, withheld from publication, was reliably reported to include a program for protection against air raids, including evacuation of noncombatants from cities.

Actress to Wed

ELLEN DREW.

Hollywood, Cal., March 13 (AP).—Screen Actress Ellen Drew said today she would marry Sy Bartlett, a film writer, next summer. Miss Drew and Fred Wallace were divorced a year ago. Bartlett formerly was the husband of Alice White, star of silent pictures, who now is the wife of Jack Roberts, screen writer.

URGES BRITAIN TO ADOPT POPE'S PEACE PROPOSAL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 13.—R. R. Stokes, Laborite, today urged the British government to incorporate in its peace aims the five points enunciated by Pope Pius XII. last Christmas. These five points—that men and nations must triumph over hatred, mistrust, the idea that might makes right, economic maladjustment, and cold egoism—have been indorsed by the Church of England.

Clement R. Attlee, lord privy seal, refused to make any commitments on Stokes' proposal, but told the house of commons that "these and all other relevant matters will no doubt receive consideration."

CALLS ON BRITISH 'GOOD TIME GIRLS' TO DO WAR WORK

Bevin Appeals for Help in Armament Plants.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 13.—"Good time girls who are now doing nothing" to help Great Britain's war effort are needed in the nation's munitions plants, Minister of Labor Ernest Bevin told the house of commons today. In its search for additional workers the labor ministry plans a universal registration of women, Bevin said.

This new appeal for volunteers and announcement of the registration were made simultaneously with disclosures that Bevin's original call for 100,000 women industrial workers had produced disappointing results thus far.

In Newcastle, for instance, only 189 women applied for war jobs in the first three days after the appeal was issued. Other industrial areas showed a corresponding lack of volunteers.

A Delicate Matter.

Bevin was asked whether the lack of women workers had not caused "thousands of machines to be idle at night." He responded by emphasizing the delicacy of a matter which involved the absence of women from their homes at night.

Bevin did not confine his appeal for additional workers to the "good time girls." He also said that women already working would be welcome to begin another task—that of turning out the weapons of war.

Women now working on British farms also inspired some questions among the members of commons. R. S. Hudson, minister of agriculture, explained the recent employment of five members of the women's land army in rounding up rabbits for the famous Waterloo cup contest. Hudson said he did not believe the break in the girls' work on the farm for a somewhat lighter task had affected food production. They had a holiday coming anyway, the minister said.

2,000 Join Land Army.

Hudson declared 2,000 new volunteers had enrolled in the women's land army in the last nine weeks. Members of this army mostly are girls from the city willing to turn into farmers to help the country grow more food.

Commons, after this discussion, learned it was going to have the unique experience of listening to 14 women members of parliament do their debating as an organized team. In the impending debate on women power the women members will plead for equal compensation under the civilian organization scheme and also request that more professional women be employed in the war services.

Bill to Curb Strike Abuses Passed by MexicanDeputies

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, March 13 (AP).—The chamber of deputies today unanimously approved reforms in Mexico's general labor law to curtail "abuse of the right to strike" and to encourage government conciliation of disputes before walkouts occur. Passage of the measure in the senate is believed certain.

U. S.-BOUND JEWS QUIT GERMANY IN SEALED TRAINS

Under Nazi Guard on Way to Portugal.

[Mr. Noderer recently returned to Chicago from Germany. He served in The Tribune's bureau in Berlin.]

BY E. R. NODERER.

German and Polish Jews bearing immigration visas for the United States are being transported in sealed trains across Germany and occupied France en route to Lisbon. At the Portuguese port, they will embark for America.

The refugees are taken thru Paris. They arrive at the Gare de l'Est and are taken across the city under guard to the Gare du Quai d'Austerlitz [Gare d'Orleans], where they are put on a train for the Spanish border town of Irun.

The trip from Berlin to Irun takes about 40 hours, if the trains run on schedule. During this time the Jews eat food they carry with them, but once across the Spanish border they are given a hot meal. They are permitted to bring only a minimum of personal effects out of Germany.

Portuguese Ease Path.

Early in January, Jews began leaving Berlin in single sealed cars attached to regularly scheduled trains. Since then, the Germans have requested the Portuguese government to admit a number of special refugee trains. There usually is no difficulty in getting a Portuguese transit visa, provided evidence is produced that the traveler has paid for a steamship or airplane ticket to another country.

The exodus of Jews from Germany was speeded up after the United States' state department eased the visa restrictions in January. Before that time it was necessary for a prospective immigrant to prove that he had paid for his transportation to America, that he would not become a public charge, and that he would become an asset to the United States.

This last was generally interpreted to mean that the immigrant must show that he could provide some service needed in America, or that he had capital to start a business. Since most of the Jews were members of professions already crowded in the United States, and could not take their capital out of Germany, this ruling acted in many instances as a bar to the granting of visas.

It was this regulation that was lifted, clearing the way for many refugees who, thru connection in this country, are able to pay for their transportation and show that they will be able to support themselves in America.

Hundreds of Jews stormed the American consulate in Berlin when the word spread that the visa regulations had been altered. Extra help was shifted from other departments to the visa section to handle the rush.

Nazis Create Delay.

The Nazis, who visualize a Europe without Jews, have been responsible for American delay in issuing visas to refugees. All prospective immigrants are required to produce police certificates showing that they have no criminal records. In an attempt to speed their departure the German justice department ruled that all immigrating Jews be given a clean bill regardless of the facts.

Since the United States immigration authorities were no longer able to rely upon the records issued by the German courts, they then began taking time to investigate each applicant.

MISS ELLEN STRAUSS.

New York, March 13 [Special].—Miss Ellen Strauss, a 19 year old refugee from Germany, who was studying dentistry in Paris when it was invaded by Germany, arrived here on the S. S. Marques de Comillas to continue her studies in this country. She said she spent some time in a concentration camp, where, she added, conditions were not bad except for food.

SIGRID SCHULTZ WILL MAKE LAST TWO TALKS TODAY

Sigrid Schultz, head of THE TRIBUNE news bureau in Berlin, today concludes two weeks of talks here in which she has recounted events and conditions in Germany. Miss Schultz will address the Executives' club at noon in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Sherman and will speak before the Clearing Industrial club, 6455 South Central avenue, at 7:30 p. m.

Miss Schultz has been a Berlin correspondent for THE TRIBUNE since 1919 and has been chief of the bureau there since 1925. She will visit her family at Westport, Conn., before returning to the German capital.

Milk Mixture for Stomach Ulcer Pains

A recent medical discovery now being used by doctors and hospitals everywhere has proven unusually successful in the treatment of stomach ulcer pains caused from excess acid. It is a harmless preparation yet so effective that in many cases the pains of stomach ulcers disappear almost immediately after it is used. Also recommended for gas pains, indigestion and heartburn due to hyperacidity. Sufferers may now try this at home by obtaining a bottle of Lurin from their druggist. Lurin contains this new discovery in its purest form. Easy to take. Just mix two teaspoonfuls in a half glass of milk. Costs but little and sold under an absolute guarantee that it must satisfy or money refunded. Lurin for sale by Walgreen, Stineway, Service, Fay and drug stores everywhere.

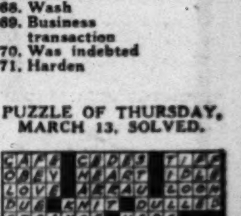
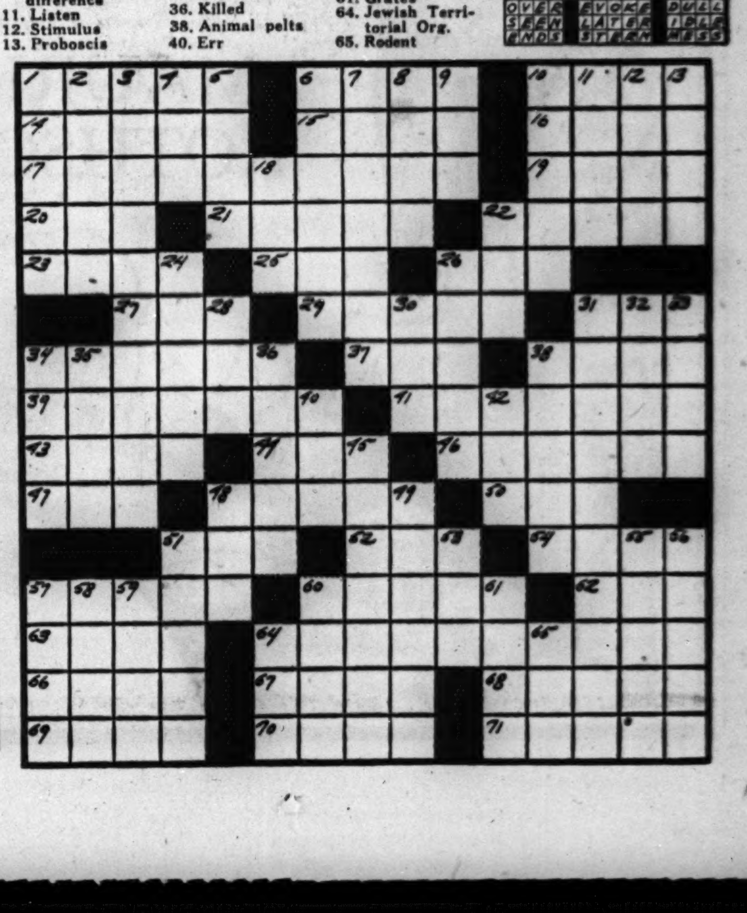
PUZZLE OF THURSDAY, MARCH 13, SOLVED.





DARKEST AFRICA HELPS TO FIGHT WAR FOR BRITAIN

Belgian Congo Sends Its Troops to Kenya.

[This is the seventh of a series of stories on Capt. Corpening's travels to the British front in Eritrea.]

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ELIZABETHVILLE, Belgian Congo [By Mail].—The war has struck into the heart of "darkest Africa," it was found on arrival here. Near Elizabethville is a concentration camp where some 200 German and Italian agitators have been interned.

The colony also is doing its bit to help Great Britain. It is said that at least seven battalions of troops have departed for the Kenya frontier. Many more are in training.

While Belgian spokesmen maintain that Belgium is being reborn here and that the colony is unanimously behind Britain in the war, the British are not fully convinced of this. However, they admit the Congo is pro-English and is entering into the scheme of things on Britain's side.

U. S. Equipment in Use.

Some irony appears in the setup because of England's stipulation in the Treaty of Versailles prohibiting the Congo from having any large amount of military equipment. As a result, troops are rounding into form faster than arms and ammunition are arriving. However, it is said that American equipment is beginning to appear. The troops are all native, with Belgian officers. Those observed here so far are fine looking soldiers.

I discovered a war sidelight here yesterday. When the French capitulated last June, six or seven Belgian planes were confiscated in France and Algiers. Several days later Madagascar officials' telegraphed Belgian Congo authorities asking for gas and landing privileges for two French planes which had been ordered home from the French island. Permission was granted and when the planes arrived they proved to be new Lockheeds [made in America] which were worth more than all the Belgian planes confiscated. The Lockheeds now are being flown with the army in Kenya.

Congo Is Big Colony.

The Belgian Congo is a colony about 902,000 square miles, approximately 100 times the size of the mother country, has a native population of over 10,000,000 and a white contingent of 25,000, most of whom are Belgians. The colony's wealth is mostly in minerals. It possesses great quantities of copper, gold, diamonds, tin, coal, radium, and oil. There are many copper mines. It is said the copper deposits are the richest in the world.

Altho located in so-called "darkest Africa," the territory is far more civilized and developed than most outsiders realize. There are 3,051 miles of railroads, 43,932 miles of roads, 6,279 miles of navigable waterways on which 300 steamers operate, and a lattice-work of government subsidized air lines covering all sections of the colony.

The climate is comfortable the whole year outside the equatorial zone, due to the elevation of the land. In the northern part, at the equator, however, the terrain is lower and much warmer. Malaria and sleeping sickness are the chief health offenders, but the government is making every effort to eradicate them.

Lags in Agriculture.

Agriculture is undeveloped, but some gains are being made. Corn, cotton, and fruit are the principal products, with increasing herds of cattle being raised on the unlimited pasture lands, especially in the upland country, which is free of the dreaded tsetse fly.

Living standards are very low. Big, able bodied men for farm work can be hired for small rations and $2.50 monthly.

The country abounds in all kinds of game and wild animals, but big game hunting is considered quite tame. Until a law prohibiting the practice was passed recently, many lions, leopards, and deer were killed by hunters who blinded them with automobile spotlights at night. Elephants are plentiful in some northern sections, but it is against the law to shoot them unless they are destroying crops. Of course, there is poaching, which fluctuates with the rise and fall of the price of ivory.

PLANS TO CARRY HOME FIRES TO SOLDIERS TOLD

Clark Describes How to Make Them Happy.

Commodore Sheldon Clark, president of the Navy League of the United States, said yesterday he will meet in Washington, D. C., next week with members of a committee appointed by the war and navy departments to administer President Roosevelt's program for spending 150 million dollars to make cantonments homelike and keep soldiers and sailors happy.

Commodore Clark.

Clark received notice Wednesday of his appointment as vice chairman of the joint army and navy welfare and recreation committee, as it will be known. Frederick Osborn, New York corporation executive, has been named chairman.

Sees Endless Committee Chain.

"I suppose we'll have committees till we're blue in the face," Clark said. "We'll appoint subcommittees and they'll appoint more committees. The job of organizing everything from Hawaii to the Panama canal will be immense. It's one of those things where no one knows exactly what we want to do. We only know that army camps and naval bases need recreational facilities."

The bill, which would authorize the expenditures, a blank check measure empowering the President to spend the appropriation on any terms or conditions he sees fit, is now under consideration by a house committee. Clark explained that plans for the program have not yet been formulated, but expressed his own views on what the committee might accomplish.

"There's no limit to what we can do for these boys," he said. "The first thing is to get some centrally located club houses near every army post or camp, naval base and air base in the country."

Calls Facilities Here Inadequate.

In the case of the Chicago area, Clark commented, the soldiers at Fort Sheridan and the sailors at Great Lakes have inadequate clubhouse facilities.

"We could put up buildings at the post and the training station," Clark said. "Then they should have a recreation center in Chicago. A joint army and navy clubhouse in Grant park might be worked out; a general loafing place where the boys can read a magazine and buy pop. Or we might be able to find a vacant loop building.

"We'll make arrangements for them to get in baseball, football, and hockey games free. Maybe some of them will want to ride around the city on the 'L,' go skating, or to the beach, or to theaters. Another problem will be getting back and forth between Chicago and wherever they are stationed. They can't do much on $20 or $30 a month."

One purpose of the program, Clark said, is to eliminate the duplication of effort of private agencies, such as the Y. M. C. A. and the Salvation Army.

CHICAGO SOLDIER KILLED IN TRUCK CRASH; 1 INJURED

Accident Occurs on Way to Camp Forrest.

BY CLAY GOWRAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Pictures on back page.)

Camp Forrest, Tenn., March 13 [Special].—The 33d division, Illinois National Guard, suffered the first casualty of its training year today when an army truck en route to Camp Forrest from Chicago swerved off the road in a snowstorm and smashed into a telephone pole. A Chicago soldier was killed and another injured. The accident occurred near Murfreesboro, Tenn., 32 miles northeast of here.

Private E. E. Pauls.

The dead soldier was Private Edward E. Pauls, 19 years old, 4258 North Damen avenue. The injured man is Private Gerald Morris, 21, 4831 North Western avenue, who was driving. Both are members of the regimental headquarters company of the 122d field artillery. John Robert Fiberanz, Chicago, who was riding behind on the baggage, was uninjured.

Part of 40 Vehicle Convoy.

The truck in which they were riding was a part of a 40 vehicle convoy which left Chicago Tuesday for Camp Forrest. In the convoy were 24 75-mm. field guns which were being towed by trucks. Maj. Gen. Samuel T. Lawton, commander of the division, left Camp Forrest immediately personally to investigate the crash.

Private Paul's body will be sent to Chicago by train tomorrow morning accompanied by a uniformed soldier. Soldiers of 33d division will provide a military escort from train to home and later at the funeral.

A system of 12 post exchange stores, patterned after the modern coöperative found in many cities, is being established for the 12,000 Illinois soldiers here. Each store will be a combination short order restaurant, general merchandise shop and clubroom presided over by pretty southern girls in patriotic red, white and blue uniforms.

These post exchanges promise to be the only bright spots in this mud-covered camp for the present, as the theaters promised for the Illinois Guardsmen by the government have not been completed. The nearby town of Tullahoma, population 5,100, offers virtually nothing in the way of entertainment except two small motion picture houses.

Food and Beverages Sold.

In the camp stores the Illinois soldiers will be able to buy soups, hot and cold sandwiches, sodas, and other fountain beverages and the well know 3.2 per cent beer. Cigarets and tobacco will be on sale, as well as magazines, candy, cakes, and pastries. At another counter miscellaneous military accessories will be available.

A total of 115 civilian employés form the staff of the 12 exchanges. Sixty of these employés are girl clerks, most of them from Nashville and Chattanooga, Tenn. Five girls are assigned to each exchange. They reside in nearby Manchester, in private homes selected by army officials. They are transported to and from work in buses. The uniform chosen for the girls is an attractive one. They wear red peasant blouses, marine blue skirts, and red aprons.

In addition to the girl clerks, each exchange has a manager, two salesmen, three barbers, and a janitor.

One exchange, that of the 108th engineer regiment, opened today. The 122d field artillery exchange opens Saturday and the others next week.

Barren Buildings Brightened.

Maj. Clifford Templeton, director of the exchanges, has had a score of workers shellack the rough wooden counters, sand the floors, and stain the pine supports of the ceiling to resemble oak beams.

Soda fountains and small bars have been installed. Grills are being set up. Kitchens, in addition to the army sinks, now have automatic sterilizers. Ice cream coolers are in place.

Camp Forrest, which during the last two weeks has been converted into what seems to be one vast mud puddle by almost daily rains, today was subjected to a four hour snowfall.

The third of the 27 troop trains bringing 33d Division soldiers to camp arrived from Chicago shortly before the snow began. On the train were 333 men of the 108th medical regiment.

Tonight a truck convoy of the 122d Field Artillery towed 24.75 mm. field guns in from Chicago. Tomorrow night another convoy will arrive with 24 similar guns belonging to the 124th Field Artillery. These are the first of the 33d Division's ordnance to reach Camp Forrest.

WAR VETERAN ENDS LIFE.

Bills for 12 More Billions Arouse Congress.

public today, revealed the fears of the navy high command that Japan will become an active participant as a belligerent in the far east on the side of the axis. Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox said that realization of this possibility would probably result in involvement of the United States in war.

Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, told the committee that the 3½ billions asked to carry on the naval program is by no means the minimum which the navy will ask for the coming fiscal year. He said, however, that no further expansion of the fleet beyond that already under contract is contemplated at this time.

The committee learned that the 50 destroyers turned over to Britain in exchange for Atlantic base sites were valued at approximately 112 million dollars. Admiral Stark said the destroyers were worth more than when originally built because they could not be reproduced now for their original cost.

Cabinet Members Testify.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull, Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, Secretary of the Navy Knox, Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, and Budget Director Harold Smith testified before the appropriations committee in regard to the 7 billion dollar British aid bill. They said that the amount requested would be "adequate" to meet present war conditions.

Representative Clifton A. Woodrum [D., Va.] made a brief statement concerning the testimony which was given behind closed doors.

"The three cabinet officers, of course, indorsed the bill very definitely and very enthusiastically," he said. "The testimony showed that the 7 billion dollar estimate was arrived at, not by guess, but by deliberate examination, thought, and study by the army and navy, and as a result of the studies of the British needs."

Acts to Speed Measure.

Woodrum obtained unanimous consent of the house to take up the bill next Tuesday. General debate would last thru the day and passage is scheduled for Wednesday or Thursday at the latest, he said.

Asked whether the 7 billions would be the total of the program under H. R. 1776, Woodrum said it was impossible to predict, but that the amount was deemed sufficient for the present.

The amount was based upon a British statement of their needs, Woodrum revealed. The committee itself did not see this statement, he added, and even if it did, the statement would not be made public "for obvious reasons."

The committee will conclude hearings tomorrow, he said, hearing William S. Knudsen, chief of defense production, and representatives of the army chief of staff and the chief of naval operations.

One member of the committee said that Gen. Marshall had assured them that the British aid program would not endanger the army's program for United States defense. Plans for transferring naval vessels to Britain were not revealed to the committee, he said, but it is understood that the same procedure will be followed as in the transfer of the 50 destroyers.

AMERICA FIRST LEADER DENIES FORGERY CHARGE

Mrs. Janet Ayer Fairbank, vice chairman of the Illinois America First campaign, last night ridiculed charges of Ernest W. Gibson, chairman of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies, that 90 per cent of the letters and postcards sent to Washington in protest against the war dictatorship bill were forgeries.

Gibson made the statement in Louisville, Ky., and added that America should convoy supplies to England, but said "we shouldn't go to war even if Hitler sinks one, two, or 10 American ships."

"If American ships are sunk, American boys will go to their deaths," Mrs. Fairbank said.

Terming absurd his charges concerning antilend-lease bill mail, Mrs. Fairbank asked: "Did he, in every case, endeavor to visit each of the thousands of homes in each of the thousands of cities from which letters and cards came? If he did not do this, how did he spot a forgery? Is Ex-Senator Gibson clairvoyant? Or is he merely making a statement as loose as other fantastic statements attributed to him in the past?"

Roosevelt Jr. Is Ordered to Duty on U. S. Destroyer

Washington, D. C., March 13 (AP).—Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. has been ordered to active duty aboard a naval destroyer on April 3, the navy disclosed today.

Chosen for Trip

Miss Ruth Lillian Maloney of Evanston, who was selected last night at the D. A. R. state convention to represent the state in good citizenship pilgrimage to Washington, D. C.

DICTATOR DAYS AT HAND, D. A. R. CONCLAVE TOLD

Came with President's Bill, Says Leader.

Mrs. Grace Lincoln Hall Brosseau of Greenwich, Conn., honorary president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, told 700 members at the 45th annual state convention last night in the Stevens hotel that virtual totalitarianism had been foisted on the nation thru the President's dictator bill.

"Because of the mass production of sentiment, fear, and Hitler hatred," she said, "few Americans analyzed the bill sufficiently to realize that we are not only going to finance England's war to the possible detriment of our own defense preparations and to the certain detriment of our pocketbooks but that we have accepted under the caption of 'emergency powers' practically a totalitarian form of government.

Sees No Invasion Threat.

"The real threat to America is not physical invasion but our inability to recognize an enemy when we see him. The trusting race of dear, dumb Americans finds it hard to understand that anything can happen here now. The American form of government with its free system of enterprise is being systematically undermined."

Mrs. Brosseau, who also is vice president of the American Coalition, composed of 115 patriotic organizations, also criticized Mrs. Roosevelt's reported plan to mobilize millions of American women in the name of national defense.

"Altho nominally enrollment is to be voluntary," she said, "what will happen to a recalcitrant woman? Will an unholy halo in the form of a swastika be stamped on her brow?"

Warns of Federal Union Plan.

Clarence Streit's plan for "Federal union" would place the United States back in the British empire, Mrs. Brosseau warned. A statistician, she said, has estimated that the plan would give the British empire 99 votes compared with 27 for the United States.

Miss Ruth Lillian Maloney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Maloney of Evanston, was chosen from 597 high school seniors to represent Illinois in the annual nation-wide D. A. R. good citizenship pilgrimage to Washington, D. C., next month. Miss Maloney, a senior in Evanston Township High school, was chosen by faculty and fellow students for outstanding service to the school.

DRAFT PAPERS GOING TO 40 PCT. OF REGISTRANTS

Local draft board officials were directed yesterday to send out additional draft questionnaires until 40 per cent of those registered have been reached. This is in contrast to the former limitation of 20 per cent.

The boards were instructed to have sufficient men classified to meet quotas for April, May, and June similar to that for March. The state induction total up to June 30 is now expected to be approximately 55,000 men, compared with the goal of 62,223 announced last September. This does not, however, take into account rejections which have been running about 15 per cent.

All local draft officials were ordered yesterday to discontinue by April 15 the employment as chief clerk or stenographer of any one related to board members. Louis A. Boening, head of the Cook county selective service office, said several of the county's 180 boards would be affected by the order.

U. S. Shipbuilders Taught to Work in Gas Masks

Washington, D. C., March 13 [Special].—Workers in the Washington navy yard are becoming more accustomed to gas masks, which they are being drilled to wear as they go about their duties. They even manage to eat with only slight difficulty from the inhalators.

U. S. SEEKS LIST OF ALL WHO CAN TAKE ARMS JOBS

Voluntary Registration Begins Tomorrow.

Washington, D. C., March 13 (AP).—In another sweeping move to step up armaments production, the government tonight called for a voluntary registration, beginning Saturday, of all workers available for making goods vital to arms and preparedness.

Expressing concern over the supply of labor available for armaments industries during the next few months, Paul V. McNutt, federal security administrator, appealed to unemployed workers thruout the country and to every person with an "urgently needed skill" not now being used in his present job, to give his name immediately to the nearest state employment service office.

Meanwhile, A. J. Altmeyer, social security board chairman, revealed that labor shortages already have developed in about 30 occupations.

The appeal for registration was made at the request of the Office of Production Management. Altmeyer said he expected 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 men and women not now on active rolls, of whom Altmeyer estimated register within the next 30 days. There now are approximately 5,000,000 persons on employment service rolls, of which Altmeyer estimated 185,000 possess skills for preparedness jobs of various sorts.

McNutt asked skilled and experienced workers in the following occupations to register with the state employment services at once, provided they are not now using these skills in their present jobs:

1. In aircraft manufacturing—airplane sheet metal workers, airplane wood workers, inspectors, and aeronautical engineers.

2. In shipbuilding—ship carpenters, loftsmen, boat builders, shipfitters, caulkers, and marine machinists.

3. In machine shops and machine manufacturing—machinists, tool makers, lathe operators, die makers, and tool designers.

The administrator explained that the employment service does not encourage or desire workers now employed in any of these industries to register.

McNutt emphasized that other employed workers with vital skills were not being asked to leave their present jobs, but merely to register their qualifications with the nearest office of their state employment service, so that they may be called upon if needed in an important armaments industry.

PUTS ARMS COST BY YEAR'S END AT 30 BILLION TOTAL

OPM Official Foresees Added 17½ Billion.

Cleveland, O., March 13 (AP).—Robert L. Mehornay, chief of the government's contract service in the office of production management, declared today present military expenditures of 12½ billion dollars would reach a total of 30 billions in the next nine and a half months.

Mehornay said "it is a conservative estimate that the amount of contracts for supplies—exclusive of aircraft and shipping—will be more than five times as much by the end of this year as up to date."

Addressing a closing session of a Cleveland armament conference, Mehornay broke down present contracts of 12½ billion dollars into these rough figures:

Aircraft, 2¼ billions; ships, 5 billions, and "everything else, including such things as ammunition orders, new plants, plant expansion, and clothing," 5¼ billions.

17½ Billions for Supplies.

He said there was little expectation of any substantial increase in orders for aircraft and fighting ships, but declared that 17½ billion dollars more would be spent on supplies and the like before the end of 1941.

Of the 12½ billions of contracts already placed, Mehornay added, delivery has been obtained on 3 billion dollars worth. He also disclosed that to date, approximately 1½ billions has been spent for 302 new plants and another 400 millions for expansion of existing plants.

Thus, nearly 2 billions have gone into expanded plant capacity. The OPM official also asserted "ordnance produced too late may be used by our adversaries," demanded "more acceptable defense materials in less time," and disclosed the aluminum utensil industry has been told it is "out of business."

Urges Spreading of Work.

Spreading the work, getting more bidders and more subcontractors can solve the time element of the armaments problem, he declared.

Mehornay said army and navy contracts aggregating well over 10 billion dollars already have been awarded and there was no indication what the total would be—"it may be 50 billion dollars."

"Before our present preparation the army bought some 500 machine guns a year. Before this year is out they will be buying 5,000 a month," he added. Wider participation of industry will forestall the danger of "too great concentration of production in certain areas," and relieve processors already loaded to full capacity for months ahead, he said.

Warns of Labor Shortage.

Another speaker, Michael Kane, a staff member of "training for industry," a branch of the advisory commission to the council of national defense, warned that industry will feel "the real pinch" of labor shortage by late August or early September.

Before his address Mehornay told newsmen that 60 members of the Aluminum Utensils Manufacturers' association had been advised they would not be able to get any aluminum after they use supplies now on hand.

About 21,000 workers in the aluminum kitchen utensil field will thus be made idle or forced into military work, Mehornay estimated.

ANNOUNCING THE NEW YORK SUN'S

NEW YORK
WILL PAY

for the campaign of 5 advertisements judged most suitable for use by The Sun to promote Father's Day, Sunday, June 15, 1941. Entrants should read the rules and instructions carefully.

RULES AND INSTRUCTIONS:

1 PURPOSE. The competition is to obtain the campaign of advertisements best suited for use by The New York Sun and newspapers throughout the United States to promote Father's Day.

2 COPY THEME. The campaign should dramatize the human qualities and other outstanding characteristics of the average American father and promote Father's Day as an occasion for remembrance.

3 ENTRANTS. The competition is open to any citizen of the United States, excepting employees of The Sun or of other publications or advertising media.

4 FORM OF ENTRY. All entries must be submitted in the form of copy and finished layouts.

5 SPECIFICATIONS. Copy and layouts must be supplied for five (5) advertisements, each to be 200 agate lines in depth (about 14½ inches) and 5 standard newspaper columns wide (about 10 inches).

6 LIMIT. Individual contestants or collaborating contestants will be limited to one (1) entry of 5 advertisements.

7 IDENTIFICATION. Entrant's name or business connection positively must not appear anywhere on material submitted but should be clipped to it for key number. Entries will be submitted to the judges anonymously.

8 DEADLINE. All entries must be delivered to The Sun Promotion Department (Room 314), 280 Broadway, New York City, by 5 P. M., on Thursday, April 24, 1941.

9 PRIZE. One award of $500.00 will be made for the Father's Day campaign selected by the judges. There will also be three certificates of honorable mention. Winning campaign becomes the property of The Sun.

10 JUDGES. The award committee will include people prominent in the fields of retailing, manufacturing and advertising.

ARMS INDUSTRY SOON WILL BEGIN TO ROLL, KNUDSEN DECLARES

Washington, D. C., March 13 (AP).—In a guardedly optimistic report on armament production, William S. Knudsen, director of the office of production management, said today that $12,575,869,000 of army and navy contracts had been let and predicted that "things will begin to roll" within the next three or four months.

Knudsen issued a summary of "certain aspects" of the arms program. He said that the United States and Britain together "have been instrumental" in arranging for the expansion of 784 plants at an estimated cost of $2,138,000,000.

Under contracts and letters of intent issued up to March 1, expansions financed by the war and navy departments, Reconstruction Finance corporation, and defense plant corporation, called for an estimated outlay of 302 plants. Up to the same date the British government, it was reported, undertook to finance the expansion of 61 plants at a cost of $171,000,000.

Knudsen also reported that between May, 1940, and January, 1941, there was an increase of 1,445,000 persons working in nonagricultural industries.

EX-GOV. LECHE LOSES APPEAL ON PRISON TERM

New Orleans, La., March 13 (AP).—The appeal of former Gov. Richard W. Leche from a federal court sentence of ten years in prison on mail fraud conviction was denied today by the 5th United States Circuit court of appeals.

The appellate court held the verdict was supported by "substantial evidence."

Leche, who resigned in June, 1939, at the outset of the Louisiana political scandals investigation, was convicted of fraudulently using the mails in the sale of trucks to the state and was sentenced at Alexandria last June 11.

Philippines Forbid Sale of Both Ships and Rice

MANILA, P. I., March 13 (AP).—President Manuel Quezon announced two actions today forbidding sale to foreign countries of any serviceable ships now under Philippine registry, and forbidding the exportation of rice to all countries, including the United States. There has been a shortage of ships for transporting Philippine products to the United States. Drought conditions have cut rice production.

MANDELS RETURN WITH GALAPAGOS ISLAND RARITIES

Explorations to Enrich Museum and Zoo.

Leon Mandel, his wife, Carola, and members of their zoölogical expedition returned home yesterday with a booby [a bird], a tinamou, 3 frigate birds, 11 penguins, 2 albatrosses, 3 tortoises, a giant iguana, and approximately 2,000 specimens of fishes, birds, and reptiles gathered on their trip to the Galapagos Islands. The islands are 580 miles off Ecuador on the west coast of South America, lying directly on the equator.

The live animals were brought by Mandel for the Brookfield zoo while the specimens were collected for the Field Museum of Natural History. The Mandels and members of the party arrived in a special air conditioned car which they shared with a number of their live pets. The expedition was Mandel's fifth to the island group.

Only Captive Male Albatrosses.

Mandel said that as far as he knows the two male albatrosses are the only ones in captivity. Mrs. Mandel, he asserted, supervised the feeding and bathing of the animals. The penguins became the friendliest of all, two of them—Butch and Oscar—becoming special pets.

Mandel said one of the highlights of the trip was the catching of two sailfish, each less than five inches long and believed to be the smallest of the species ever taken. [A mature sailfish is at least 8 feet long.] Other specimens gathered on the expedition include a 12 foot manta [giant species of devil fish], a 340 pound striped marlin and some gingerling dolphins.

Evolution Exhibit Planned.

The bird collection numbers more than 425, Mandel reported, and is to be used in preparing a museum exhibit illustrating evolution. The differences between the various birds on the Galapagos Islands are said to have helped Darwin arrive at his theory of evolution.

Mandel and his wife sailed last December on a chartered yacht. With them on the expedition was a staff of scientists from the museum and an experienced diver.

"I had been dreaming of this trip for ten years," Mandel said, "and I feel extremely lucky in getting back without losing any specimen taken."

U. S. WON'T BE READY TO FIGHT UNTIL 1942, SAYS LEGION LEADER

Indianapolis, Ind., March 13 (AP).—Warren H. Atherton of Stockton, Cal., chairman of the American Legion's national defense committee, said today that altho America is making "tremendous progress" in its armament program it will not be "completely prepared" to fight until 1942.

Atherton was here to report to the 15 member defense committee on a two month inspection he has just completed of the nation's industries.

The legion's national exectuive committee has been called for a special session tomorrow to hear the defense committee's recommendations and a report by National Commander Milo J. Warner of Toledo, on his recent mission to Great Britain to study home defense methods.

Save Our Republic.

MR. O'MAHONEY SUMS UP.

The monopoly investigating committee—or, to call it by its full title, the temporary national economic committee—is about to complete its inquiry and issue its report. Senator O'Mahoney, the chairman, has drawn up his conclusions and it is said that his recommendations will probably be accepted in large part by his colleagues.

Mr. O'Mahoney went into the investigation more than two years ago a believer in federal incorporation of business enterprises and he has come out just where he went in. That was his panacea then and it is still his panacea.

He says business enterprise must be encouraged and economic freedom preserved and he is against government control of our economy, but his principal proposal is to give the federal government a more powerful weapon than it has ever had for exercising control.

If that doesn't make sense, the fact is not surprising in view of the history of the O'Mahoney committee. It originated in the dismay of the more sincere New Dealers at the failure of their scheme to promote a lasting recovery and in the desire of the revolutionary wing of the New Deal to lay the basis for a seizure of the national economy. At one point Mr. Roosevelt naively requested the committee to discover for him why so many men were idle and so much money was being withheld from investment.

There wasn't any secret about it then and there isn't any today. The principal obstacles to recovery in 1938 were governmental extravagance, excessive taxation, ill-considered monetary experiments, and the bludgeoning of business by the politicians. All of these influences combined to destroy confidence and were intended to do so. Naturally this committee, loaded as it is with various kinds of New Dealers, can't place the blame where it belongs. To do so would be to condemn themselves.

The committee came into being amid a great fanfare of publicity. Its report will receive little attention. Insofar as its members were concerned to preserve a free economy they know now that no specific recommendations they can make can have much meaning. Today it is not the free economy alone which is in danger; it is the existence of the republic itself.

When the committee was formed we were threatened by a growing debt, but the annual deficits of the New Deal were then of the order of 2 or 3 billions. Now they are to be measured in tens of billions. The rate of taxation has been sharply increased and it will go up by leaps and bounds. The control of industry, trade, and agriculture, which was stultifying before, is daily becoming more rigorous. It is far from certain that we can return to a régime of comparative freedom even if we do not become active belligerents. If we get into the war, the political and economic principles upon which our country grew strong and great will be abandoned, in all probability, for all time.

In such a crisis in our national life, whatever findings the committee may report will be irrelevant to the main issue. Surely the schemers who want to get us into the war to promote their totalitarian dictatorship will not be interested in what the committee may have to say and, equally surely, the vast majority who cherish the republic and wish to preserve it are not going to allow their attention to be diverted from their effort to keep this country and its conscripts out of the war. If the republic goes, everything we value, including the free economy, will go with it. If the O'Mahoney committee wished to be taken seriously it should have made its report months ago—before the nation was confronted by the gravest peril it has faced since the civil war threatened its continuance.

BOTTLENECK AT WASHINGTON.

The boom in Washington has assumed such proportions that something ought to be done to relieve the congestion. Unless some of the peacetime functions are conducted elsewhere, the excess population at the national capital may prove a serious bottleneck in the preparedness program. Washington is a city of 70 square miles. The inhabitants totaling 331,069 fitted conveniently into this area in 1910. By 1930 the population had increased 158,800 to 489,869. In the same area there are now 663,000 and more are moving in daily. The number of inhabitants who have come to Washington since 1930 would make a city the size of Des Moines, Salt Lake City, Albany or Nashville. That was the count early in 1940 before the rearmament boom started.

In 1933, before the New Deal expansion got under way, the number of civilian employés of the federal government was 565,000. That number has now increased to about a million and a quarter. The figure is expected to reach a million and a half by midyear. The war department alone is now adding at the rate of 1,500 a month to its civilian staff in Washington after hiring 10,000 a month for the preceding six months.

There isn't living room in Washington for all the people who work there. Many have been obliged to seek shelter some distance from the capital. Despite the fact that the government has put up recently as much as 200 million dollars' worth of office buildings, space is not available to take care of the government's needs. So fast are the bureaus growing that the newest departmental buildings, which allowed for several years' growth, have already been found to be too small, and space has been sought in privately owned office buildings. Land is being occupied so rapidly that the navy had to go as far south as Arlington, Va., for a new 3 million dollar office building. Other government departments have overflowed into Baltimore.

The time has come to decentralize the government business. The social planners at Washington have told others that decentralization is good for industry and it should be even better for government, now that every one can contribute something toward the costs, even tho his income is only $800 a year.

Most of the federal government's functions could be carried on as well a thousand miles west of the capitol. Last July the President stated that Washington is a hazardous place in which to be in wartime, and that the national capitol could conceivably be taken by an enemy despite any opposition which could then be offered by our army and navy. Still, nothing was done to move peacetime departments into the interior of the country.

As a starter in the decentralization of the federal government the Interstate Commerce commission should be moved to Chicago. This city is the transportation center of the country. It is therefore the natural location for the commission which regulates transportation. If employés of the commission have to move about the country, they can do so to better advantage from this terminus for western, eastern, and southern lines than from Washington. To be able to move about quickly and to be accessible to the greatest number having business before it, the old railroad labor board had its office here. Negotiations between unions and the roads are frequently held in Chicago. The Interstate Commerce commission should lose no time in making plans for its Chicago headquarters.

Other activities which should be moved here from Washington to make room for the growing defense organizations are the Social Security board, which almost came to Chicago when it was picking a location six years ago, and the department of agriculture.

A BLEEDING HEART SPILLS HIS TEA.

Last Saturday there appeared in the Voice of the People a letter from John A. Morrison, director of the Chicago Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies. Mr. Morrison said in part:

"In view of your claim that 'THE TRIBUNE in its news columns has printed both sides' one wonders why no mention of Wendell Willkie's first statement in support of the [1776] bill was made in your columns for 36 hours and then only in the form of an editorial attacking him."

This is an untruth. THE TRIBUNE carried a story on Mr. Willkie's stand 48 hours before it commented on it editorially. Mr. Willkie's first statement on the dictator bill, his New York headquarters tell us, was made on Jan. 12. THE TRIBUNE had a story about it on the streets of Chicago a few hours later, in the editions dated Jan. 13. The editorial appeared in the editions of Jan. 15.

The catty tone of Mr. Morrison's communication suggests that it may have been inspired over the tea tables of some of our local Boadiceas. Apparently he has been too busy in the cream or lemon belt to read the newspapers.

Mr. Morrison also objects that whereas he wrote in a plea for funds that the mail of midwestern congressmen and senators was running "up to 8 to 1" against the bill, he was quoted in an editorial in THE TRIBUNE as saying that the mail was running "8 to 1." This error is admitted and regretted. Mr. Morrison neglected to say that in the news columns the day before he had been quoted exactly.

The error in the editorial did not affect its point, which was that sentiment in this area was against the bill because the public have been told the truth about it. The exact ratio was unimportant and, as a matter of fact, Mr. Morrison appears to have understated it. His own boss, former Senator Gibson, says that the letters against the bill exceeded those favoring it by 20 to 1.

In objection to a statement in one of Mr. Parrish's cartoons that 85 per cent of the people in the middle west were against the war dictator bill, Mr. Morrison brought forth the Gallup poll, which he says showed that 39 per cent favored the bill. Mr. Parrish did not rely on Gallup, altho had he wished to do so he might have used the figure of the Gallup poll of Jan. 10, which reported that 91 per cent of the people in the middle west would vote against war if given the opportunity so to express themselves.

We have no wish to injure Dr. Gallup. The Gallup Research Service has surveyed for THE TRIBUNE the interest taken by subscribers in various departments of the paper. The reports have been useful and we believe them to be accurate within the margins of error that he specifies himself. Those surveys were based on factual questions. The persons interviewed had no doubt as to what newspapers they read, or whether they looked regularly at Orphan Annie, or whether they had read a particular story in that day's TRIBUNE. But when a poll seeks attitudes on complex national policies it is virtually impossible to frame a question so that its terms will not influence the answers in one direction or the other.

We commented recently on a survey made by another polling organization in Congressman Hamilton Fish's district. Nearly 50 per cent of those interviewed agreed that the dictator bill took from congress "too much power in foreign affairs," yet 70 per cent thought passage of the bill "necessary so that the President can act quickly in foreign affairs." The obvious contradiction escaped at least a fifth of the people who answered the two questions.

Thus, if Mr. Morrison wants to quote Dr. Gallup, we can quote Mr. Parrish with equal assurance. As a matter of fact Mr. Morrison was using Dr. Gallup's figures only for the purpose of confusing the issue. His real grievance is not that THE TRIBUNE has misrepresented his committee and his cause in any important particular, but that it has told the truth about them.

The committee to aid the allies is a committee to get America into war, and some of its more candid speakers admit that that's what they want. The committee's manipulators can see as plainly as any one else that the people of this country are resolutely opposed to going to war. In the circumstances it is not surprising that the less candid spokesmen for the committee have been reduced to argument by misrepresentation.

SPEAKING OF MAGICIANS.

When Dante, the magician, brings a full-length show to Chicago next week there will be no need for the tea drinking drama clubs to moan over the decline of the stage. For this is the oldest of the theatrical arts, and its records run back to the Book of Exodus, which tells how Aaron, with his rod that turned into a serpent, surpassed the sorcerers of Pharaoh.

* * *

Before Dante there was Thurston, and Houdini, and Kellar, and Herrmann the Great, and the latter's father, Carl Herrmann, a visitor from Europe. They all gave full-length shows and flourished mightily in first rate theaters, and traveled the world, plying their trade in every port of the seven seas. The elder Herrmann is a memory of the Linemaster's childhood; he inspired us with the high ambition of learning how to throw a playing card half a block.

* * *

Chicago has always been a metropolis of magicians, professional and amateur, and there are shops here that have purveyed paraphernalia for sorcery to several generations of citizens. No doubt the arrival of Dante, who is regarded as a grand master of the occult, will bring out hundreds of these minor wizards for a course of graduate study. . . . At the première we shall, perhaps, find Rudy Chmelik of the Golden Ox and Matt Schulien of North Halsted street learning new table tricks.

* * *

Dante is a high authority on the famous Hindu rope trick, a marvel of the hidden secrets of the orient. You remember the story: The fakir tosses a rope into the air and it stands erect, then his boy climbs that rope and disappears forever, apparently into heaven. . . . Dante has proved that there never was a Hindu rope trick and that the Hindus never heard of it until the story was invented by an Englishman to hornswoggle people. Thus another myth vanishes into thin air, like the fabulous Hindu boy.

TO THE LITTLE MAN.

I sing the little man,
He who walks in crowds of millions,
And owns the earth, and speaks his turn on corners, in taverns, in lodges.

The quiet, tumultuous little man
Who marches with guns and makes an army;
Whose little love song in the silence of the night
Is never written, never sung,
Yet from whose love springs a new race, new dreams, new worlds.

You are he whose house and world lie ruined
While the few big men shout their brief threats,
You are he who sets to work with patient hands to rebuild.
You will go on and on forever.
They cannot kill you, little man.

Your days and nights are forever thruout all time.
You are deathless, little man.
They cannot kill your dreams.
You will be heard, for you will never cease speaking.
You will never stop your hunger nor your love.
Always there will be more of you.

Nancy Purvine.

To Abate a Nuisance.

Mary V. Farnum, who contributes verses to this column over her own name, is not "Little Girl," who contributes over that pseudonym. This announcement is made in the hope of abating a nuisance. The anonymous person who has been annoying Miss Farnum under the suspicion that she is "Little Girl" should understand that the Evanston police do not regard such conduct lightly, and have a reputation for getting their man. [In this case the nuisance appears to be a woman.]

Mr. Pepys' Favorite College.

Another of those queer name pronunciations peculiar to the English is Magdalene. When speaking of St. Mary Magdalen college, Oxford, or of Magdalene college, Cambridge, the academic Briton says Mawd-lin. But when he is referring to Mary in a biblical sense his pronunciation of Magdalene is according to spelling.

Which gives me the opportunity, seeing that the Linemaster has adopted Mr. Pepys as a model for his diary, to make known the fact that in Magdalene college, Cambridge, there stands a Pepysian building which contains his library and the original Mss. of his famous diary.

MORE ABOUT MARCH.

This is the month when friends with dough
Are on the gough;
Than those who write brightly from Florida
There are few horrida;
Those few are in the Bahamas
With or without their mammas;
Or in Havana
Babbling blithely about basking mañana,
While those of us who are busted
Stay home disgusted
And ponder the gruesome fax
Concerning payment of income tax.
Did the collector get you?

READING IN COMFORT.

THE eyes are wonderful instruments but—like the camera—they cannot function without light. The picture of Abraham Lincoln studying by the flickering blaze of a fireplace contrasts sharply with the modern illumination of most of our homes. His optics must have been punished unmercifully.

Nowadays we are interested in sight saving. Not only must the page be well lighted with avoidance of glare, but we have developed sharper and larger type. In addition, there is more contrast between ink and paper and the most suitable angles and distances have been worked out—all in an effort to avoid fatigue.

Hundreds of thousands can testify to the relief they have experienced from the correction of minor abnormalities, such as a slight astigmatism. We know that any muscle strain which continues day after day, year in and year out, may lead not only to ocular but also to constitutional symptoms.

When we reach middle life most of us are obliged to hold the magazine or paper farther away in order to see better. This is because the lens has lost much of its elasticity. Hence we don glasses so that we can focus on near objects. Another reason why we must take precautions is because we are called upon to do so much close work. Furthermore, we may not always be sufficiently careful about light. We may remain seated beside a window far beyond the hour when we can read comfortably.

Few of us realize how much of a job it is to scan a printed sheet intently. The muscles must move the eyeball from left to right, and back again with every line. Then, too, the sharpness of the focus must be maintained for every letter. Otherwise the thought may be lost. Again, we must remind ourselves that, with many, movements may become jerky—not steady and smooth—resulting in increased tiredness.

Adults have good or fair vision—as the case may be—but we can help our youngsters immeasurably by providing lamps that are powerful enough so that every word shall be distinct. Many poor students are unable to decipher the text on the blackboard plainly. Some will be apparently normal at the beginning of the morning session, only to find that their abilities will wane. Now and then these pupils will constitute behavior problems because they are unable to keep up with the class. In one school system, nearly half of a sizable group of inferior readers were transformed into experts with a little patience and after remedying refractive errors.

None can afford to overlook visual fatigue. The more we can spare ourselves in this respect, the better. The factors include not only the muscles of accommodation but those structures that control the activities of the eyeball. The unfortunate part of it all is that—for a time, at least—symptoms may not appear. But let the condition persist and headache will tell us that we have overdone the matter. The body will continue to supply energy to the ocular apparatus at the expense of reserve.

One significant manifestation is blinking. Many persons will exhibit a marked increase in the rate if the period of reading is too long, if improper glasses are employed, if there is too much reflection, or deficient light, or if the print is too small. Most of us have observed this phenomenon in friends and we may ascribe it ofttimes to nervousness. It is not so at all. It is one of the means that nature has adopted of insisting upon rest. The curtain is lowered more frequently. When this occurs, it is time to lay the book aside.

SKIN BLEMISHES.

R. L. writes: What causes moles to appear suddenly in adults?

REPLY.

True moles are probably present at birth but they will enlarge as a part of growth. When they begin to increase in size—on their own—it is high time to have them removed.

The blemishes you refer to may be seborrheic warts, which resemble moles. They, too, should be eradicated.

INVESTIGATE.

N. B. writes: Are spots before the eyes and blurred vision a sign of kidney trouble?

REPLY.

Possibly. Eyesight is too precious to waste. Do not temporize. A complete physical checkup is in order, including vision.

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, THE TRIBUNE.

INDEX TO PUBLIC OPINION.

Wilmette, Ill., March 10.—Those who witnessed the deadpan apathy and silence of the crowd as the soldiers marched away down Michigan avenue Saturday, and who can remember the howling enthusiasm over the same occasion in 1917, got a pretty fair idea of how definitly Illinois is against the Roosevelt foreign adventure. A University of Chicago psychology professor told his class that the crowd's attitude was more revealing than any Gallup poll.

It is amazing that any politician in Washington from Illinois could be so dumb in failing to understand the sentiment of his constituents. If I'm any guesser, Scott Lucas cut his political throat from ear to ear by voting for the lease-lend bill. Just wait until he runs again and see how the competition nails him with "So you're the baby who voted to give away our money and plow under our boys, are you?" T. F. B.

WORDS OF WISDOM.

Peoria, Ill., March 10.—Winston Churchill in "A Roving Commission," published in 1930, wrote:

"Let us learn our lessons. Never, never, never believe any war will be smooth and easy, or that any one who embarks on the strange voyage can measure the tides and hurricanes he will encounter. The statesman who yields to war fever must realize that once the signal is given, he is no longer the master of policy but the slave of unforeseeable and uncontrollable events. Antiquated war offices, weak, incompetent, or arrogant commanders, untrustworthy allies, hostile neutrals, malignant fortune, ugly surprises, awful miscalculations—all take their seats at the council board on the morrow of a declaration of war. Always remember, however sure you are that you can easily win, that there would not be a war if the other man did not think he also had a chance." J. C. PADDOCK.

FOR OLD TIMER.

South Bend, Ind., March 12.—We note in a recent issue of THE TRIBUNE a letter from "Old Timer" of Hillsdale, Mich., complaining of discrimination against men over 50 seeking employment on the national defense program.

Altho we do not have openings in our force at South Bend, we expect to be able to employ men like "Old Timer" in the plants we are building at Fort Wayne, Chicago, and South Bend for the production of airplane engines for the United States government.

We would be glad to have you print this in your Voice of the People column in order to get the information to him and to others like him. H. S. VANCE
Chairman of the board, the Studebaker corporation.

SAME NAME.

Chicago, March 8.—On March 7 you reported that a Kenneth Faulkner, residing at 5531 Winthrop avenue, was arrested. I would appreciate it if you would publish an announcement to the effect that I do not know, nor am I acquainted with, nor have I any connection with that Kenneth Faulkner. KENNETH FAULKNER, 7734 South Park avenue.

THOSE SPARROWS.

Oak Park, Ill., March 10.—To philosophize or make comparisons between birds and humans is, I believe, beside the point. The fact remains that the English sparrow and starling are the enemies of our native songbirds, and are fast replacing the friendly, useful species, whose presence once was a pleasure in our gardens. In England, from time to time, a bounty was placed on the sparrow to relieve estate owners who found them not only a pest, but destructive to their truck and flower gardens. Turkey raisers have found the English sparrow responsible for a disease in young turkeys thru the transference of an intestinal parasite.

Contrary to the idea of "Another Bird Lover," the English sparrow does not have an intense, short life. His life span is 40 years, and being a nonmigratory bird, escaping the hazards of migration of our songbirds, he lives a safe life, year after year, carrying more and more rubbish into any crevice in your home, using the same nest [parasite infested] over and over again. Weighing these facts, sentiment can be put aside.

MRS. J. EDW. SMITH.

YOU MIGHT SAY NO.

Chicago, March 10.—There are many borrowers, but I think the worst is the "car borrower." People who won't make the sacrifices to have a car think they should borrow one whenever they need one for a trip. These same people enjoy pleasures that I forego to maintain a car. One wouldn't think of asking to borrow another's home for a while, nor the money to maintain his car. No one has ever offered to buy my license or gas.

STIN GEE.

STOLEN PAPERS.

Chicago, March 10.—I operate a newsstand at a fairly busy transfer corner on the northwest side of the city. There are some people mercenary enough to watch their chance, and when the newsboy isn't looking or when he is busy at another stand, will steal a newspaper. For every paper stolen the newsboy must sell five papers before he gets his cost back, and then his profit is gone.

I'm not crying in any manner, shape, or form, but only trying to show what the newsboy has to contend with. Incidentally, legally this practice is petty larceny, and that is punishable by a fine or jail sentence.

MILTON P. HOENIG.

HIDDEN GARDEN.

Chicago, March 10.—Now that springtime is near one's thoughts turn to visions of the beautiful "circus" of garden flowers slumbering beneath the straw in Jackson park at the east end of the Midway.

This "circus" garden is planted around a circular lawn and low stone wall and deserves a better fate than to be hidden from Stony Island avenue by the ugliest patch of tall brush in the Chicago park system.

Cut out some of this brush and the unsightly old red fence and give the passer-by a chance to view the most enchanting garden in town. BRAZIL HOOSIER.

DAYLIGHT TIME.

Chicago, March 10.—Ald. Duffy is right. Let's make it six months of daylight saving and six months of standard time, and cut out the annual squabbling.

JOSEPH F. VOJTECH.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE.

Chicago, March 6.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Could a man holding deed on property in his own name for almost 20 years be forced by mortgage owner to take some one else as co-owner with him? This mortgage expired June 1, 1940. Interest and taxes have been kept up and property improved.

2. Property owner was notified this past week that mortgage would not be renewed unless he had a co-owner with him on deed.

3. Reason given is that owner of property is getting old and is sick and might die, necessitating property going into probate.

4. Would this property owner, if he becomes a co-owner, be allowed, if he wished, to transfer his half to a sister?

O. M.

1. If the mortgage is past due the creditor can arbitrarily name the terms on which he is willing to delay foreclosure. The debtor will have to decide whether to comply or to submit to foreclosure. In this sense the debtor might be "forced" to convey a share to a co-owner.

2. It is within the rights of the creditor to name his terms in this way.

3. We do not see that the debtor's death would necessarily complicate the creditor's position.

4. In general, one of several co-owners can convey his interest as he pleases.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

WITNESSES TO WILL.

Chicago, March 6.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. What happens when will is read and we cannot find witnesses, or [2] if one should die is it best to make new will?

3. Can you date a will at any time or must it be dated when drawn up before witnesses?

4. Do they count Mr. and Mrs. as one witness or [5] can you use two in one family? H. J.

1. If a sufficient showing can be made as to the nonavailability of the witnesses, then the will would be admitted to probate on proof of the handwriting of the witnesses.

2. This would be a basis for proof of their handwriting.

3. The latter.

4. No.

5. Yes. But the witnesses should not be beneficiaries.

U. S. FINES ASCAP AND 48 OFFICIALS TOTAL OF $35,750

Anti-Trust Law Violations Charged in Music War.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 13 [Special].—The American Society of Composers, Authors, and Publishers and its officers and directors were fined a total of $35,750 by Federal Judge F. Ryan Duffy today after they had pleaded nolo contendere to charges of violating federal antitrust laws.

The society was fined $5,000; Eugene Buck, president; E. C. Mills, chairman of the administrative committee, and John G. Paine, $1,500 each; 26 other directors $500 each, and 19 corporation members $750 each.

Buck, the $35,000 a year president of ASCAP, was the first to have his name called after the pleas had been entered. As he stood, Judge Duffy observed that fines of $5,000 each or a year's imprisonment or both could be imposed. He turned to Victor O. Waters, special assistant to the United States attorney general, and asked whether the guilt was flagrant enough to warrant a jail sentence.

No Moral Turpitude.

"There is no moral turpitude sufficient to warrant a prison sentence," Waters answered. "As far as ASCAP itself is concerned, the maximum fine should be imposed."

Judge Duffy announced it was not his practice to accept pleas of nolo contendere, but in this case where fines could be assessed, he would agree. The plea, in effect, says the defendants do not wish to contend the complaint. The plea was entered by Charles Pelotti, lieutenant governor of New York, chief of ASCAP counsel. He referred to the signing of a consent decree in New York and asserted that all of the practices to which the government objected had been remedied.

"We are appearing in the final step to achieve better relations among music composers, the publishers, and those who appreciate and enjoy music," he said. "All want to achieve peace. The directors of ASCAP appearing today to present their appropriate pleas. They want to return to their offices to continue to enrich the musical culture of America."

20 Officers Await Turns.

Twenty of the society's officers and directors sat in the jury box waiting to make their plea. Jerome Kern, Oley Speaks, George Fischer, Raymond Hubbell, J. J. Robbins, and John Mercer, all directors, were absent. Pelotti explained that Kern, Fischer, Hubbell, and Speaks were ill. Mercer is in Cuba, he said, and the train on which Robbins was coming to Milwaukee from Hollywood was late.

Four dozen folding chairs supplemented the limited seats in the courtroom and they all were filled. The case attracted more attention than any in federal court here since the late Judge F. A. Geiger halted the investigation of automobile financing companies several years ago.

The criminal information on which the government based its suit was filed here Feb. 5. The defendants were charged with misdemeanors. The maximum fine for conviction is $5,000, or one year imprisonment, or both. The information accused the defendants of 10 specific violations of the antitrust law in conspiring to control and monopolize copyrighted music.

A consent decree also was signed previously by Broadcast Music, Inc., rival of ASCAP, and held in abeyance until the American society was put under similar restraints.

Loses Suit Over Bequest Left Her by a Rothschild

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 13.—Miss Marie Barbara Fredenson, whose romance with Baron Lionel Walter Rothschild was related in the law courts last week, today lost her appeal that an annuity of 550 pounds [currently $2,200] be paid her by the baron's executors "free from income tax." Miss Fredenson claimed that a caluse in the baron's will meant she was to be given the sum of 550 pounds yearly, but the court decided the executors were entitled to deduct the income tax. Befriended by the Baron when a young girl seeking a stage career, Miss Frendenson gave birth to a daughter who, however, never bore the Rothschild name.

LEAPS 39 TIMES FROM PLANE AND CLAIMS RECORD

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, March 13 (AP).—Tomas Picasso spent this March day jumping out of an airplane—39 times.

He said it was a new world's record for consecutive parachute leaps, surpassing the 38 jumps made by a George Walsh in the United States. [The Federation of Aeronautique International does not, however, recognize such a record.]

Picasso, a veteran civil flyer, started jumping from a small monoplane at 7:40 o'clock this morning and quit at 5:55 this afternoon, when supervising doctors grounded him. The 'chute had to have tears sewn up after the 11th and 14th jumps.

Mysterious Kidnap Note Tossed in Box from Auto

Policemen of the South Chicago district are investigating a mysterious message turned over to them last night by Leroy Carlson, 13 years old, 8507 Crandon avenue. The boy said the message was tossed from an automobile which passed as he was skating near his home. It was in a small tin box, written in pencil, and said only, "I am being kidnaped." There was no signature and no clew to the owner of the car.

DIES IN KANKAKEE.

Home of Actress Looted of $4,415 in Furs, Gems

Thieves broke into the apartment of Mrs. Audrey Cutter, a radio actress, at 179 East Chestnut street yesterday and stole jewelry and furs valued at $4,415. She is known in radio as Audrey McGrath. It was the fourth time that she and her husband, Charles Cutter, a bond salesman, have been victims of burglars.

'JIM CROW' CASE ARGUMENT MADE BY REP. MITCHELL

Washington, D. C., March 13 (AP).—Representative Arthur W. Mitchell [D., Ill.], the only Negro member of congress, argued before the Supreme court today that members of his race traveling from one state to another were entitled to railroad accommodations equal to those furnished white persons.

"To deny this," he asserted, "is purely racial prejudice."

Arguing in his own behalf, Mitchell said he had been "forcibly ejected" from a Pullman in Arkansas while traveling from Chicago to Hot Springs in 1937, and had been compelled to complete the journey "in a Jim Crow car with second class accommodations."

J. Stanley Payne, assistant chief counsel of the interstate Commerce commission, and Wallace T. Hughes, Chicago attorney for the railroads involved, said the demand by Negroes in Arkansas for Pullman facilities was "virtually nonexistent."

INDICT EX-FELON IN ROBBERY.

Oscar J. Dun , 40 years old, an ex-convict, was indicted yesterday by the grand jury on three charges of robbery. Dunn was arrested Sunday after he had held up a motorist, Carleton Pearson, 22, of 6630 Kenwood avenue, robbed him, stole his car, and kidnaped his fiancé, Miss Dolly Anne Banghart, 20, of 4846½ Drexel boulevard.

Andrew N. Rebori

Chicago's nationally-known architect, says:

"It's my business," continues Mr. Rebori, "to keep up with progress in every division of building. Lately, I've watched the tremendous strides made in stoker design with increasing interest. Today, they have much to recommend them. The heat they deliver is constant and dependable. The heat reserve they place at one's command is the largest obtainable. And with the new types there is very little ash, because complete combustion takes place. Moreover, it has been my observation that the cost of operation is by far the lowest in the automatic heating field. That's why I counsel anyone building in this day and age to canvass the possibilities of installing a stoker thoroughly before he makes any final commitments concerning his heating system."

SEE HOW MUCH A STOKER SAVES

In Mr. Rebori's office at 435 North Michigan Avenue, Miss Gerry Adams inspects the model of the Loyola Chapel. Among other designs which have brought national honors to this outstanding Chicago architect, are the Elizabeth Cudahy Memorial Chapel and the Della Strada Chapel now nearing completion.

WHEN so widely recognized an authority on building as Mr. Rebori speaks, his suggestions are worth heeding . . . worth acting on. And in this case it's especially easy to do that! For through your coal merchant, providing he is a member of this Association, you can secure all the available facts on stoker heat without committing yourself to any expense or any obligation. Beyond that, if such an investigation convinces you, as it has so many modern home builders, that you'll be more satisfied with a stoker, he can arrange the financing of your purchase under the most favorable terms. So if you are even considering building or modernizing, don't hesitate to act on Mr. Rebori's suggestion, but call a coal merchant, who is a member of this Association, today and put him to work for you.

GAMBLER ADMITS USING SCHENCK HOME AS CASINO

New York, March 13 (AP).—A Hollywood gambler testified in federal court today that in 1935 he took over the Los Angeles mansion of Joseph M. Schenck, millionaire film executive, and transformed it into a gambling casino without Schenck's knowledge.

Al Wertheimer.
[A. P. Wirephoto.]

Testifying in the income tax evasion trial of Schenck, Al Wertheimer said he and his brother, Lou, made arrangements for the place, but that he thought a friend of Schenck's Lou Anger, made the actual arrangements with the mansion's caretaker. Schenck, he said, was away.

Raided by Police.

"He [Schenck] gave me the devil about it a few months later," Wertheimer testified, "he telephoned me and bawled me out after the district attorney and police had raided the place."

He said he and his brother in 1935 operated the Clover club in Hollywood—a gambling establishment catering to motion picture stars and executives. Schenck gambled there occasionally, Wertheimer said.

"You wouldn't say that he [Schenck] was a partner, would you?" asked Harold Corbin, defense counsel.

"Certainly not—he just played," replied Wertheimer.

Testimony that Schenck was so incensed because his friends imposed upon him that he wanted to get rid of his yacht, The Invader, which he purchased in 1929, was also given today.

The witness, Harry C. Wilson, Hollywood yacht broker, said Schenck told him "he didn't want to hear about the yacht, or see it again, because his friends were imposing upon him."

Schenck and Joseph H. Moskowitz, eastern representative of Twentieth Century-Fox Film corporation, are charged with income tax evasion of $412,000 in connection with Schenck's returns for 1935, '36, and '37.

The yacht Invader was not used during the period covered in the charges, but the yacht Caroline, which Schenck bought later from Wilson, was in use during those years.

Stars Use Yacht.

The government contends the operating expenses of the Caroline should not have been deducted as business expenses in Schenck's tax returns.

Under questioning by Harold Corbin, defense counsel, Wilson recalled that Norma Shearer, Clara Bow, and Charles Chaplin were among those who used the Invader in 1929 and 1930.

"The yacht was used for business and social purposes," said Wilson. "In 1932 and 1933 Douglas Fairbanks Sr. borrowed the yacht to make a picture in the south seas."

DIXMOOR GETS NEW PRESIDENT BY COURT ORDER

Ignatz Zelek of 14348 Lincoln street, Dixmoor, was appointed president protem of that village yesterday by Judge John F. Prystalski in Circuit court. The presidency of the village has been vacant since Charles Special recently began serving a one year sentence in the Bridewell for operation of a speed trap.

Zelek, who is one of the six village trustees, will serve until April 15 when a regular election will be held. Frank Spoler, who lives at 143d and Wood streets in the suburb, was named treasurer until the election. This post has been vacant since the death of John E. Anderson last December.

A president, three trustees and a village clerk will be chosen at the election and the trustees will appoint a treasurer. A new audit of the village funds will be made. Previous audits, made while Special was in power, disclosed shortages totaling $46,188.

The case came before Judge Prystalski on a mandamus suit brought by Spoler to compel the trustees to hold regular meetings to transact village business. He said there had been no such meeting since September, 1939.

Sings on W-G-N

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

An advance salute to St. Patrick was presented on W-G-N-Mutual's program In Chicago Tonight last evening. Irish music and a play about the rebellion of 1921 were highlights of the performance. The play was Forrest Barnes' "The Fugitive," with Johnny Larkin playing the title part and Fran Carlon that of the woman who sheltered him. The W-G-N orchestra and chorus, directed by Harold Stokes, provided Irish music.

Joe Cook, star of the revue "It Happens on Ice" at the Chicago Stadium, brought along Mary Jane Yeo, 16 years old, a former Morgan Park girl, who appears in the skating spectacle. After a typical humorous monolog he presented Mary Jane, who joined Stokes in an accordion duet.

Patricia Ellis sang "It All Comes Back to Me Now." Miss Ellis is at the State-Lake theater. William A. Bacher produced the show.

LOSES $600,100 SUIT AGAINST WALLACE BEERY

Los Angeles, Cal., March 13 (AP).—A Superior court jury returned a verdict today in favor of Wallace Beery in the $600,100 false arrest suit brought against the film actor by Allan B. Whitney, whom Beery once befriended.

The jury also found for two Beverly Hills policemen who arrested Whitney at Beery's home Nov. 22, 1939.

Testimony disclosed Beery took Whitney, now 28 years old, into his home at the age of 13 and befriended him for four months. The actor and his brother, Noah, testified they were apprehensive when the latter saw Whitney outside the Beery home the night of his arrest because of letters Wallace Beery received, threatening kidnaping of his 7 year old adopted daughter.

2 BIG LINERS MAY SAIL TO PORTUGAL TO GET REFUGEES

New York, March 13 (AP).—The United States liners Manhattan and Washington may be assigned by the Maritime commission to the New York-Lisbon run to expedite passage from Europe of stranded Americans and thousands of foreigners anxious to flee the war abroad.

Maritime circles said today such assignment of the 24,000 ton vessels—with the America, the largest in the American merchant marine—was being considered by the commission's new emergency division.

The liners could handle 1,500 passengers each, as against 185 each now being carried by the American Export Liners Exeter, Excalibur, and Excambion, and 350 by the Siboney, the only four American vessels now plying between here and Portugal.

Four Killed by Explosion in Pennsylvania Coal Mine

Revloc, Pa., March 13 (AP). — Four men were killed today by an explosion in the Monroe Coal company's mine. State Mine Inspector William Lamont attributed the explosion to an accumulation of gas.

CONGRESSIONAL REMAPPING BILL OFFERED STATE

Stiff Opposition Expected from Politicians.

7,891,952, according to the 1940 census. Of this total, Cook county is credited with 4,058,053 and the 101 other counties in the state with 3,833,899.

The New Districts.

The proposed redistricting would replace the present 25 districts with 26 new ones having an average population of 303,536 each. The average for Cook county's 13 districts [the county now has nine and part of the 10th] would be 312,158, and for the 13 downstate, 294,913. It would also abolish the posts of the two present congressmen at large, who would have to run as district candidates if they hoped to remain in congress.

The congressmen who would have to fight each other in order to be reelected should the measure become law are Noah M. Mason of the 12th district and Congressman at Large William G. Stratton; Robert B. Chiperfield of the 15th and Leslie C. Arends of the 17th; James M. Barnes of the 20th and Evan Howell of the 21st, and Laurence F. Arnold of the 23d and James V. Heidinger of the 24th. All except Arnold are Republicans.

Only one district—the 12th, which includes Boone, Winnebago, De Kalb, La Salle, Kendall, and Grundy counties—would be untouched under the proposed new setup. This district would be known as the 15th.

It is in Chicago, however, that the most important changes would be wrought.

The 1st district would be more than doubled in size, but would still remain overwhelmingly colored. The new 1st would take in Representative Arthur W. Mitchell's residence.

The 2d district's population would be cut nearly in half and would lose territory to the 1st and 3d districts, but would still contain the home of Representative Raymond S. McKeough.

The 3d would retain only a small segment of its present territory and yield up sizeable spaces to the 1st, 2d, 4th, and 5th, but it would embrace the official residence of Representative Edward A. Kelly.

The bulk of the old 4th would form the nucleus of the new 5th, which would take in most of the near southwest side, including the home of Representative Harry P. Beam.

In Sabath's Domain.

The old 5th [Representative A. J. Sabath's "rotten borough"] would be swallowed up by the new 6th and its population more than doubled. The district would include Sabath's official residence, but to it would be annexed large sections of voting strength which could be expected to end the long and shady rule of the Sabath machine.

Representative A. F. Maciejewski's 6th district, which includes much of the west side and most of the western Cook county suburbs, would become the 7th, purely a Chicago district, losing its suburban holdings to the new 8th and its near west side area to the new 6th. Maciejewski would land in the new 8th.

The sprawling 7th district, largest of all, would lose densely populated slices from its east and south edges and large tracts on the north and would be superseded by the new 12th district, which would take in the home of Representative Leonard W. Schuetz.

Effect on Kocialkowski.

The tiny 8th, ruled over by Representative Leo Kocialkowski, would be swallowed up completely by the new 6th and 9th, the latter district containing Kocialkowski's home. But this congressman would be left with only a small remnant of his old electorate.

Representative Charles S. Dewey's 9th district, remaining intact, would receive part of the present 10th and would be known as the new 10th. Its political complexion would not change materially.

The old 10th, represented by George A. Paddock of Evanston, would lose small but densely populated chunks to the new 10th and 11th. Its successor would be the 13th, which would take in the entire north shore and most of the county area to the west. This would mean that the district would continue as a G. O. P. stronghold.

There is nothing in the law to prevent any congressman from running in any district he chooses. Only on rare occasions, however, has an Illinois district been represented in Washington, D. C., by a nonresident.

TAX COMMITTEE OF LEGISLATURE TO MEET TODAY

The legislative committee created to study the delinquent tax situation in Cook county will meet this morning in the La Salle hotel, it was announced yesterday by State Representative David L. Swanson of Chicago, chairman. Among those scheduled to appear before the committee are Lawrence C. Mills, chairman of the tax delinquency committee of the Chicago Bar association; Marshall Kearney, assistant state's attorney in charge of delinquent tax cases; Arthur Sullivan of County Treasurer John Toman's office, and H. G. Bollman, assistant to County Assessor John S. Clark.

C.I.O. TURNS DOWN STRIKE VOTE AT HARVESTER FIRM

Spurns Proposal to Reopen Indiana Plant.

A proposal by the International Harvester company that an election under federal supervision be held among employés of its C. I. O. strike bound plant in Richmond, Ind., to determine whether they want to continue the strike or return to work, was rejected by C. I. O. leaders in Richmond last night.

The election was suggested after C. C. Calkins, plant superintendent, had received a petition which he said was signed by nearly 800 of 1,174 production employés asking that the factory, closed by the strike on Feb. 17, be reopened.

In a published announcement the Harvester company stated that if this peaceful method of solving the election could not be worked out—meaning C. I. O. acceptance of the referendum—the problem then would become one of law enforcement by Indiana state and Richmond city authorities.

Assurances Are Awaited.

"All the company can say is that if and when we are assured by public authorities that those of our employés who wish to work can do so in reasonable safety and without being subjected to violence or injury, Richmond's works will be opened," the announcement stated.

The company's election proposal was that the poll be conducted by the National Labor Relations board, that if a majority of employés voted to return to work the plant would be reopened, but that if a majority voted to continue the strike, it would remain closed. Agreement to the plan by the Farm Equipment Workers' Organizing committee [C. I. O.], which called the strike, was asked as a necessary condition.

Clifford Kerr, president of the Richmond local of the FEWOC, flatly rejected the proposal in a letter to Supt. Calkins calling it "phony" and a "subterfuge." He suggested instead a conference of company and union officials for next week. At the same time he warned that "hundreds" of outside C. I. O. workers would be imported into Richmond from outside cities if necessary for strike duty.

Study Further Steps.

Company officials in Chicago, when notified of Kerr's answer, said they would wait a few days before considering other steps. Whether the plant will reopen in answer to the majority employés' demands for a reopening will depend, they indicated, on whether Indiana and Richmond officials promise proper police protection. Mayor John Britten of Richmond, had earlier promised protection.

Meanwhile, efforts in Chicago to arrange a consent election among the 6,100 employés in the C. I. O. strike bound main works of the Harvester company fell thru yesterday when, apparently, C. I. O. officials refused to agree to such an election. The election was demanded by Harry O'Reilly, regional organizations director for the American Federation of Labor, who claims a majority membership at the plant.

After a conference presided over by I. S. Dorfman, acting regional director of the National Labor board, O'Reilly charged that a "handful of lawless C. I. O." people were depriving thousands of workers and their families of necessities by forcing the plant to close.

C. I. O. ELECTION HEARING AT FORD PLANTS ORDERED

Detroit, Mich., March 13 (AP).—A formal hearing on a C. I. O. United Automobile Workers union petition for employé elections to determine the bargaining agency in the Ford Motor company's River Rouge and Lincoln plants was set tentatively today for March 24 by Frank H. Bowen, National Labor Relations board regional director.

Bowen, who said he was acting in the interests of national preparedness, said notices of the hearing would be mailed to the union and the company. He said the labor board was expediting the hearings because something should be done."

A union spokesman said today that a brief stoppage of work had occurred this afternoon in the rolling mill of the River Rouge plant in suburban Dearborn. He said that about 3,000 employés stopped operations to demand reinstatement of union members allegedly fired for union activity. The men were rehired and work was resumed.

Divorce Suit Filed

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sutter Beall.

Kenneth Sutter Beall, living on South Telegraph road, in Bannockburn, filed suit for divorce yesterday in the Lake county Circuit court at Waukegan, charging Mrs. Helen Cantlon Beall with extreme and repeated cruelty.

They were married April 18, 1936, in Wilmette, the home of Mrs. Beall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Leo Koenig, and Beall left his wife last Monday. He charged that last Dec. 9, in Miami, she struck and kicked him, and that on the day of their separation, she struck him with her slipper, scratched and kicked him, dealing out similar treatment on numerous other occasions.

Beall asked custody of a son, Kenneth Jr., 2 years and 9 months old.

PRESS BELONGS TO THE PEOPLE, SAYS PROF. MOTT

Boston, Mass., March 13 (AP).—Evidence that "the people believe that the press is distinctively their institution," was seen today by Frank L. Mott, journalism professor of the University of Iowa, in the rise of American newspaper circulation in the last five years to its highest record.

Speaking at a symposium dedicated to "freedom of the press" at Boston university's 11th Founders' day celebration, Mott declared that "the newspaper is an essential part of the democratic system" and that "recent elections have not produced the slightest evidence to show that the newspaper is not still a democratic and essentially popular institution."

Daniel L. Marsh, president of the university, appealed for doubled vigilance in maintaining the freedom of the press and conferred honorary degrees on eight men from various fields of journalism.

N. Y. BUS STRIKE IS IN ITS 4TH DAY; ASK WAGE RAISE

New York, March 13 (AP).—Separate conferences between Mayor Fiorello La Guardia and bus company officials and the transport workers union leaders failed to bring settlement tonight in the four day old strike affecting 95 per cent of Manhattan's surface transportation, but the mayor announced negotiations would continue tomorrow.

"Sufficient progress has not been made to come to an agreement tonight," the mayor told reporters. Late this evening he added, however, that "sufficient progress has been made not to terminate negotiations."

A series of conferences, chiefly with a state mediator, lasted more than 12 hours.

The strikers demand wage increases, lengthened vacations with pay, additional holidays off and other concessions. The strike has forced the city's 900,000 bus riders to find other transportation.

SURGERY GUIDES JUSTICE IN DOG OWNERSHIP CASE

Judge Leon Edelman heard all about a Great Dane's operation yesterday.

Mrs. Addie Sprague, 118 South Western avenue, said she bought the dog a month ago, and that Ansel G. Cobb, owner of an automobile repair shop at 4011 Lake street, stole the animal from her yard a week ago.

Cobb, who said the dog's name was Duke, whereas Mrs. Sprague insisted it was Carl, said he had merely relaimed his property, because the dog had been stolen from him a year ago. He proved his title when a veterinarian, John B. Jaffray, identified a scar on the dog's left flank as one resulting from an operation he performed on Cobb's Duke.

PRESIDENT GETS PLAN TO MEDIATE ARMS STRIKES

Washington, D. C., March 13 [Special].—President Roosevelt today received a recommendation for a national mediation board to handle rearmament labor disputes. It was handed him by Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins and William S. Knudsen and Sidney Hillman, directors of the Office of Production Management, at a White House conference.

Thus the administration was seen abandoning its pretense of overlooking the strike wave. Heretofore Secretary Perkins and Hillman have insisted that the labor disorders were having little effect on the program. Knudsen followed their lead but later reversed himself and came out for legislation to prevent strike tieups.

Yesterday Hillman admitted there were more stoppages than he liked to see and revealed that he has warned organized labor to end jurisdictional disputes. Details of the recommendation made to Mr. Roosevelt were not disclosed, altho it was admitted that several plans are under consideration—including 11 men, 7 men, and 5 men boards.

BOARD IS NAMED TO CO-ORDINATE RELIEF EFFORTS

Washington, D. C., March 13 (AP).—President Roosevelt appointed a three man committee today to recommend methods of coördinating the many private relief campaigns being conducted for war sufferers abroad and for persons in this country. He named Joseph E. Davies of Washington, former ambassador to Russia and Belgium, as chairman and Charles P. Taft, Cincinnati, and Dr. Frederick P. Keppel, president of the Carnegie corporation, New York City.

Mr. Roosevelt acted upon the suggestion of Secretary of State Cordell Hull, who noted that some 300 organizations were collecting contributions for foreign relief, that local welfare agencies must continue to rely on public support, and that some persons were planning campaigns to finance activities near new military camps.

"All of these efforts," Hull wrote the President, "are inspired by the finest human instincts, but there is growing danger that they may be frustrated if they are conducted without regard to one another and without proper coördination."

A WELL DRESSED BUFFET TABLE IS THING OF BEAUTY

Happy Selection of Food a Big Factor.

What foods the well dressed buffet table will wear depends on the ingenuity of the hostess. And probably no meal offers greater opportunity to display that ingenuity.

Attractiveness of the table is almost as important as the goodness of the food itself, so you will need to choose your menu wisely. And it's a good idea to select foods that are easy for the guest to handle. It goes without saying that the amount of silver and china used must be cut to a minimum.

Source of Suggestions.

With so many points to consider the hostess will do well to have a good buffet menu aid on hand. Mary Meade's little booklet "Buffet Suppers and Dutch Lunches," is just such a book. It gives you general suggestions on buffet service, menus, and recipes for only 3 cents [5 cents, by mail].

Other booklets by Miss Meade that will be helpful to the woman who likes to entertain informally are: "Hostessing with Sunday Suppers," [price 3 cents; by mail, 5 cents], "Tips on Tea Parties," [price 3 cents; by mail, 5 cents], "Catering to Bridge Appetites," [price 3 cents; by mail, 5 cents] and "Taste-Teasing Appetizers," [price 3 cents; by mail, 5 cents].

Other Booklets on Sale.

CHICAGO INCOME TAX PAYMENTS TOP 44 MILLION

Income tax collections to date are almost twice those of last year, Carter H. Harrison, collector of internal revenue, reported yesterday. From Jan. 1 until Wednesday 260,700 persons had paid $44,331,785. During the same period last year 117,925 persons paid $23,069,256. The largest individual tax paid so far, Harrison said, was approximately $250,000. The largest corporation tax paid was about 1 million dollars. Seventy-five thousand returns were received in the mail yesterday.

CORN FLAKES IMPART DELICIOUS CRISPNESS TO RHUBARB RECIPE

RHUBARB CRISP

½ cup butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
2 eggs
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon vanilla extract
1½ cups small toasted bread cubes
2 cups corn flakes
4 cups diced fresh rhubarb
½ cup sugar

Blend butter and ½ cup sugar thoroly; add eggs and beat well. Stir in nutmeg, flavoring, bread cubes, and corn flakes. Place half the mixture in buttered baking dish; arrange rhubarb evenly over top and sprinkle with ½ cup sugar; cover with remaining corn flakes mixture. Bake in moderately hot [375 degrees] oven about 35 minutes, or until rhubarb is done.

SHAMROCK SALAD WILL HELP TABLE WEAR THE GREEN

Monday is the day for your table to be "wearin' o' the green." Even a shamrock salad will help to celebrate. Make a green tinted gelatin salad and cut it in shamrock shapes. Here's an excellent recipe:

SHAMROCK SALAD.

1 tablespoon plain, unflavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
1 tablespoon sugar
1 cup fresh grapefruit, cut in cubes, or 1 small can of broken grapefruit
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup diced cucumber
Green vegetable coloring

Bring sugar and water to a boil. Drain grapefruit and add enough water to juice to make a half cup. Soften gelatin in grapefruit juice. Add to hot sirup and stir until dissolved. Add green coloring to tint delicately. Add salt and lemon juice. Cool. When mixture begins to thicken, fold in grapefruit and cucumber and turn into shallow pan. When firm, cut with shamrock cutter and unmold on lettuce or other greens.

BROILED SMELTS NEED CARE, BUT ARE WORTH IT

You can use this recipe for broiling smelts with other fish, but smelts are particularly luscious morsels when prepared this way. Larger fish should be placed farther from the flame after they are browned for further cooking.

BROILED SMELTS

1 dozen smelts
3 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon salt
½ tablespoon pepper
3 tablespoons flour

Small smelts are not always split open and cleaned, but the entrails are squeezed out carefully so the fish will not be bruised. Heads also sometimes are left on. Melt butter with lemon juice and seasonings. Wash and wipe cleaned fish and dip in melted seasoned butter, then roll in flour. Arrange on greased broiler rack in pre-heated broiler. Have rack two inches from flame. Brown and turn carefully to brown second side.

Solve Your Lenten Meal Worries for Only 3 Cents!

Don't let the planning of Lenten meals put a frown in your forehead. Get a copy of Mary Meade's "Pleasant Meals for Lent," containing recipes and menus for fast days. You can pick the booklet up for 3 cents at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street, and in the Tribune Tower lobby, or send 5 cents in stamps to Mary Meade.

Frozen Fish Takes Work Out of Meatless Meals

The use of frozen fish saves time and energy when meatless meals are prepared. The fish may be thawed at room temperature if you wish, or used frozen. In this case, add 5 to 10 minutes per pound to the usual time required for cooking.

BRAN-BEEF ROLL LEFTOVER DISH TOPS ORIGINAL

Leftover dishes sometimes are so good they're really an improvement over the original. This is that kind of leftover.

BRAN-BEEF ROLL

[Serves 6 to 8]

½ cup bran
¾ cup buttermilk
1½ cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
3 cups cooked beef [or other leftover meat] ground
¼ cup catsup
Salt to taste

Soak bran in buttermilk. Sift flour, baking powder, soda and the teaspoon of salt together. Cut in shortening until mixture is like coarse corn meal. Add soaked bran, stirring until dough follows fork around bowl. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead lightly. Roll or pat in rectangle ¼ inch thick. Combine meat and catsup and season to taste. Spread this mixture on dough and roll up like jelly roll. Bake in a hot [425 degrees] oven for 25 to 30 minutes.

Try a Milk Shake Surprise for Child's Lunch Dessert

Children love fruity milk shakes. Along with cookies they make an excellent lunch dessert. This particular drink is lightly spiced for extra palate appeal.

MILK SHAKE SURPRISE

[Four 6 ounce glasses]

3 cups milk, chilled
¼ cup pineapple, raspberry, or apricot preserves
⅛ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg

Domestic Fruits and Some Vegetables Quoted Low.

BY MARY MEADE.

If you were to take advantage of some of this week-end's very best food buys, your Sunday dinner menu might run something like this.

SUNDAY DINNER MENU.
Pork Loin Roast with Browned Potatoes
Cinnamon Apple Rings
Baked Onions
Orange and Prune Salad or Grapefruit and Cabbage Slaw
Rhubarb Pie

And that sounds like pretty good eating to this hungry bargain hunter. But you wouldn't need to stick to those foods in order to use bargains. While pork loin roasts, dry onions, and Irish potatoes are wearing some of the lowest price tags in the grocery, there are many other good buys which may be more suited to your fancy.

Have you served a broiled sirloin steak recently? A thick sirloin, cut into serving pieces at the table, seems to stretch a little farther than individual broiled steaks.

More than one store is featuring sirloin and round steak at less than 30 cents a pound—not a price at which to turn up your nose. Beef rib roast costs you even less per pound, altho there probably is a little more waste, which you must consider before you call it the better buy.

Chuck roasts [to make into pot roast] are still cheaper, tho they are not anywhere near so low priced as pork roasts.

You'll find both slab and sliced bacon on the sale listings and in some stores, very excellent buys in leg and chop cuts of lamb.

Don't raise your eyebrows at the rather fancy prices tacked onto such fruits as grapes, honeydews, peaches, and plums—these out of season tidbits came to Chicago all the way from South America. They're definitely luxury items, but very nice if you can afford them. Not all stores handle them.

Domestic Fruits in Reach.

There are plenty of domestic fruits within the reach of even a thin little budget pocketbook.

Apples are an excellent buy for this time of year, when they ordinarily are scarce and selling at a premium. There are apples galore and the price has remained low this year.

Oranges and grapefruit continue to be the best all around fruit buys, however. They're still tops in high quality and low price.

The fact that rhubarb comes from a hothouse [very little of it is field grown in this blowsy weather, you know] doesn't seem to lessen its good qualities at all. In fact, it's hard to beat the bright pink color and tart flavor of the sauce and pies you make from rhubarb on the market now. You'll run across some extremely reasonable prices on it.

Usually at about this time, Louisiana begins sending strawberries up north for your dinner table. But the Louisiana crop is late this year and you probably won't see any really good berries from that state until late in the month. Florida still is shipping berries, however. The Florida berries still bring rather high prices and you will need to watch the boxes for quality. Avocadoes and winter pears are good buys.

In addition to extremely low priced dry onions and potatoes, you'll find bargain counter vegetable buys in lettuce, spinach, and new cabbage.

Most of the salad greens are a pretty good buy, but cauliflower, green beans, green peas, and tomatoes are bringing rather high prices. Broccoli, beets, and turnips are moderately priced.

Spring reminders, peas, shallots, and asparagus dropped slightly in price this week. And if that bit of news doesn't put you in a mood to anticipate the coming season, it may help to know that there are some watermelons in town this week. They're much too high and too few and far between for Mr. and Mrs. Average Consumer to consider, but they are here and they came from Cuba.

Lenten Season Reminders.

You'll be well aware that the Lenten season is on, for such foods as cheese, macaroni, spaghetti, canned and fresh, and frozen fish are all right up on the front of the counter. The better fish buys include smelts, rough fish [buffalo, cod, and similar varieties] sauger pike, frozen halibut, and salmon and most of the frozen fillets.

This next week is prune week and you'll find some good buys in this branch of the dried fruit department. A word about sizes might not be amiss.

As in most fruits, the lower the size number the larger the fruit. This is so because the size number is the actual number of individual fruits which can be packed in a crate.

In prunes the size number indicates the number of prunes in a pound. Sizes 15-20 are the largest prunes and are most suitable for dessert and salad use. Other large prunes are 18-24 and 20-30. The next size range runs from 30-40 and so on up to the smallest prunes, size 120.

Small prunes contain just as much nutritive value as the large ones, but are less attractive when served whole. Since they are cheaper, they're excellent for dishes which use chopped prunes.

APPEAL TO TASTE FOUND IN TENDER STEWS OF MEAT

There's Art in Choosing the Vegetables.

If it's a good stew, just one whiff will make you hungry, and when you take a peek at the brown meat, and rich gravy—u-m-m!

There are all kinds of stews, varying with the meat and vegetables you use and a knowing way of putting them together.

For meat you have beef, lamb, and veal cuts from which to choose. Since stew meat is cut into relatively small pieces, odds and ends of meat cuts, too irregular in shape for other cookery methods, can be used, and, of course, you'll select one of the less tender cuts.

If it's a beef stew you crave, ask for meat from the neck, brisket, plate, short ribs, chuck, flank, or the heel of round. The neck, breast, shoulder or flank cuts of lamb and veal are used for stewing. Have the butcher cut the meat in 1 or 2 inch pieces.

Choice of Vegetables.

As for vegetables, don't think you must stick to potatoes, peas, carrots, and celery. You have the entire list of vegetables from which to choose. And you can have any that please your fancy, tho it is a pretty good idea to pick those which are contrasting in color, flavor, texture, and shape.

To dredge or not to dredge the meat is a matter of personal choice. If you prefer a light stew you will neither dredge nor brown your meat before adding the water.

If you do dredge it in flour season the flour with salt and pepper first. Then brown your meat well in hot fat, making sure the browning is uniform on all sides of each little piece of meat. Some cooks brown a little sliced onion with the meat.

Don't Overcook the Meat.

After the meat is browned turn the heat low and add water just to cover the meat. Cover and cook at simmering temperature until the meat is tender. Be careful not to let the water boil at any time. It will require 1½ to 2 hours for the meat to become perfectly tender. The exact time will depend on the size of the pieces. Avoid cooking until the meat is so tender that it breaks apart and loses its shape.

Generally stews have a better flavor when the vegetables are cooked with the meat. You will need to know approximately how much cooking time is required for each vegetable, and add it just in time to be tender when you're ready to remove the meat from the heat.

Remove the meat and vegetables and arrange them attractively on a platter. Stews look good when made in a casserole and topped with dumplings or baking powder biscuits. This type of stew or meat pie is usually backed at a very low temperature [about 250 degrees]. The biscuits or dumplings are put on in just enough time to become done and the temperature is set up to the proper one for the baking.

Making the Gravy.

After the meat and vegetables have been removed from the cooking kettle [a heavy one is best for stews, by the way] thicken the remaining liquid with a flour and water paste. Pour the thickened gravy over the meat or serve it separately, as you prefer. If your stew is the biscuit topped variety you will need to thicken it before putting on the biscuits.

You needn't have potatoes with your stew—macaroni, spaghetti, rice, and, of course, dumplings or biscuits are all perfectly good companions to a stew.

The final test is in the taste, so be sure you add those seasonings with a careful hand. If you make your stew with celery and onions you may need no other seasoning than salt and pepper, but here are a few spices and herbs that will lift your stew out of the ordinary. Bay leak, celery seed or salt, parsley, thyme, marjoram, cloves, pepper corns, curry powder, and onion or garlic salt. Taste as you add.

HOW TO PREPARE CALF'S TONGUE FOR BAKED MENU

Tongue is not a tender cut of meat and never is really roasted, altho parboiled tongue which is then baked sometimes is called roasted tongue. Calf's tongue or smoked tongue usually are preferred for this method of cooking.

Roasted Calves' Tongues.

Have the tongues fresh. [Calf's tongue weighs from one to two pounds and one pound will serve four.] Boil until just tender enough to allow the skin to be removed easily. Remove skin and then lard with salt pork. If you do not have a larding needle, cover top of tongue with strips of salt pork. Roast in slow to moderate oven [300 to 350 degrees] until tender, about one hour. Baste during roasting with a little meat stock and butter, into which an onion has been sliced. Fifteen minutes before removing from oven, sprinkle tongue with very fine buttered bread crumbs. Turn oven up to 450 degrees and brown well. Make a gravy of the pan drippings, adding a little lemon juice or vinegar for flavor.

When smoked tongue is cooked by this method, it usually is parboiled until entirely tender and then covered with the crumb mixture and baked for about half an hour. Baste during baking with wine or stock.

What Happens to Meat When Cooked Too Long

When meat is cooked, juices drip from it and the meat shrinks in size. The higher the temperature and the longer the cooking time, the greater the shrinkage. Increased shrinkage means not only fewer servings and loss of nutritive value, but lessens the tenderness, flavor, and juiciness of the meat.

Cranberry Cole Slaw Goes Fine with Fish Course

Fish for dinner? Then try serving cranberry cole slaw with it. Add tiny cubes of canned cranberry sauce to your favorite cole slaw recipe to make the salad. The tart cranberry flavor is as complimentary to the taste of the fish as its bright red color is to the looks of the slaw.

Try Mayonnaise in Your Next Salmon Croquettes

When next you make salmon croquettes try adding a little mayonnaise to the salmon mixture. Use ⅔ cup mayonnaise and 1½ cups cooked rice to 2 cups flaked salmon. Add salt, pepper, Worcestershire sauce, parsley, onion, and lemon juice to flavor.

WINS 3 to 1 WITH WOMEN FOR WASHING DAZZLING WHITE

ABSOLUTELY! THERE ISN'T A SOAP MADE TODAY THAT CAN BEAT AMERICAN FAMILY FOR SAFE, WHITE WASHES!
KIRK'S AMERICAN FAMILY WHITE FLAKES

AMERICAN FAMILY SPEED FLAKES

OVERWHELM ALL OTHER SOAPS IN INDEPENDENT CITY-WIDE POLL OF HUNDREDS OF CHICAGO WOMEN

WHY experiment any longer, trying to find the laundry soap that will make your white clothes look really white? Here's the answer of hundreds of experienced Chicago housewives in an independent city-wide vote!

By overwhelming odds they voted American Family Speed Flakes the winner over all other soaps for getting clothes white! . . . Chose it by more than 3 to 1 over any other soap—even including strongest granulated soaps—for turning out washes dazzling white and bright!

First Choice For Safety, Too!

Yes, these amazing flakes won by a landslide for safe washing too. The impartial interviewers called on one housewife after another—and the final count showed: American Family Speed Flakes received more votes than all other soaps combined for washing white with safety! More votes than all other granulated soaps, chips and powders put together!

Remember these housewives voting were all practical women like yourself. With nothing to gain or lose, they simply told which soap they preferred—from their experience over countless washdays. When you consider their washing problems are so much like yours—why miss out longer on American Family Speed Flakes?

American Family Flakes are especially made for the hard water of this area. They're safer for delicate colors and fine fabrics than strong granulated soaps. Safer for your hands, too. And recently these flakes have been marvelously improved! Made tissue-thin so they suds up almost instantly! No "mysterious" new chemicals added. These flakes are simply marvelously rich in soap content, packed with safe washing power!

Get American Family Flakes at your grocer's today—the winner with Chicago women, by more than 3 to 1 over any other soap—for getting clothes dazzling white and bright!

HOW WOMEN VOTED

On all sides of Chicago, hundreds of women who do their laundry at home were interviewed by an impartial research organization. And asked which washday soap they chose for (1) whiteness, (2) safety, and (3) best results in washing machines. Here's their choice and how they voted.

☑ FOR WASHING WHITE
American Family Speed Flakes won by more than 3 to 1 over nearest competing soap.

☑ FOR WASHING SAFELY

☑ FOR WASHING MACHINES

THE WINNER WITH ME, TOO!

BARRETT PROBING LINK BETWEEN RELIEF AND VOTES

Studies Million Dollar Swindle in 1934-'36.

George F. Barrett, Illinois attorney general, announced yesterday in Springfield that he is investigating any possible connection between vote thefts and $1,100,000 fraudulently obtained by relief clients from 1934 thru 1936.

Barrett said 8,000 relief clients who received money thru false claims of poverty had been allowed to sign promissory notes and still owe the state $740,000. Seventy per cent of the offenders were employed when they were receiving relief, he asserted, 25 per cent had concealed assets, and the remaining 5 per cent had other means of support.

To Look for Vote Links.

"I am going to determine whether vote thievery was not one of the main underlying motives of this fraud," Barrett said. "There have been many charges that machine politicians controled thousands of votes by threatening to take people off relief. This new investigation probably will furnish proof that the same politicians controled many other votes by illegally putting people on relief."

Relief officials said the promissory note technique was adopted as the best hold on cheating clients when the bureau of restitution was created on Jan. 2, 1934. Records of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission show the bureau has handled 8,900 claims, and that as each fraud was discovered the perpetrator was removed from the rolls.

Bureau records disclosed total claims against clients of $1,094,953, compared with payments of $350,863 to Jan. 17, 1941. IERC employés declared that the $1,094,953 paid to relief cheaters is a small percentage of the $334,300,302 paid out to July, 1936.

Some Pay in Full.

Full payment has been made by 3,317 of the clients who signed promissory notes, records show; 3,103 or 34 per cent have paid claims in part, and 2,480 or 27.9 per cent have made no payments to the commission.

Leo M. Lyons, executive secretary of the IERC since January, 1936, said that where court action was indicated it was taken and the decision was left to the court.

"There has been nothing secret about these frauds," he said. "A report has been made at each monthly meeting which is open to the press."

Wilfred S. Reynolds, executive secretary from 1932 until Lyons took office, said the promissory note technique was adopted on his recommendation after a thoro study as the most effective way of discharging the responsibility.

Shamrock Topped Salmon Pie

It's a lucky day when you serve shamrock topped salmon pie. This is how you make the St. Patrick's day special: Drain and flake 2 cups canned salmon and add 1⅓ cups cooked peas. Make a white sauce using 3 tablespoons flour and 3 tablespoons shortening to 2 cups milk. Season with ½ teaspoon salt and pepper to taste. Add salmon and peas and turn into casserole. Make biscuit dough by cutting ¼ cup shortening into 2 cups shifted flour which has been resifted with 3 teaspoons baking powder and ½ teaspoon salt; stir in milk to make soft dough (about ⅔ to ¾ cup). Roll to ¼ inch thickness and cut in shamrock shapes. Top casserole with biscuits and bake in hot (425 degree) oven for 20 to 25 minutes.

CAFETERIA UNION IS BARRED FROM VIOLENCE IN WRIT

Judge Philip J. Finnegan issued an injunction yesterday restraining the Cafeteria Employés union, local 716, from "threats and acts of violence" in connection with a strike called Tuesday at the New Lorraine cafeteria, 419 South Wabash avenue.

Abe Teitelbaum, attorney for the owner, George J. Brahos, charged that union pickets had interfered with customers and threatened employés. He said the strike was called after Brahos discharged a worker for cause, a right he was given under a contract signed Feb. 1 with the union, which is an affiliate of the Hotel and Restaurant Employés International alliance [A. F. of L.].

Martin E. Mitchell, secretary and treasurer of the union, denied that the pickets had engaged in violence or abusive language. He said that 24 of the 29 employés struck when Brahos violated the contract by allowing them 50 cents each for food instead of providing "two wholesome" meals a day.

Green Proclaims April 6 as Army Day in State

Lincoln Park to Have Giant Shamrock Display

A giant shamrock, fashioned from 800 normal sized trifoliate leaves, will be on exhibition in the Lincoln Park conservatory over St. Patrick's day, the Chicago park district announced yesterday. A smaller exhibit of shamrock and watercress will be displayed in the Garfield Park conservatory. The displays will be ready today.

CARROT CAKE, ORANGE-LEMON SAUCE! O, BOY!

This Really Is Colorful Dessert Treat.

CARROT CAKE

½ cup shortening
1¼ cups sugar
3 eggs
1½ cups grated carrot
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1¾ cups sifted flour
¾ cup milk

Cream shortening and sugar together until light and fluffy. Add egg yolks and beat mixture well, then stir in the grated carrot and orange rind. Sift the remaining dry ingredients and add them alternately with the milk; add the egg whites, which have been beaten until stiff, folding them into batter. Turn mixture into a greased pan and bake in a moderate [350 degrees] oven for about one hour, or until done. Serve with orange-lemon sauce.

ORANGE-LEMON SAUCE

1 cup sugar
4 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ cups water
4 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
4 tablespoons orange juice
3 tablespoons lemon juice

Mix together the granulated sugar, flour, and salt and add water, stirring in gradually. Cook in top of double boiler until thick and clear, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and add butter, orange rind, and orange and lemon juice. When cool, pour sauce on cake and serve.

2 ICE BREAKERS CLEAR CHANNEL INTO MONTREAL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., March 13.—Smashing their way thru thick ice in the St. Lawrence river ship channel, two big ice breakers of the government fleet were off the Island of Montreal today, and are expected to open the harbor this week-end. They broke 70 miles of solid ice to reach Montreal from Three Rivers, Que., taking two weeks to do the job. Altho the initial cut has been made, the river may not be clear of ice for another month. The vessels will be engaged in widening the channel during the coming weeks. Opening of ocean navigation at Montreal, however, will be wrapped in secrecy, as it was last year.

The Importance of MEAT

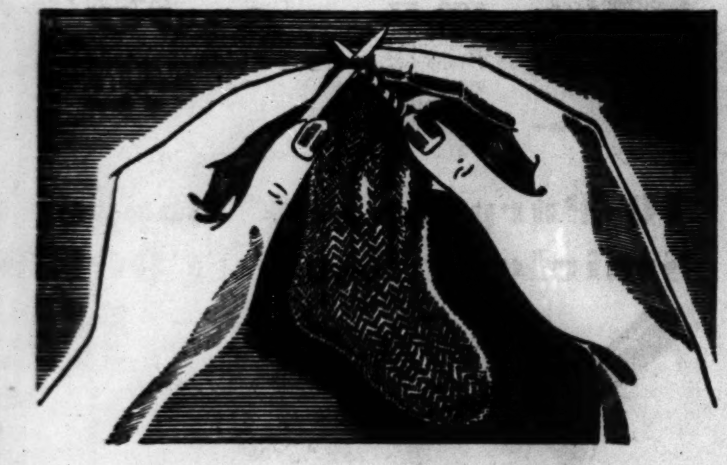
When the Stork Hovers



What a glorious time of love and hope and expectancy for the wife . . . those months you wait . . . if you're healthy! . . . What a joy to look forward to—a bouncing, healthy baby. The modern physician is likely to say to expectant mothers: "When you're feeding two, I want you to eat meat!"

THE complete and excellent-quality protein in meat builds body tissues—and, Mother-to-Be, you're replenishing one set of tissues and building another.

Meat's minerals (copper and iron) help build good, red blood and its phosphorus helps build strong teeth-to-come and bones-to-grow.

Meat is a liberal source of the vitamin B group which helps forestall certain ailments and nervous disorders which may have a tendency to develop during this critical time.

But besides meeting so many healthful objectives, isn't the grand, good, savory taste of meat another real blessing to the expectant mother? Consult your physician regarding the place of meat in your diet during pregnancy and during the nursing period.

If your Husband doesn't Purr when you pour the Coffee . . .

Better change to McLaughlin's MANOR HOUSE COFFEE

Did we say "purr"? Lady, don't be startled if your husband lets out a loud and lusty cheer when he first tastes Manor House! For it gives you what coffee-lovers dream about . . . full 100% flavor in every cup! And no wonder Manor House tastes twice as rich as coffees roasted by those new-fangled, hurry-up methods!

It's skill that counts in cooking food—or roasting coffee. And the McLaughlin's have the expert touch that comes from 89 years of experience . . . they're the 3rd generation of a family of famous coffee "chefs"!

First, they roast Manor House the way you broil a fine steak . . . over a slow, open flame . . . to seal all the delicate flavor oils in every single bean.

And then they grind Manor House so that your particular coffee-brewing method will release all this rich flavor—in the pot and in your cup. Manor House is the only coffee that comes in 3 scientifically correct grinds—for pot or percolator, drip or glass coffee-maker.

The smartest "bonnet" you ever saw protects Manor House! For a seal-tight cap and rubber ring thoroughly re-seal the fragrant, full-bodied flavor every time you close the jar. Thus, unlike other coffees, Manor House stays fresh after you open it . . . right through the last rich, satisfying cup!

FRESH when you buy it!
STAYS FRESH as you use it!
STILL FRESH through the last cup!

Every month, more than 6000 coffee-lovers graduate to McLaughlin's Manor House Coffee. You'll have to join them to know why they say it's the perfect coffee! So ask your grocer for Manor House today.

'Personality Psychologist' Is New Among Beauty Experts

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co. Inc.]

A "personality psychologist" is one to whom you may confide your beauty troubles and who, in turn, will direct you into more righteous beauty paths.

For instance, if you, like a certain Mrs. B., who consulted with one such director of human problems, kept your hands rigidly folded in your lap as you told that your hands are your great life tragedy, you would be informed they're only a tragedy because you are convinced on that point. You would be told that your hands are full of character, unusual, not ugly, perhaps showing signs of an unusual personality. You'd be told to show and use your hands blatantly, proceeding meanwhile to take advantage of every hand and nail grooming measure available; also, you'd be inducted into the art of graceful hand movement.

Or, a young girl snowed under in the belief that her pug nose, pop eyes and strawy hair, along with a farm home background, unsophistication, put her completely out of the running, as a likely popular co-ed! The handling of this type began with changing the girl's own conception of her looks. The success was not to make this girl into a pseudo-sophisticate, wise cracking nuisance, but to help her realize her good points and to understand that her own personality, richly developed, is more attractive than her conception of what "they" will like.

And that's how it goes with the personality psychologist who "treats" with a well balanced mixture of physchology and modern beauty treatment.

Blonde hair needs special treatment. Antoinette Donnelly, Tribune beauty editor, in her booklet, "Bring Out the Beauty in Your Hair," tells how to care for golden and platinum hair. Get a copy of this booklet at either of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 S. Dearborn street and Tribune Tower. Price, 5 cents. By postpaid mail, 7 cents.

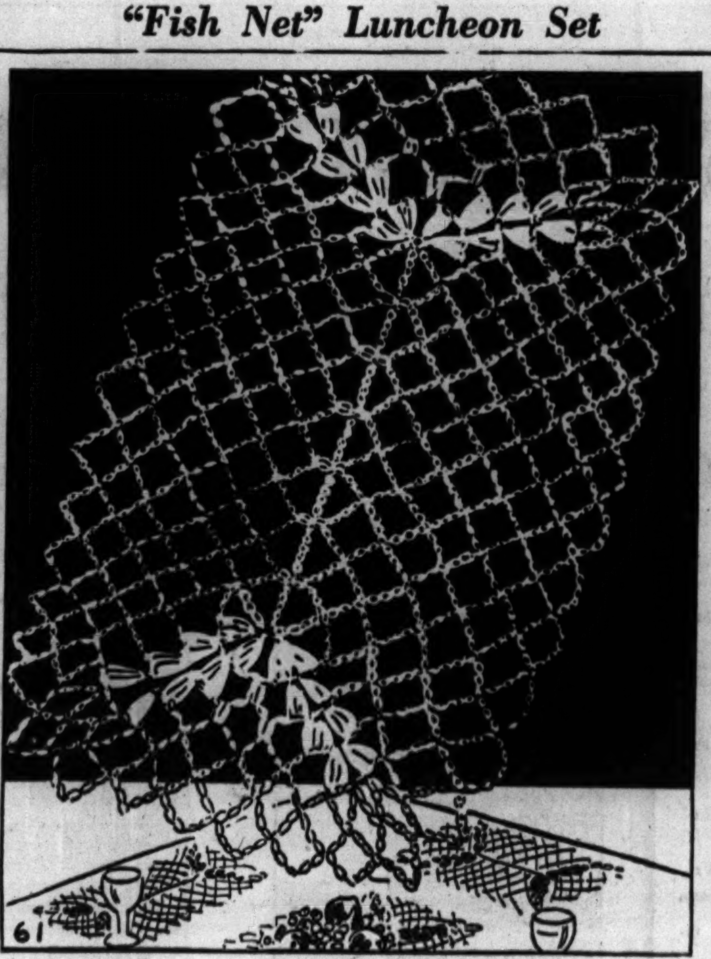
"Fish Net" Luncheon Set



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Here is a crocheted luncheon set which fairly exudes daintiness and charm as well as an air of fragility and freshness. It has the rather unpretentious title of "fish net" pattern, but when created of fine ecru crochet cotton, and stiffly starched, it has all the regal grandeur of the finest and most elegant of handmade laces. A couple of hanks of inexpensive crochet cotton are all required to make a set of four place mats and a runner.

For instructions in crocheting the "fish net" luncheon set, No. 61, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 5th avenue, New York City.

Many Objects Dangerous in Child's Hands

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co. Inc.]

He was only a little fellow of 7, strong and lively, with the best of parents and, as we say, "everything to live for." Yet he is dead today. His father, a patrolman, came in late, placed his service revolver in an unlocked desk drawer, and went to bed. The little boy, up early as younger children always are, found it, played with it, and was killed. A similar tragic story finds its way periodically into the news. People are incredibly careless with firearms.

Children ought not to be allowed to have things that are flagrantly dangerous to themselves or to other children. Neither should they have everything sharp or pointed kept away from them until, until when? At what age will you choose to turn them loose? When will they suddenly be able to do all these things without injury to themselves? Never can this sort of thing be done suddenly. Children need to be gradually educated into them.

Take, for instance, the matter of knives. A mother could start by letting the children use the kitchen knives; let them cut the cheese up in squares and help slice the potatoes. Satisfy that longing for a penknife by giving your small son a rather dull one, with rather round points and an easy spring. Teach him at the beginning not to walk around with an open knife, then gradually increase the sharpness. Follow some such plan with scissors; and, in a way, with hammers, saws, pincers, wrenches. Little by little, in this way, children acquire manual skill. After all, it is only by doing that they learn to do.

"You and Your Young Child" is a comprehensive booklet of interest to parents and nurses. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Address Mrs. Gladys Bevans, the Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.

Miss Courtney Louise Stillwell to Be Wed Today in Washington

BY JUDITH CASS.

INSTEAD of being married in the Argentine embassy in Washington, D. C., this afternoon Miss Courtney Louise Stillwell and Randall H. Hagner Jr. will be wed in Grace church, Woodside, Md., just outside of Washington. The change was made necessary because of the District of Columbia law requiring a lapse of five days between issuance of the license and the wedding. Unfortunately Mr. Hagner and Miss Stillwell were not aware of this tho the wedding had been planned back in January.

The bride is the daughter of Mme. Felipe Espil, wife of the ambassador from Argentina, and of Wellesley Hill Stillwell of Wye Hall, Queenstown, Md., formerly of Chicago. Mr. Hagner is the son of Mrs. Randall Hagner and the late Mr. Hagner, well known old Washington family.

The ceremony will take place at 4 o'clock, the Rt. Rev. James E. Freeman, Protestant Episcopal bishop of Washington, officiating. A reception will follow at the embassy.

The service will be attended only by members of the immediate families, the embassy staff, and a few close friends. Mrs. Frank Letts, the bride's maternal grandmother, has gone east for the ceremony, but her daughter, Mrs. George F. McLaughlin of Lake Forest, is prevented from being there because of illness. The Curtis Munsons of Chicago and Alberta, Mrs. Lawrence Tibbett of New York, and Mrs. John M. Gross of Bethlehem, Pa., are among those who will attend the wedding.

Sisters of Bridegroom Will Attend the Bride.

Mr. Hagner's sisters, Mrs. F. Moran McConihe and Miss Isabelle Hagner, will be matron and maid of honor. Miss Margaret Houghteling of Winnetka, Miss Elaine Darlington and Miss Sita Finkenstaedt of Washington will be bridesmaids. Homer A. Stillwell will give his sister in marriage.

Alexander Hagner will be best man for his brother. Ushers will be Samuel Biddle, Mr. McConihe, Britton Browne, Yelverton Garnett Jr., Thomas Moorhead, Middleton G. C. Train, George Y. Wheeler II., all of Washington, and Miguel Quirno-Lavalle, commercial attaché of the Argentine embassy.

Dozens of parties that have been given for Miss Stillwell and Mr. Hagner will be brought to a close today with a luncheon Mrs. McConihe is giving. Miss Houghteling gave a cocktail party yesterday, and last night Mrs. Hagner Sr. and Alexander Hagner entertained at dinner at the Sulgrave club.

Mr. Hagner and his bride are going to Bermuda on their wedding trip. They will make their home in Washington.

Conservatory of Music Observing Anniversary.

Memories of "the good old days," when "Hearts and Flowers" was a starred number in every musician's répertoire, when glass bells and waxed flowers perched atop the plush piano scarf, and when every young lady was devoted to her harp and singing lessons, are brought to mind by the diamond jubilee of the Chicago Conservatory of Music. The conservatory will give a celebration symphony concert at the Great Northern theater on Sunday.

In 1865, when the Chicago Conservatory of Music moved here after eight years in New York, pioneer Chicago sent its fashionable young ladies there to study the pianoforte and "cultivate" the voice. Mrs. Ferdinand W. Peck at 94 is one of the oldest living alumnæ of the conservatory. As Tilla Spaulding, reflecting all the beauty and glamor of old Budapest, where she was born, she plunged into the task of developing her lovely voice to suit the professional world of which she dreamed.

Romance interrupted the professional dreams, however, and after her marriage Mrs. Peck turned her talents toward the bringing of permanent grand opera to Chicago. It was largely thru the efforts of her husband that the Auditorium theater came into being.

Note for Bibliophiles.

An affair of interest to book collectors is the sale of the rare books and manuscripts collected by the late A. Edward Newton which will go on public sale in New York this spring. ". . . I remember distinctly that on occasions father had stated that he would like his library sold at auction to give other collectors the opportunity of enjoying the 'fun of the chase,'" says Swift Newton, son of the collector in the little brochure that serves as a catalog of the forthcoming sale.

How much will be bid for—and who will get the autograph manuscript of Thomas Hardy's Far from the Madding Crowd; Samuel Johnson's Dictionary [1775] in original boards, and the great lexicographer's silver teapot? How much will be bid for the five autograph letters from Oliver Goldsmith to David Garrick regarding She Stoops to Conquer, and who will be the fortunate new possessor of Charles Lamb's essay Dream Children?

The catalog for Part 1 of the auction, which will be held in middle April, includes William Blake items, Bibles, Pickwick Papers in the original parts, and other items. The catalog for Part 3 includes the Rubaiyat in original wrappers, the four folios of Shakespeare; Harriet Shelley's suicide letter to her sister, written a few hours before she drowned herself; and the original manuscript map of Stevenson's Treasure Island.

MODERN FLORA.

I visit some people supposedly sane,
I visit these people again and again—
They have plants growing out of a little dog's backy,

Cuff Notes.

Chicago newspaperman Robert Faherty has a new book out, Big Old Sun. People who have been spending their holidays in the Florida keys will be interested in the characters who people it, the Florida crackers and conchs, natives Faherty came to know well thru frequent sojourns in the Florida everglades and keys. . . . A friend who sees much of Paderewski at Palm Beach says the aging pianist is reading Rene Krauss' Churchill, Ambassador Dodd's Diary, and that he goes thru all the papers one by one, every column. He frequently receives letters addressed "Paderewski, U. S. A." When he had tea with Mrs. Roosevelt at her vacation spot at Golden Beach, Florida, he listened with interest to her ideas of a union of youth in all countries to isolate them from hate, after the war; to her statement that you cannot fight against things, you must, instead, fight for things. . . . Jeanne Marie Louise Louis Phillipe du Chalet de Bourbon de Condé de Longueville Loughran is a 16 year old freshman at the University of Chicago. She signs her name Jeanne Marie Loughran.

Music Notes

The Concordia College choir of Moorhead, Minn., directed by Paul J. Christiansen, will give concerts at 4 and 8 p. m. Sunday at the United Lutheran church, Ridgeland and Greenfield avenues, Oak Park. Thirty-nine Lutheran churches of the Chicago district are sponsoring the concerts, which are to be benefits for the Lutheran Deaconess and Nurses home.

The combined musical clubs of the Illinois Institute of Technology will give a concert in the Goodman theater tonight under the direction of O. Gordon Erickson. Use of special light and color effects is expected to enhance the effectiveness of the program.

Rachmaninoff Conducts Own Work 'The Bells'

BY EDWARD BARRY.

The world at large may swoon as much as it likes over Sergei Rachmaninoff's Second Symphony and Second Piano Concerto, but to the composer himself the 28 year old choral symphony, "The Bells," is dearer than either of these. He came to Orchestra hall last night to conduct it in person on the occasion of its long delayed Chicago première.

To work with he had the Chicago Symphony orchestra, the Apollo Musical club, and the following soloists: Janet Fairbank, soprano; Jan Peerce, tenor, and Mack Harrell, baritone.

Based on Edgar Allan Poe's poem of the same name, "The Bells" is a musical embodiment of four emotions associated with the sound of bells—gaiety [sleigh bells], joy [wedding bells], terror [fire bells], sorrow [the bells of death or national calamity].

Just as Poe's virtuosity with words redeemed a rather childish idea and made it somehow important and beautiful, so Rachmaninoff's virtuosity as a musician allowed him to build still higher on the same foundation and to create a work of extraordinary nobility and giantlike power.

Its power and drive are especially in evidence in the third movement, wherein the alarum bells are shrieking "in a mad expostulation with the deaf and frantic fire." Here the music takes on the very quality of terror, and in last night's presentation the performers worked with a momentum and abandon which heightened the effect immeasurably.

A much more elusive quality—that inherent in the tinkle of sleigh bells and in the "crystalline delight" with which the stars themselves are asserted to view the scene—is nicely caught in the first movement. The second is all mellow and molten gold, as befits a division of the piece devoted to the slow, delighted swing of wedding bells. The fourth is ominous and chilling, full of the moaning and the groaning of the bells.

Preceding the performance of "The Bells," Mr. Rachmaninoff conducted his own Third Symphony, a work much less songful and less immediately attractive than the Second.

Looking at Hollywood By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., March 13. — The Florida boom in the movies continues—but not without repercussions. Republic has bought a new novel by Theodore Pratt, "Mercy Island," which deals with the Florida fishing fleet. John Wayne will have the lead if the script can be readied in time to get in ahead of C. B. De Mille's "Reap the Wild Wind," another Florida story for which Wayne is already set.

Darryl Zanuck has had a yawp from John B. Kingsley, president of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, who wrote, "It has been called to my attention that you have a motion picture company on location in Miami. . . . I know that you realize that Hollywood leads the world in styles, climate, color, etc., and that I need not go into detail in connection with these obvious facts. Inasmuch as I understand that you have already started shooting in Florida, I realize that it is too late to rectify the mistake. However, I do most strongly protest your sending any of our stars there. I know that you would not want to risk the loss of a great sum of money by having your sets ruined and your equipment damaged, and we certainly do not want to see any of our motion picture people injured, all of which is very likely in one of Florida's famous hurricanes."

On the "Before the Fact" set Joan Fontaine tells a war story she got from a friend in England about a janitor whose duty was that of all janitors—to make sure all tenants got into the shelter during an air raid. One time a woman living on the fifth floor was slow coming down. The janitor yelled for her to hurry and she said she'd be down as soon as she found her teeth. "What do you think they're dropping," exploded the janitor, "sandwiches?"

Harry Stradling, camera man, is bugs about twigs. Has to have them in every scene—only you don't see them. He's shooting "Before the Fact" and it looks silly when he puts some small tree branches beside the camera in a house interior. But he claims their shadows make the best light patterns for any kind of shot.

Stradling lensed "They Knew What They Wanted." The day after the picture was finished Carole Lombard sent everbody the customary presents of perfume, jewelry, and pipes—but to Stradling she sent a 45 foot live elm. The camera man couldn't very well use it because he lives in a fourth floor apartment. He finally located a friend who'd take the tree—but it cost him $30 for extra trucking. Next Harry filmed "Mr. and Mrs. Smith." Next day, however, four big truckmen arrived at his home—with a six inch Christmas tree.

Cary Grant, who confesses that years of being goggled at have made him nervous, has equipped the rear side windows of his new four seater coupe with a trick dark glass you can't see thru from outside.

INSTALMENT XI.
OVERPOWERED.

"She's a great character, Hertha," Twysden said warmly. "There aren't so many of her kind these days. The right woman; the deeply feminine, home-loving, stanch, kind. . . . You saw for yourself. She's fonder of Darmal than his own granddaughter."

"He seems as fond of her."

"And why not? She's been the real daughter, looking after him and his house, the one he's been always best able to turn to while Sigi's gadding around . . ."

"What was Hertha doing when she danced with you?"

"O, well, even a girl like that must have some relaxations," Twysden said. "And she's young and full of spirit, too, and good to look at."

"Darn good to look at," Don Barron grinned, a little uncomfortable under Twysden's ardor. Had the fellow been in love with her long, he wondered?

"And Darmal?" Don asked. "What is Darmal, and why are we all stirred up about him?"

"Finance, I think. He was one of the big fellows behind the scenes, especially in chemical industries and chemical munitions plants . . . another Fritz Thyssen, I fancy."

"That the reason why they want to prevent his escaping abroad like Thyssen—he knows too much?"

"It's more than likely. He'd be in the know of many war secrets. But it's finance, too. One doesn't know for certain. You saw for yourself he's a tight clamped fellow, but from all I can gather, his knowledge and signature are needed for the release of an enormous amount of cash tied up abroad, mainly in the United States. The Nazis want that cash badly, so they're moving heaven and earth to catch him and squeeze it out of him. I hear it runs into millions."

"Is it Nazi money?"

"I don't think so—not necessarily. Darmal was never a figure in the party, altho like all German industrialists, he used his money to build up big national concerns. But, like most of 'em, there were always strained feelings between him and Adolf.

"They think his crazy dreams can only end in a German disaster. That's why big men like Thyssen and Darmal have found ways of shifting more and more capital abroad, the wilder he grew. His plunging Europe into war and his linking with bolshevism were the last straws. Some of them, as you know, got out quick, as Thyssen did. Darmal hoped he could carry on and help to restore Germany to sanity. Maybe he's been working underground on those lines—and they found out. Anyhow, quite suddenly they went after him and he had to run for it—and he's been running ever since. Only the fact that he has powerful friends, both here and in the United States, has prevented his capture so far—but the ring is getting tighter and tighter."

"And the girls—how is it they're still outside prison?"

"Hertha's been on the run with him. Most of his escapes are hers too. Sigi—well, that holds largely for her. But she has underground connections that help her——"

"Connections that lead to Putteamus and the Gestapo, you think?"

"Well, one can only read the signs . . . and she moves about more freely than Hertha, and is still untouched."

"That's that," Barron frowned. "There's also the fact that Darmal's still free—where does her connection with the Gestapo figure there?"

"I don't pretend to understand the workings of it," Twysden scowled. "There may be underground reasons. Darmal has just the luck to get ahead of the hunt so far, but—but——"

"You don't trust Sigi—as Hertha does?"

"Hertha," Twysden seemed glad to twist away, "she's born loyal. A big nature like hers won't see meanness in anybody she loves."

"And Darmal?"

"I don't think he's so sure," Twysden frowned. "You can't tell with an aloof mind like his, but now and then he's critical. It takes all Hertha can do to persuade him."

"And she can, I take it?"

"Sure thing. He knows he can rely on her. She's the apple of his eye."

Don Barron found that easy to appreciate when they made their way back to the shack. Even in that short time, Hertha seemed to have added to the comforts of that crude, bachelor dwelling. She had even concocted a meal that made Don Barron ask her if she had managed to sneak into Putteamus' kitchen and steal his best party dishes.

"This is just the homey German girl on her mettle," she laughed at him. "You must forgive Alice-Sit-by-the-Fire if she makes the most of her chance of showing her few talents."

Hertha had done more than cook. She had managed to charm the old man into complete acceptance of their plan. At first it had seemed far too violent and headstrong for one of his age and character. Hertha talked him around, showed him it was Sigi's plan or nothing, so that when the hour came for him to put on his heavy coat, he did it with his strange air of inevitability and came with them into the night without protest.

They left him and the girl and their bundles of clothes well concealed by shrubs close to the birches, and Don Barron and Twysden crept across the drive and thru the trees until they came to the great gravel bay in front of the castle.

There were not too many lights because of black-out regulations, but there were enough of them to serve. A whole mob of cars had already arrived and only belated ones were swinging up. Even these ceased and the hubbub of talking, laughter, and even shouting that marked the assembly of the guests presently dwindled and died away altogether as the party moved off to the banquet hall, presumably at the back of the house. No cars arrived after this. It would need a strong nerve to arrive late at a Gestapo feast.

Don Barron and Twysden learned a lot by waiting and watching. Sigi had been right. Every car, save one, was parked in a regimented mass on the far side of the gravel—leaving the great space largely bare. The exception was the one car that stood beside the porch; a monster Benz in gleaming white enamel, its dim red headlights pointed toward the drive.

Many of the other cars had been owner driven, but some had chauffeurs. Their fear that some of these would remain by their machines was soon dispelled. Every one of them, once he had parked his car, moved off behind the laurels where, as Sigi had told them, the kitchens lay.

In time there was no sign of life in front of the building, and they actually thought that the big Benz had been deserted, so dark and lifeless was its interior. Then, just as Barron was about to warn Twysden for action, a tall figure came thru the laurels and made for the Benz. He seemed to be wiping his mouth as tho finishing the last mouthfuls of a meal. As he drew near the car he called out something. The driving door opened, and a shorter, stockier figure came out.

The pair stood talking for half a minute, then the stocky figure moved away toward the laurels, exchanging cracks as they separated; the tall man by the car shouting something just as the other vanished. Instead of getting into the car, however, the chauffeur lit up a cigar, and began to pace up and down beside it.

Twysden swore with soft violence: "Gosh, that's torn it. . . . If he's going to sentry-go like that, how the hell can we rush him?"

"We'll work around to those laurels," Don Barron whispered.

It wasn't so hard. Short grass ran behind the trees and shrubs bordering the gravel. They arrived at the laurels quickly, silently, and unseen.

"Get that rubber truncheon of yours out," Don Barron whispered. "Stay by the path here. Slug any one who comes along from the kitchen—and be quick on the jump when I call."

He walked out into the open gravel bay toward the porch. He walked with a little crouch as tho carrying something. Halfway across he called in German: "Hey, Erich—got dry yet?"

The tall chauffeur wheeled—Barron had timed that, stared, called back: "So, Ludwig, a drink?" He made a quick stride toward Barron.

He did not realize it was not his co-chauffeur until he was five feet from the American. But by then Barron was in action. He had jumped and slugged. He used his fist, because it was a surer weapon than the unaccustomed rubber club. And he was right. Erich took it on the point and went down in a heap.

Spring Blouses Boast Ruffles, Frills, Jabots

BY REA SEEGER.

Spring blouse collections are sensationally unusual, unusual in design, in flattering sheer materials and in decorative detail. Eyelet embroidery makes some crisp smart affairs with simple round necklines with short sleeves and a belt band ready to wear over the skirt belt. Lace trims or edges the vertical chest tucks on another blouse and each tuck is further defined with a dainty band of fagoting.

Fine white mainsook is a brand new material; thin fine handkerchief linen is promised for an early arrival. These exquisite materials are most successful in the blouses that boast fine handwork and fine lace trim. The crisp organdies in plain and embroidered effects rate second in shopping popularity. Frills, jabots, and ruffled effects on the chest and round the cuffs and collar make up a large assortment in the various sheer materials, ideal suit blouses for any wardrobe.

Some beautiful handmade silk blouses come in ravishing pastel shades, maize, shell pink, azure blue, and white. These are extremely well tailored with tiny fagoted edged bib effects down the center front and the fagoting repeated round the collar and cuffs. Short and long sleeves are featured.

Excitingly new are the many filmy evening blouses, the kind you wear to top chiffon faille or dull crêpe and thin wool evening skirts. One especially decorative long sleeved find is of snow white marquisette thin as a film. Long full sleeves are gathered into tucks. The foldover collar can form one of those dangerously low vee lines. Others are of net, chiffon, and lace.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

For the past several days I have been discussing the new responses to an opening two bid, with special emphasis on the change that permits the responder to sidestep the negative two no trump answer if he holds a suit as good as Q J x x x, K x x x x, or any six card suit. In the new system such a suit should be bid in direct response, regardless of any outside strength or absence thereof. I have thoroly explained the reasons for and the advantages of this change, which I confidently expect will raise the slam bidding average by a great many percentage points.

Now I want to call attention to another type of response which is not new, but which is neglected by far too many players.

If your partner opens with a suit bid of two and you have good trump support for him [x x x x x or Q x x x] but no ace, king, singleton, or void in your hand, you should give a double raise. This is a warning limit bid. Consider the following hands:

WEST.	EAST.
♠ A Q J 3 2	♠ 10 9 8 6 4
♥ A K Q	♥ J 10 6
♦ A Q J 10	♦ 7 5
♣ 7	♣ Q J 10

West	East
2 spades	2 no trump
3 diamonds	4 spades
5 or 6 spades	Pass

Even at five spades West might be in trouble since there might well be a spade, a diamond and a club off the hands. Six spades would offer a terrible play. But when East announces that he has good trump support, but no ace, king, singleton, or void in his hand, there is no excuse for West's passing the four spade level, since a slam is patently a remote chance.

TODAY'S HAND.

North, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

	NORTH.
	♠ A K 10 7 4 ♥ A 7 5 ♦ 6 4 ♣ Q J 3
WEST. ♠ J 9 8 3 2 ♥ Q 9 4 2 ♦ 7 ♣ 10 8 4		EAST. ♠ Q 6 ♥ K 10 3 ♦ K 10 9 8 5 3 ♣ 9 7
	SOUTH. ♠ 5 ♥ J 8 6 ♦ A Q J 2 ♣ A K 6 5 2

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 spade	Pass	2 clubs	Pass
2 spades	Pass	3 no trump	Pass
4 clubs	Pass	4 diamonds	Pass
5 no trump	Pass	6 no trump	Pass
Pass	Pass

North's bidding, particularly his five no trump bid, was anything but conservative.

On the bidding, West's safest opening lead was a club, but he chose the fourth best heart. East won with the king and shifted to the ten of diamonds [a heart return would have done no good]. Declarer took the diamond finesse, then entered dummy with the club jack and took a second diamond finesse. The eight of hearts then was led to the ace, after which the rest of the clubs were run off. With all hands reduced to four cards, dummy held the A-K-10 of spades and the heart seven. East had the Q-6 of spades and the K-9 of diamonds. Declarer had the spade five, the heart jack, and the A-2 of diamonds. West was down to the J-9-8 of spades and the heart queen.

The lead of the ace of diamonds put West out of the running. In order to guard dummy's spade suit he had to let go the heart queen. Declarer then cashed the jack of hearts before leading his spade to dummy for the final two tricks.

Tomorrow's Hand

Life Just One Long Benefit at Palm Beach

BY INDIA MOFFETT.

Palm Beach, Fla., March 13.—Palm Beach is eagerly anticipating the arrival of the many school girls and boys who will be here for their spring holidays. At this time of year every one who has been here all season is a trifle jaded, a little weary of it all, especially this year for there really has been little doing except for British relief. And the weather most of the winter has not been of the kind that makes one want to spend every sunny hour on the beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rich, who live in El Bravo Way, are hoping that their son, Elmer Jr., will arrive from the Asheville school Saturday but an epidemic of measles may keep the Asheville boys in school until later. The three younger Rich children, Kenneth, Franklin, and Josephine Mary, are all attending day school in Palm Beach. Mrs. R. Joseph Rich and her daughter, Mrs. James G. Shennan, are spending a vacation in Palm Beach, where they will be joined by Miss Peggy Rich for her Easter vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. McLennan, who live just across the street from the Elmer Riches, will have their two sons with them this spring, too. Billy comes from Hotchkiss and Noyes from Yale.

Peter Malcolm is expected to arrive from Princeton next Tuesday to spend his vacation with Mr. and Mrs. George H. Malcolm at their home in North Lake Way. The former Durie Malcolm, Mrs. Firmin Desloge IV. of St. Louis, is with her parents at present. Mrs. James E. Bennett and her daughter, Miss Betty, are at the Breakers while Miss Bennett is convalescing from a recent appendectomy. They expect to be at home in time to welcome Barbara, the second daughter, when she arrives on the 20th for her vacation from Sarah Lawrence college. Ruth Ann will arrive in Chicago a few days after that from the Madeira school, and Joan and Janet, the twins and the babies of the family, already are in Chicago for they go to the Latin school.

Nelson Tevander Jr. will spend one week of his vacation from the Choate school in Palm Beach with his parents and the other week with Sir Harry and Lady Oakes in Nassau. Mr. and Mrs. Tevander have their granddaughter, the child of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Holman of Pennsylvania, visiting them now.

Miss Kathryn Lyon is coming from Dobbs Ferry tomorrow to spend her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Howard Lyon, and Miss Mary Lyon, at their charming home, Edge Worth, in North Lake Trail.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Cudahy are leading a quiet life this winter for Mrs. Cudahy still is convalescing from a serious illness. Edward I. Cudahy arrived last Saturday with his daughter, Leonore, and the William B. Cudahys, to occupy a house in Sea View avenue that he has leased for the remainder of the season. Miss Cudahy is recuperating from an injury to her knee suffered while skiing, so she is having a long vacation from studies at Vassar.

New Spectacle Opening Tonight

Michael Todd's Theatre-Cafe
CLARK AT LAWRENCE • CHICAGO

Mr. and Mrs. Chicago and Family:

Some time ago I wrote you a letter in which I made a lot of statements promising the seemingly impossible in entertainment value. Most of the 286,000 people who have seen the show at the Theatre-Cafe since its opening say I have more than lived up to my promise.

WELL, HERE I GO AGAIN . . . with another of those statements.

The new show that opens tonight, in my opinion, will be the biggest, the most thrilling, the most exciting and entertaining show ever to play Chicago. Come on out and see it . . . and I think you will agree with me.

Sincerely,
Michael Todd

P. S.
Of course, the same policy and prices will prevail. Admission is still 50c, plus 5c tax. Champagne and other cocktails are 25c. Dinners start at 75c.

gently and became entertainingly proficient on that celestial instrument.

The Carpenter family, whose talents have contributed so much to the history of music in Chicago, was represented at the conservatory by Miss Nellie Carpenter. The late Miss Carpenter made her debut in '72, and like all proper debutantes of the day, she could play the piano and could "sing sweetly."

Other Chicago families whose names were read off at early conservatory recitals included the Newberrys, Neffs, Boyntons, Stevensons, Shumways, Harmons, Hardings, Hadducks, Raymonds, Robinsons, Medills, Yoes, Zimmermans, Wurts, Noyeses, Belfields, Buckinghams, Barbours, Roots, Scribners, Kings, Pickerings, Stickneys, Nyes, Lesters, Hoynes, Harmons, Foremans, Fishers, Fullers, Schwabs, Swans, Halls, Gardners, and Gunns.

Dr. and Mrs. Loyal S. Davis' daughter, Miss Nancy Davis, is in Princeton, N. J., today to attend the Princeton prom tonight with Frank Birnie Jr. Next Wednesday Miss Davis will leave her classes at Smith to meet her brother, Dick, who attends the Boys' Latin school, in Chicago and together they will travel out to Phoenix to join their parents.

Maurice Evans Giving War Relief Benefit Sunday.

The Studebaker theater will be filled on Sunday afternoon for a performance by Maurice Evans, the celebrated Shakespearean actor, in a benefit for the British War Relief society. Mr. Evans, who is flying from New York for this appearance, has donated his services. He's not the only one helping to raise funds, for the box office operator is giving his services; the cloak room workers are turning their earnings into the fund, and the stagehand is contributing his services.

Mr. Evans will speak from a pulpit before a black backdrop. He is to have luncheon on Sunday with Robert M. Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, and Mrs. Hutchins. Mrs. Tilt Bissell is giving a tea for the actor after the performance. Ernest Byfield is giving a dinner later in the evening, and Mr. Evans will fly back to New York that night.

Mason Warner, travel writer of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, will show his color movies, "Thru Peru and Bolivia to Brazil," at a tea of the Towertown Friends of the Chicago Junior school this afternoon at the Lake Shore club. Proceeds of the tea will go to a fund for scholarships. Mrs. Lewis Miller, Mrs. John G. McDonald, Mrs. Walter Scott, and Miss Lucy G. Young will be hostesses.

Cliff Dwellers, College Club Having Symphony Teas.

Teas at the Cliff Dwellers and at the Chicago College club will follow the regular Friday concert of the Chicago Symphony orchestra this afternoon. Hostesses at the Cliff Dwellers will be Mrs. Cecil Barnes, Mrs. Ambrose Cramer, Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank Jr., Mrs. Kurt Adler, and Mrs. Nathan S. Davis. Mrs. D. I. Cochran, Mrs. Francis E. Broomell, and Miss Alberta Hanna will be on duty at the College club.

The Woman's College board of Chicago will hold its annual spring rally for prospective students now attending preparatory schools in the Chicago area at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Chicago Historical society. Miss Mary Ashby Cheek, president of Rockford college, will speak, and exhibits from the various schools which are members of the board will be shown. Mrs. Roger F. Sherman, Mrs. John F. Manierre, Mrs. Calvin Selfridge, Mrs. Edwin F. McDermott, Mrs. Robert Neier, and Mrs. Otto G. Schmidt will assist at the tea tables.

Private Schools Open Convention Here Today

The Private Schools association of the central states will open its annual convention today at the University club. This afternoon the session will hear discussions on preparation for national defense under the chairmanship of H. B. Barks, head of Baylor school, Chattanooga, Tenn. Paul B. Jacobson, principal of the University of Chicago High school, will preside at the Saturday morning session when "Work Experience for Youth," will be the subject. Herbert W. Smith, principal of Francis Parker school, will preside at the closing session.

Lecture by Dr. Koo.

Dr. T. Z. Koo, secretary to the World's Student Christian federation, will speak at a meeting of the Chicago Congregational Woman's fellowship to be held at the United Church of Hyde Park, 53d street and Blackstone avenue, today at 11 o'clock.

★ THRU THE LOOKING GLASS ★

Our idea of wealth would be a storehouse of fine, fragrant soaps. Orchids have their charm, and so do jewels, but if we had all the money in the world we wouldn't want too many of either. We couldn't have too many cakes of superior soap. Bland, beautifully scented soap ranks with us like fine, white, exquisitely monogrammed handkerchiefs. The possession of both, in abundance, is our simple notion of being rich enough to leer at fate.

◆

We see and sniff and use a lot of good soap in the course of time, our career being what it is, and we're bound to have pets. One of these is the soap made by an old, honored firm. It's been a favorite for a couple of generations.

Just the other day we got some of this. It's streamlined now—not packaged or even shaped as it was decades ago. But it's as good as ever it was, and in its new cake shape and new boxes is as smart as anything you can find.

◆

It's not terribly expensive, thank fortune. But it is good—very bland and smooth, beautifully perfumed and so easy on the skin that it's a special joy if you have thin skin. It doesn't leave it with the "stretched" feeling—at least that was our experience.

USE only a heaping teaspoonful of Stewarts coffee for each cup you wish to make. Yes that's right—a teaspoonful instead of the usual heaping tablespoonful.

Why? Because Stewarts Coffee is different—a heaping teaspoonful per cup is plenty. You see, Stewarts has an extra richness and deeper flavor that only genuine Sumatra coffee in the blend can give.

That's why thousands of delighted women say "Stewarts is the smartest coffee buy." They pay more per pound for Stewarts but get vastly finer flavor and 25 to 30 EXTRA cups per pound for real economy. Buy a pound of Stewarts today and prove it.

smart to serve —smarter to buy

PAROLE REFORM BILL APPROVED BY JUDGE TRUDE

Tells Disadvantages of Present System.

BY GEORGE WRIGHT.

Judge Daniel P. Trude of the Circuit court, one of the older and considered one of the most capable judges of that court, yesterday announced his support of the Ward-Rennick parole reform bill. He said confirmed criminals are the same as mad dogs and that it is time the community decides it is useless to "fuss with them."

The Ward-Rennick bill, now before the legislature, is designed to supplant the present indeterminate sentence act under which criminals are now sentenced to the penitentiary. Under the present system the parole board alone decides when a criminal should be released.

Gives Power to Judges.

The parole reform bill would place the sentencing power in the hands of the judges of the criminal courts. They would designate minimum and maximum sentences, and no criminal would be released until he had served his minimum sentence.

Judge Trude has been on the bench for 23 years. He spent 11 years in the Municipal court and for the last 12 years has been a judge of the Circuit court, much of the time in the Criminal court. He has made an exhaustive study of parole and penal problems as a member of the committee on the administration of criminal justice of the Chicago Bar association.

"I am in favor of the Ward-Rennick bill," said Judge Trude. "The proposed law in a measure preserves the indeterminate sentence and the parole law and eliminates administration difficulties. The bill is similar to laws which have been in effect in Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey for many years.

Abuses of Present System.

Judge Trude said there are two principal abuses of the present system: first the comparative ease with which repeaters and hardened criminals are able to gain early releases on parole, and second the difficulty encountered by some youthful first offenders in obtaining paroles.

In the case of repeaters and hardened criminals, the Ward-Rennick bill would give the trial court authority to increase the minimum time for incarceration, thus insuring that the prisoner will not be paroled too soon," said the judge. "It is further the purpose of the bill to prevent incarceration of a youthful first offender for an unreasonable period of time.

"The proposed law does not destroy parole. It merely gives the judges a share in its administration."

Judge Has No Voice.

Judge Trude said that a judge now has no voice in the period of time either a youthful first offender or a hardened, confirmed criminal should serve. They both get the same indeterminate sentence under the present law.

The judge said many first offenders can be saved to society by a short term in prison, but if they are kept too long, they become soured on society and distrustful of their fellow men.

"It is almost useless, however, to try to reform habitual criminals," said the judge. "Statistics show it cannot be done."

DEMANDS $38,363 IN LICENSE FEES FROM CITY CLERK

City Controler Robert B. Upham made a formal demand upon City Clerk Ludwig Schreiber yesterday for $38,363.90 which he said the clerk had received from the state during 1939 and 1940 as his share of fees collected in the sale of hunting and fishing licenses. The demand was part of a legal action started by the city and urged by Schreiber to determine whether the clerk has the right to keep the money. For many years the clerk had kept part of the fees in accordance with the state hunting and fishing laws. Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes held recently that this money should be turned over to the city.

Rep. Searle Reported Recovering in Hospital

Springfield, Ill., March 13 (AP).—Representative Clinton Searle [R., Rock Island] was reported much improved today at St. John's hospital where he was taken last night after suffering a heart attack at the governor's mansion. Searle will be required to remain in the hospital for several days.

Custody in Question

Altho Phillip Covnot Jr., 13 years old, ran away from the home of his divorced mother, Lila, at 5657 Race avenue, and altho he told Judge Rudolph Desort yesterday that he wants to live with his father, a salesman, the boy legally doesn't know which parent he prefers.

Citing Illinois Supreme court rulings, Judge Desort said young Phillip will not reach the age of "reason and discretion" until his 14th birthday March 27, and continued the case until that date. The boy was placed in his mother's custody last April 29, when she got a divorce on the ground of cruelty. He now lives with his paternal grandparents at 4845 Magnolia avenue.

The court also approved a report of Commissioner Charles C. Cooley holding that Covnot is not entitled to an accounting of $15 weekly support money paid Mrs. Covnot. She charged he was $64 in arrears, but Commissioner Cooley said an accounting was unnecessary where so small a sum was involved.

WOMAN'S CLUB URGES LAW TO CURB RAT PERIL

An ordinance to require the ratproofing of all buildings was urged yesterday by the Woman's City club in a letter to Ald. William A. Rowan [10th], chairman of the city council building and zoning committee. Mrs. H. H. Sidall, vice president and chairman of the club's clean city committee, asked Ald. Rowan to revive a proposed ordinance on rat-proofing which was filed with the building committee last summer.

Commissioner of Public Works Oscar E. Hewitt told members of the club recently that altho the city has exterminated 905,020 rats since September, 1939, there are 851,366 rats left in the city and most of those are on private property.

Mrs. John Sharpless Fox, president of the club, said the Chicago Real Estate board will be asked to coöperate in urging passage of the ratproofing ordinance.

45 TENANTS ROUTED BY FIRE.

Forty-five residents of a building at 4153 Kenmore avenue were routed last night when a basement fire sent clouds of smoke into the upper floors. The blaze started from a defective smoke pipe. Damage was slight.

SHERIFF JOINS BACK TAX DRIVE; 3 PAY UP $2,437

Collection of Judgments First Within Memory.

Sheriff Thomas J. O'Brien joined County Treasurer John Toman yesterday in the drive to collect unpaid personal property taxes. By threatening to seize their personal property and sell it within 10 days, he collected $2,437 from three business concerns against which court judgments for unpaid 1937 personal property taxes had been returned.

Sheriff O'Brien's action, the first of the kind in the memory of county officials, supplements Toman's, as the county treasurer is acting under a state law which authorizes him to seize and sell property for unpaid taxes in cases where no court judgment has been obtained.

All Three Calls Pay.

The sheriff got something from each concern he visited. The Continental Clothing house, Milwaukee and Ashland avenues, paid in full—$1,705. At P. F. Pettibone & company, lithographers, 27 North Desplaines street, he got $632 and a promise to pay the remainder of a $1,200 judgment in a week. From W. C. Foster Co., 322 South La Salle street, he got $100.

About 150 "live" judgments remain to be collected, and the office of State's Attorney Courtney promised full coöperation in obtaining renewals of "dead" judgments—those on which writs of execution expired after 90 days. The total was estimated at several million dollars.

Previously Sheriff O'Brien had refrained from seizing property to collect tax judgments because the county had not protected him with a bond as it is doing now.

Firm Pays; Halt Sale Order.

Meanwhile Edward Wendt and Joseph Jozaitis, owners of the Central District Furniture company, 3621 South Halsted street, appeared in Treasurer Toman's office and offered to pay $200 of the county's $1,652 claim for 1938 and 1939 personal property taxes, and to pay the remainder in monthly instalments. Toman accepted, and ordered a tax sale notice removed from the company's premises.

Foreclosure suits to collect $140,000 in real estate taxes were filed against 21 concerns and individuals in Circuit court yesterday by State's Attorney Courtney.

GEN. KEEHN AGAIN HEADS ILLINOIS ARMORY BOARD

Maj. Gen. Roy D. Keehn was renamed chairman of the Illinois state armory board at a board meeting yesterday. Other officers elected are: Col. Arthur E. Inglesh of Kankakee, vice chairman; Col. Nelson Morris, Chicago, treasurer; Philip Sanders of the state finance department, assistant treasurer; Joseph E. McGlynn of East St. Louis, secretary, and Thomas Breen, Chicago, assistant secretary. The board supervises the building of new state armories. A bill authorizing construction of 13 downstate armories is now pending before the legislature.

Better than a dozen hankies for opening STUFFY NOSTRILS

What's the use of soiling so many hankies, trying to blow mucus out of stopped-up nostrils? It only piles up the laundry bill. And remember, a lot of violent blowing only makes your nose more sore, red, unsightly, and it very often injures the delicate membranes.

A more economical and gentler way to relieve congestion in your nostrils due to a cold is to insert a little Mentholatum.

This delightful ointment will soon break up congested mucus, relieve the smothery feeling, and permit you to breathe normally through the nose. It also relieves sniffling, sneezing, swelling, soreness, and redness.

Mentholatum helps in so many ways that you should always remember this: For Discomforts from Colds—Mentholatum. Link them together in your mind.

BOSTON WINS THIRD HOCKEY TITLE IN ROW

CHICAGO BOXERS OPEN DRILL FOR INTERCITY SHOW

They All Want to Fight New York.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Harold Dade of Chicago and Clarence Bradley of Centralia, heavily helmeted and swathed in flannel shirts, let go with a furious exchange of punches in answer to the first bell of Chicago's Intercity Golden Gloves training season yesterday afternoon in the Illinois Athletic club gymnasium.

Under the eyes of Coach Johnny Behr and his assistants, they sparred in dead earnest because it was up to Dade to maintain the prestige of his bantamweight championship and it was up to Bradley to make a good showing in launching his fight for the other 112 pound place on the team which will meet New York in the Stadium on March 26.

The coaches sent nearly all members of the squad thru two rounds of hard sparring in an effort to determine just what kind of condition the boys were in, following their layoff since the Golden Gloves finals last week. While one pair was flailing away in the ring, two other youngsters were getting on their gloves and helmets—so as soon as one encounter was over, another began.

They're Fighting for Places.

There's just as much rivalry within the squad as there was in the recently concluded tournament because the places on the Intercity team will be awarded on a competitive basis, depending on just how good the lads look in the next 10 or 12 days of training. The champions, in particular, are on the spot every time they get into the ring because the other boys like nothing better than a chance to force the leader of their division into a tight corner and let him have a few effective rights and lefts.

Tho some of the boys are a bit overweight following their brief absence from the ring, most of them came back in excellent condition. Jack Haley, for instance, has been out in the open from morning to night every day he's been away. His job takes him into a state forest out in Kansas and there he whacks away at trees or clears trails. Tho he said he didn't have time to do a bit of road work during the interim, he returned looking and feeling as fit as he did when he pounded his way thru those great semi-finals and final bouts last week to win the featherweight title.

It's Too Cold for Hezzie.

Hezzie Williams, Chicago light heavyweight, doesn't mind road work but he wishes he could do it in the climate he was born in down in Mississippi. When Assistant Coach Pop Howard routed the boys out at 6:45 yesterday morning for a run thru the snow in Washington Park, Hezzie appeared with an overcoat, rubbers and earmuffs. Then he borrowed Pop Howard's gloves and still he was cold.

Tho the personnel of the squad is almost entirely new this year, the boys are rapidly getting to be good friends. Marty Dames has come in from St. Louis with some sleight of hand tricks that have been wowing his teammates during the evenings in the Illinois A. C., where the boys are quartered. Incidentally, Dames' tricks have become a source of expense to a number of persons who are willing to bet that they can outguess him.

It Isn't All Work.

The entire squad will be taken to the ice show in the Stadium this evening. Other entertainment features are planned for them thruout their training period.

They scanned reports of Wednesday night's New York finals, but weren't a bit worried about the prediction of eastern officials that New York's team is so strong this year that Chicago is in for a licking.

Chicago's bantamweight division apparently has something to be concerned about, inasmuch as New York's 112 pounders are headed by a puncher with the wallop of Diogenes Leon. But Dade expects to take care of him in the intercity show.

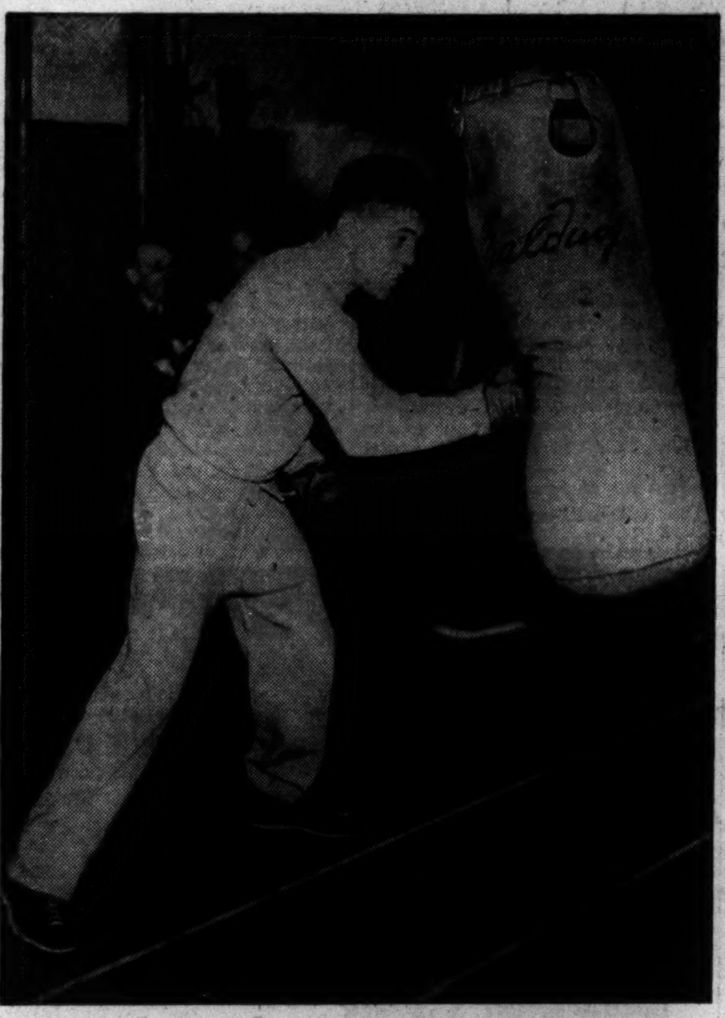
If Hard Work Is Enough, They'll Win



Reports from the east that New York's Golden Gloves team is the strongest in the history of intercity competition have spurred the members of the Chicago squad as they prepare for the 14th annual battles in the Stadium March 26. Here Dick Menchaca of Fort Worth, Chicago's 118 pound champion, larrups the heavy bag in the I. A. C. gym.

CUBS TO LEAVE WATER-LOGGED CATALINA TODAY

Regulars Win, 3-1; Battle Athletics Tomorrow.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Avalon, Cal., March 13.—As the Cubs prepared to quit this water-logged island until 1942, the squad designated as the Regulars humbled the so-called Reserves 3 to 1, late today in a game cut to four and a half innings by rain, mud, and darkness. The winners picked up their three runs in the first inning off Vern Olsen.

Inasmuch as their scheduled morning drill was washed away, Manager Jimmy Wilson announced tonight, as the lads packed their bags in preparation for the invasion of the mainland, that a two hour session will be held tomorrow just before the boat leaves for Los Angeles.

Root to Face Athletics.

Charley Root, who will be 42 years old come St. Patrick's day, fled today, a day ahead of the squad, in order that he might avoid, in the shelter of his Los Angeles apartment, further exposure to the elements. Charley, who is slated to open the Cubs' 1941 exhibiton season when he goes against the Philadelphia Athletics in Los Angeles Saturday, caught a cold when he worked out in one of yesterday's series of cloudbursts, but would listen to no suggestions that he postpone his season debut.

Root, promised that he will be worked this season somewhat along the lines that Jimmy Dykes works Ted Lyons, feels that he is facing a year that will bowl over many skeptics. The veteran, who carries his years as well as any we know, is gurgling over the prospect of ample rest between assignments.

Manager Jim Wilson is going to give Root every chance to make good under the "Lyons plan," tho Charles probably won't be a Sunday certainty like Ted.

He Has That Hop.

Strangely enough, Charley Grimm, a gent who did his part in keeping Root too busy in the bull pen, is the most enthusiastic supporter of Root's desire to return to more effective tho less frequent endeavor.

Grimm had the following to say about Root's rejuvenation: "In warming up between rainstorms, Charley has shown me the same stuff he had in his prime. The hop is back on his fast one and that's all the old gentleman needs. All of Root's successes have come when his fast one was hopping. All his disappointments have come when he tried to rely upon other types of delivery.

"Charley is a remarkable athlete and I'm confident his arm is strong enough to take regular starting assignments once a week. He has shown me plenty and it's not that tricky stuff that so many old timers try to get by on, but the same old power with which he backed 'em up 10 and 15 years ago."

Says Dizzy Is Thru.

On the word of Dr. Thomas Dowd of Philadelphia, who is supposed to be an expert in such matters, Dizzy Dean is "thru as a major league pitcher." Dr. Dowd, who is a personal friend of Manager Wilson and is not retained by the Cubs, diagnosed Dizzy's arm trouble as "myositis ossificans." He said "ossification now has set in the triceps muscle" and that Dean never again can expect to have free use of the arm that once was the terror of National league batsmen.

BOSTON COLLEGE APPOINTS MYERS FOOTBALL COACH

Former Iowa Guard Gets Leahy's Old Post.

Newton, Mass., March 13 (AP).—Appointment of Dennis Myers, former line coach at Yale and Brown, as Boston college's head football coach was announced tonight by Graduate Manager John P. Curley. He succeeds Frank Leahy, who resigned to go to Notre Dame.

Dennis E. Myers.

Myers is 35 years old and a product of the University of Iowa, where he played guard under Bert Ingwersen from 1927 to 1929. After being graduated, Myers coached one year at Mason City, Ia., High and then played professional football for the Chicago Bears. His first college coaching experience was at West Virginia and from there he moved to Yale.

Played with Nelson

Myers was contemporary at Iowa with Emerson W. [Spike] Nelson, recently appointed head coach at Yale. Nelson finished his career as a Hawkeye tackle in 1927, Myers' sophomore year on the squad. Myers won three letters, being a regular on the Iowa team of 1928 which won the first six of eight games on its schedule and again on the 1929 team that won four games, lost two, and tied two.

Curley added that Boston college officials, who had been deliberating since Leahy obtained the release of himself and his three assistants on Feb. 14 to return to Notre Dame, reduced the list of applicants by slow stages to Myers and Ted Galligan.

Rated Highly as Line Coach.

Galligan, a former Boston college star, coached the freshman team under both Gil Dobie and Leahy. Maurice [Clipper] Smith, frequently mentioned during that interval, was not considered because he has a verbal agreement with Villanova, Curley said.

Myers' entrance into Boston college's football affairs is similar to that made by Leahy back in 1939. He, like Leahy then, is rated as one of the most competent line coaches in the east. He held that position at Yale under Raymond [Ducky] Pond from 1934-'36 and served with Tuss McLaughry at Brown until the latter took over the Dartmouth head coachship early this year.

MICHIGAN PICKS 26 TO COMPETE IN BUTLER MEET

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 13 [Special].—Coach Ken Doherty and 26 University of Michigan track men will leave tomorrow for Indianapolis, where they will go after their eighth straight Butler relays team title on Saturday. This time, however, the Wolverines find themselves the underdogs with Indiana's Big Ten indoor champions established as favorites.

Capt. Don Canham, Big Ten high jump champion, is a doubtful participant because of the recurrence of a thigh injury, but will wait until near meet time to make a decision. Coach Doherty indicated today that he may use Warren Briedenbach, conference outdoor 440 titleholder, on the mile relay team. The Wolverine quartet won the Big Ten event last week and is out to defeat Notre Dame's Central Intercollegiate champions.

New York, March 13 (AP).—A great Boston Bruins hockey team—the team Art Ross calls the best squad he ever has managed — tonight clinched the National Hockey league championship for the third straight year by defeating the New York Americans, 8 to 3.

WINGS, 3; HAWKS, 2

Detroit, Mich., March 13 (AP).—The Detroit Red Wings made certain of their No. 3 spot in the National Hockey league standings when they defeated the Chicago Blackhawks here tonight, 3 to 2. The victory insured the Wings' status for the Stanley cup playoffs against the New York Rangers, who have no chance to overhaul them.

The winning goal was scored by Right Wing Bill Jennings on a pass from Sid Abel in 18:46 of the third period.

Two Hawks, Bob Carse and Phil Hergesheimer, landed on the injury list, but both were reported able to play again tomorrow night when the Hawks meet the Maple Leafs in Toronto.

Three Goals in 2d Period.

Carse's head was cut in a crash against Jimmy Orlando's skate in the first period and had four stitches taken in his forehead. Hergesheimer was knocked out when he crashed into the frame of the Detroit goal, following a solo trip up center ice.

The Hawks got away to a 1 to 0 lead in the opening period when Bob Carse tallied on a close-in shot past Goalie Johnnie Mowers.

Detroit opened a scoring blast against Sam Lo Presti as the second period began and in rapid succession Don Grosso and Mud Bruneteau hit the net. Left Wing George Allen tied the count at 12:26 of the second stanza on a backhand shot from just inside the blue line that caught Mowers off balance.

The deciding goal by Jennings came with less than two minutes to play.

C. A. A. CHOOSES BOXING TEAM, ITS 1ST IN 51 YEARS

The personnel of the first Chicago Athletic association amateur boxing team in the 51 year old history of the famous sports institution was determined in a series of bouts held in the club gymnasium last night. At the end of two and a half hours of hard, rugged fighting the squad consisted of the following:

Jesse Robinson, flyweight; Don Gallardio and Eddie Baka, bantamweights; Dan Hickey, featherweight; Frank Bausome, lightweight; Louis Bobek and Mickey Grod, welterweights; Eddie Longazo, middleweight.

These lads will represent the C. A. A. in an intercity tournament in the same gymnasium on April 24 unless they are attached to other clubs.

Explains Club's Plans.

Since the show was the first offered in the South Michigan avenue center in two years, Dr. G. William Christoph, member of the boxing committee, took time out to explain what the club intends to do for amateur boxing.

"Our plan is to develop a team which will represent the C. A. A. in interclub and intercity competition next fall and winter," Dr. Christoph said, "with the idea of sponsoring a strong squad in the 1942 city Golden Gloves tournament. Some of the qualifiers in the opening tests may be unable to accept our offer to fight under the Cherry circle's colors, but we are confident Benny Yanger, our boxing instructor, will acquire suitable representation in time.

"The only requirement necessary to earn a C. A. A. trial is that boys not affiliated with a club possess spirit and are built for the rigors of the game. Yanger will do the rest."

Backed by Boxing Followers.

This latest move on the part of the C. A. A. has received the unanimous backing of veteran boxing observers. They are sure it will lead to the revival of rivalry equal to that maintained by the Belle Plaine A. C., and the Kid Howard, Jim Mullen, Silvie Ferretti, and Lawndale gymnasiums of 10 and 15 years ago.

In one of the most exciting fights last night, Louis Bobek defeated Joe Dugo, aggressive, two fisted welterweight, in three rounds on last evening's program. Summaries follow:

Jesse Robinson beat Jim Saranella [3].
Don Gallardio beat Henry Vera [3].
Eddie Baka beat John Kola [3].
Frank Bausone beat John Kuratnick [3].
Dan Hickey beat Pat Ciangi [3].
Mickey Grod beat Emil Kola [3].
Lou Bobek beat Joe Dugo [3].
Ed Longaso beat Harry Tindall [3].

I. C. C. WILL HOLD SWIM MEET AT NORTH CENTRAL

The fourth annual Illinois College conference swimming meet will be held in the Merner pool of North Central college in Naperville tomorrow afternoon and evening.

Five colleges will attempt to wrest the conference title from North Central. Schools entered are Illinois Wesleyan, Knox college, Augustana, Bradley Tech and Monmouth college.

In last year's meet North Central scored firsts in five of the eight events to win with 38 points. Bradley Tech followed with 26 points.

Harold Henning, North Central captain, will try to lead his team to another victory. Last year Henning set a record of 1:04.2 for the 100 yard backstroke and scored 16 points.

Augustana will pin its hopes on Everett Carlstrom. Last year Carlstrom set a record of 1:13.7 for the 100 yard breaststroke.

DISMISS EADS FROM HOSPITAL FOLLOWING SPILL

Eads, the leading apprentice rider thru the early part of the Florida season, was hurt with Jockey Ted Atkinson last week at Tropical Park in a mixup near the finish of a race.

Physicians feared at first that Eads, unconscious several hours, had been critically injured but later examination disclosed only a concussion and bruises. Atkinson's injuries were minor.

Eads will remain here until the Calumet farm moves its horses into Kentucky, and will resume riding there.

Michigan Awards Seven Letters to Wrestlers

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 13 [Special].—Seven University of Michigan wrestlers were awarded varsity letters today by Coach Cliff Keen. Three of the winners were seniors, three sophomores, and the lone junior was Jim Galles of Chicago, who is the Big Ten champion at 175 pounds. Galles was elected captain for next year.

CHICAGO DEFENDS TITLE IN A. A. U. TRACK TONIGHT

More than 200 entries have been received for the 43d annual Central A. A. U. senior indoor track meet which will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the University of Chicago fieldhouse.

The University of Chicago, last year's winner of the team trophy, has entered 14 men. The University of Illinois will be represented by a 13-man team including Park Brown, defending champion in the mile run, and John Sikich, defending champion in the 16 pound shot event. Included in the 16 men who will represent Illinois Normal college are John Skala, present champion in the two mile run, and William Terwilliger, title holder in the 300 yard run.

Other entries are 12 men from Drake university, five from the American College of Physical Education, and eight from the Olde Tymers club of Chicago. Representatives of Wilson Junior and Wright Junior colleges, Riverside High school, St. George High school of Evanston, 16 from St. Ignatius High school, and a large number of unattached athletes make up the list of compteitors.

SCHOENIKE AND BROWN OUT FOR RELAYS CROWNS

Favorites for Mile and 880 Yard Titles.

Park Brown of the University of Illinois and Howard Schoenike of Wisconsin are favorites to win two of the individual championships in the 13th annual Illinois Tech relays which will be held in the University of Chicago fieldhouse tomorrow afternoon and evening. Preliminary events will begin at 3:30 o'clock with the finals scheduled to start at 7 o'clock.

Brown will be seeking the 880 yard title, won last year by Jerome Bauer of Wisconsin. Brown, a senior from Glencoe, Ill., placed second to Campbell Kane of Indiana in the Western conference meet in Lafayette, Ind., last Saturday. Schoenike is the leading contender entered in the one mile run.

N. U. Has Two Hurdles Entries.

Northwestern university will be represented in the 70 yard low and high hurdles by Charles Horvath and Joe Finch. Their leading rivals in the events are George Foster and Arthur Egbert of Marquette. Horvath was the victor in the Big Ten meet last week with Finch second. The Illinois Tech record for the high hurdles is 8.6 seconds, established by Edward Smith of Wisconsin.

Other outstanding athletes entered are George Paskvan of Wisconsin, Big Ten indoor shot put champion, and Gene Littler of Nebraska who defends the 70 yard sprint title. Paskvan won the Big Ten title with a heave of 49 feet eight inches. He will go after the Illinois Tech record of 51 feet 9¼ inches set in 1939 by Elmer Hackney of Kansas State. Littler is a co-holder of the meet record of 7.1 seconds for the sprint.

550 Athletes in Field.

John J. Schommer, chairman of the committee in charge of the games, announced last night with the closing of entries that a field of 550 athletes representing 40 colleges and universities will compete. Dr. W. J. Monilaw will be referee and starter.

Former Jockey Is Named Mayer Stable's Trainer

Lexington, Ky., March 13 (AP).—Graceton Philpotts, former jockey, has been hired as trainer of Louis B. Mayer's racing stable. Dan B. Midkiff, Lexington representative for the California movie producer, said Philpotts succeeded Clyde Van Dusen, who retired.

Golfers Can't Wait; They'll Go to Florida

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

A goodly crowd of Chicago golfers, having decided not to await the official opening of the season in these parts in order to get in their first 1941 swings, will leave from the Dearborn street station at 9:25 o'clock tomorrow morning on the first annual golf party of the Lake Shore club. They will be heading for Palm Beach, Fla., where they will tee off daily thru March 23, when they set out for home.

James T. Bristol is chairman of the Lake Shore club's golf committee, which includes Maynard G. Fessenden and Thomas G. McMahon, president and vice president, respectively, of the Chicago District Golf association; William M. Dewey, Joseph J. Kelly, Eugene P. McNeil, Herman Hueglin, Chick Evans, and Ernest G. Shinner.

Bobby Jones, Tommy Armour, Walter Hagen, and Gene Sarazen, long time rivals since the early '20s, will meet again tomorrow and Sunday in a special Red Cross exhibition match at Nassau in the Bahamas. The battle was arranged by Fred G. Corcoran, tournament manager of the American P. G. A., and President Tom Walsh at the invitation of the duke of Windsor, governor of the Bahamas. Jones and Armour will be matched against Hagen and Sarazen in a 36 hole best ball competition, 18 holes tomorrow and 18 Sunday. The foursome has accounted for 33 titles of national and international importance, Walter and Gene having won 17 against the 16 rolled up by Bob and Tom.

Two more Texans have come north to accept club jobs and join other Lone Star state natives up here. Jimmy Demaret, the Houston idol, has signed up as pro at Noroton, Conn., while Ben Hogan of Fort Worth takes the Hershey, Pa., post vacated by Henry Picard, who has transferred to Oklahoma City. Other Texans who have come north in recent years include Byron Nelson, Ralph Guldahl, and the Mangrums, Lloyd and Ray.

Elmhurst Country club, which has been designated as the site of the fourth annual Chicago Open tournament on July 18, 19, and 20, has made 50 reservations for the annual Midwest amateur tourney, to be held April 4, 5, and 6 in French Lick Springs, Ind.

WISCONSIN WILL FACE DARTMOUTH FIVE IN PLAY-OFF

Columbus, O., March 13 (AP).—Wisconsin will meet Dartmouth and Pittsburgh will play the University of North Carolina in the opening games March 21 of the National Collegiate Athletic association's eastern playoff tournament at Madison, Wis.

These drawings were made today by Gov. John W. Bricker for Harold G. Olsen of Ohio State, tournament manager.

Wisconsin is the Big Ten champion, Dartmouth the eastern intercollegiate winner, and North Carolina, Southeast conference champion. The winner of the eastern division playoff will meet the western division champion at Kansas City March 29.

DePauw Swimmers Beat North Central, 41 to 25

DePauw university scored its sixth swimming victory of the season by defeating North Central, 41 to 25, at Naperville yesterday. Don Ostroth of North Central won the diving over Sellers, Indiana state diving champion. North Central's 150 yard medley relay team, Henning, Enzinna, and Scuito, swam the distance in 1:27.4, shattering the old pool record by .5 of a second. DePauw meets Loyola in the Loyola pool tonight.

CLOSE BASKET ENTRIES.

Entries for the seventh annual South End open basketball tournament, sponsored by the 111th Street Y. M. C. A., which will be conducted March 20 to 29, will close tomorrow.

MORE FLU BUGS AND RAIN HAUNT OUR WHITE SOX

But Dykes Picks Lineup to Play Seattle Today.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pasadena, Cal., March 13.—Spring training was almost a complete washout again today for the White Sox. Pressed on one side by the flu bug army, which is gaining ground, and on the other by more rain, even the able bodied warriors in James Dykes' baseball regiment confined today's activities to a little throwing.

But despite flu germs, idleness or whatever else may develop in this year of the sunshine eclipse in southern California, the Sox must exhibit themselves tomorrow along with the Seattle Coast leaguers in nearby San Fernando. It will be the first of a long string of daily nine inning frolics against various varieties of opposition, and while the attack of influenza temporarily has bedded portions of his prospective regular lineup, Manager Dykes, himself a victim, optimistically predicts he'll find enough men to make up a ball team for at least one day.

Those Germs Are Stubborn.

The germs located a few more victims early this morning and continued their stubborn defense against efforts to doctor up those who have been in a horizontal position since Sunday. A new subject for the club's clinic was Mike Tresh, who thought his luck would change after he had been hit on the head by a swinging bat in the recent all-star game in Hollywood. The young catcher worked himself into a high fever which, however, broke this morning. There is no anxiety concerning his condition.

Dykes began coughing yesterday and was advised to stay in bed with a fever of 102 degrees. He laughed off the instructions and proceeded to take care of the day's business. Today things were different and the tough old campaigner kept himself under the covers until noon. By that time he grew tired fighting orders involving pills, gargles, hot lemon juice, toddies, etc., so he jumped into his clothes and sought the peace of the hotel lobby.

Lots of Coughs.

Taft Wright, who experienced the hardest blow from the bugs, continued to improve, but is having trouble with his lungs and may be X-rayed tomorrow. All the other bedridden players, John Humphries, Bill Dietrich, Thornton Lee, and Tresh are coughing in foghorn tones but otherwise are responding to treatment. Meanwhile possible recruits for the sick army are appearing. Orval Grove, Don Kolloway, and Tom Steven, the batting practice pitcher, were complaining of bronchial irritations, but continued to walk around.

Tomorrow's lineup against Seattle will be as regular as possible in the face of the flu disturbance. Bob Kennedy, third baseman, will lead off. Tom Turner will catch and bat second in Tresh's place. Joe Kuhel, first baseman, will swing third, Left Fielder Julius Solters fourth and Luke Appling, the shortstop, fifth. Next will come Larry Rosenthal, performing in right field in Wright's place, followed by Bill Knickerbocker, second baseman, Mike Kreevich, center fielder, and whoever does the pitching.

Rookie Pitchers to Get Work.

Dykes' plan is to throw a few of his pitching rookies against the Seattle team. He wants to have the work done by Grove, Jess Dobernic, and Jack Hallett, but Grove's cough, not to mention the possibility that influenza germs will be hard at work by tomorrow, makes everything doubtful. Dykes still has Orville Jorgens, Warren Martin, Walter Navie, and Ed Weiland ready for a call, however.

Play Semi-Finals of 'Y' Basket Tourney Tonight

The Division Street Y. M. C. A., defending champion, will meet Hyde Park and North Avenue will face 111th Street on the Lawson Y. M. C. A. court tonight in semi-finals of the city-wide "Y" heavyweight basketball tournament. The winners meet for the title in the same gymnasium tomorrow night, while the losers will play for third place. A third game tomorrow night will match Division Street and Wabash for the lightweight title. The Division Street heavies' lineup will include Henry Sachs, former Illinois star.

Riggs, McNeill Advance to Indoor Quarter-Finals

Oklahoma City, Okla., March 13 (AP).—Bobby Riggs of Chicago, defending champion, advanced to the quarter-finals of the men's national indoor tennis tournament tonight by routing Tommy Higgins of Oklahoma City, 6-0, 6-3. Don McNeill of Oklahoma City, national outdoor champion and second seeded behind Riggs, kept his sweater on as he ousted Stanley Draper of Oklahoma City, 6-1, 6-0.

Evashevski Reports as Head Coach at Hamilton

Clinton, N. Y., March 13 [Special].—Forest Evashevski, University of Michigan back field star, arrived today to begin his new job as head coach at Hamilton college. Evashevski will remain here for ten days, then return to Michigan to marry Miss Ruth Brown, daughter of United States Senator Prentiss M. Brown, on April 10.

Del Isola Will Coach Dartmouth Frosh Line

Indians Meet a Card Rookie and Lose, 4-2

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 13 (AP).—John Grodzicki, an unheralded rookie pitcher when he came to camp, stopped the Cleveland Indians in the ninth today with three on and none out, and enabled the St. Louis Cardinals to win an exhibition game, 4 to 2.

Grodzicki pitched three hitless innings against the world champion Cincinnati Reds yesterday. Last Friday he did the same thing against the New York Yankees.

Cleveland [A. L.]....010 000 001—2 5 1
St. Louis [N. L.]....000 011 20*—4 15 1

YANKS BEAT COLONELS.

Bradenton, Fla., March 13 [Special].—The Yankees sailed across Tampa bay this afternoon and defeated the Louisville Colonels, 8 to 2. It was a hollow victory for Joe McCarthy's men, for seven of their runs trickled across the plate thru errors.

John Lindell, 6 foot 3 inch right hander from Kansas City, became the first hurler in camp to go five innings and also the first to hang up a second triumph. He yielded both Louisville runs, but his satisfactory performance increased his chance to stick. Two of the five hits off him were scratches.

Big John also was a polished performer with the bat. In the three run second he hit a 420 foot triple to drive in two runs, and a minute later scored the third run on Rizzuto's triple. Score:

Louisville [A. A.]....010 100 000—2 7 4

REDS WHIP RED SOX.

Sarasota, Fla., March 13 (AP).—The Cincinnati Reds pounded three Red Sox pitchers for a total of nine hits today while gaining a 3 to 1 triumph.

The Sox were held scoreless until Joe Beggs got out in the ninth, when Johnny Peacock singled and Pinch-Hitting Stan Spence doubled. The Reds scored once against each Red Sox pitcher. In the second inning Harry Craft singled against Woody Rich, made third on Eddie Joost's hit and crossed the plate on an infield out.

Frank Secory's single and Harry Craft's triple gave the Reds their second run at Jack Wilson's expense in the sixth and in the ninth Bob Mattick made second on Manager Joe Cronin's wild throw and scored on Bill Baker's single. Score:

DODGERS EVEN SERIES.

HAVANA, Cuba, March 13 [Special].—The Brooklyn Dodgers walloped the Cuban All-Stars, 11 to 4, today to even a series that has the local fans excited. Brooklyn took a 10 run lead in the first five innings.

Pete Reiser and Joe Medwick made four hits and drove in five runs in those five innings. Tex Carleton was the winning pitcher as he allowed only two Cubans to reach base in the first three innings—one on a single, the other on an error. Ed Head and Bill Swift also worked three-inning stretches.

The Cubans fell apart in a twinkling. They made five errors, giving the Dodgers as many unearned runs, and their hurlers issued nine passes. Score:

Cuban All-Stars ....000 001 102— 4 9 5
Brooklyn [N. L.]....020 350 10*—11 9 2

MILLERS, 8; BEES, 6.

New Braunfels, Tex., March 13 (AP).—Mike Kash of Webster, Mass., limited the Boston Bees to one hit in four innings today while the Minneapolis Millers gained an 8 to 6 decision. The Millers belted a pair of Joes, Sullivan and Rucidlo, for all but one of their runs. Score:

Boston [N. L.]......000 000 240—6 9 3

PIRATES FARM CATCHER.

San Bernardino, Cal., March 13 (AP).—Eddie Fernandes, promising young catcher, was sent to St. Paul on option today by the Pittsburgh Pirates. Fernandes was obtained last summer from Portland for cash, Pitcher Ray Harrell, and another player.

Printers' Pin League Will Celebrate 25th Anniversary

The Union Printers Bowling league will hold its annual tournament and celebrate its 25th anniversary at Bensinger's 29 West Randolph street center tomorrow and Sunday. Among the printers who will participate are four who have competed in all of the organization's previous tournaments. They are Henry Moeser, Walter Wilson, Julius Nordholm, and Dan DeBene. Five-man teams will roll tomorrow, while doubles and singles will be bowled Sunday. Tom Canty, president of Typographical Union No. 16 will open the tournament.

Brotherhood Five Wins in Tourney Game, 35 to 22

The Boys Brotherhood Republic Robbins team defeated the Vencers, 35 to 22, last night in the senior division of the B'nai B'rith Youth organization in the B. B. R. gymnasium. It was a second round game. Other results: Franklin park defeated Columbus park, 28 to 21, and the Rions beat Englewood, 37 to 22, in the junior division.

Illinois Wins, 4-2; Makes Sure of Hockey Title Tie

Champaign, Ill., March 13 [Special].—Illinois was assured a tie at least for the Big Ten hockey championship when it defeated Michigan 4 to 2 tonight. Victory or a tie with the Wolverines in another match Saturday night will give Illinois the title.

Morton Beats Dundee, 33-30; Proviso Loses

Morton High of Cicero Suburban league champion, remained in the running for the state prep basketball title by defeating Dundee, 33 to 30, last night in the semi-finals of the Waukegan sectional tournament. Proviso of Maywood, conqueror of Morton in a regional final last week, meantime was eliminated in Joliet by Sheldon, 30 to 28.

Palestine, the last unbeaten quintet in the race, and Granite City, 1940 Illinois champion, also were eliminated. Palestine lost to Mount Carmel, 35 to 26, at Lawrenceville, and Granite City was eliminated by Carlinville, 27 to 26, at Collinsville. Mount Carmel qualified to mett Paris, which won from Flora, 31 to 30, for its 23d consecutive victory.

Centralia Marches On.

Centralia, No. 1 favorite to win the state championship, picked up its 39th straight victory, defeating West Frankfort, 46 to 16.

Dwight Eddleman, altho playing only half the game, scored 12 points for Centralia and ran his season's total to 875 for 40 games. This is 133 more than the old state record in the same number of games.

Indianola, which was the smallest school left in the race, finally was beaten by Urbana, 32 to 31. Champaign eliminated Potomac, which had ended Homer's record of 34 straight.

Sheldon is the last survivor from a group of 494 schools of small enrollment forced to play in a district tournament before the larger ones entered the race in the regionals. Potomac, Indianola, Orion, Braidwood, and Palestine were the Little Davids eliminated last night.

Ten Once Beaten Survive.

Champaign, Paris, Lewistown, Streator and Beadrstown were the only defending sectional champions left in the race. Two of last year's "sweet 16" were ousted last night when Granite City and Dundee lost.

Of the 30 survivors, ten were no better than regional runners-up. Regional conquerors of six of these are out of the running. Finalists from two regionals, however, proved good enough to become finalists in the same sectionals—Lewiston vs. Canton and Carbondale vs. Carterville—while two other rivals from the same regional retained chances of winning titles in separate sectionals. These are Clinton and Bloomington.

Waller to Face Tilden Juniors in Semi-Finals

Four of Chicago's outstanding junior basketball teams move into the spotlight today. Waller and Tilden Tech will meet in the first semi-final round game for the Public School league championship in Marshall gymnasium, while St. Patrick will oppose De Paul academy on the St. George court in Evanston for the north section title of the Catholic league.

De Paul won the right to meet St. Patrick by defeating St. Philip, 33 to 27, in a playoff game last Tuesday night. The three teams finished in a tie for the north division championship. The winner of the De Paul-St. Patrick contest will face Leo, south division champion and unbeaten in 31 games, for the league title next week.

Leo vs. St. George.

The Catholic league's senior championship will be decided tomorrow night when Leo, south zone titleholder, plays St. George of Evanston, north section champion, in De La Salle gymnasium, 35th street and Michigan avenue. Both St. George and Leo have qualified for the national Catholic tournament which will be held in Loyola gymnasium March 26 to March 30.

Tilden Tech and Waller advanced by winning Public School league quarter-final round games last Tuesday and Wednesday. Tilden won from Parker, 39 to 37, in overtime, while Waller routed Sullivan, 48 to 34. The other junior semi-finalists—Marshall and Manley—will meet Wednesday, probably in Lane Tech gymnasium.

Senior Games Monday, Tuesday.

The Public School league senior semi-final contests will be played Monday and Tuesday. Calumet will meet Marshall in Austin gymnasium Monday afternoon, while Manley's seniors will face Austin on the Marshall court.

Elect Bob Wozny Captain of De Paul U. Quintet

Bob Wozny, junior forward, yesterday was elected captain of the De Paul university quintet for next year. Wozny is a graduate of Schurz High school. He will be one of the speakers at the annual De Paul athletic banquet which will be held March 27, in the Palmer House.

Open Firing for $200,000 of A. B. C. Prizes

St. Paul, Minn., March 13 [Special].—With Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota tossing the opening ball, the 41st tournament of the American Bowling Congress opened tonight.

Prize Money to Total $200,000.

The set-up dwarfs those of all previous tournaments. Many innovations in equipment have been added. The Municipal auditorium here is easily the finest building to ever house the affair. A total of 5,798 teams; 9,790 doubles and 20,079 individuals will roll for approximately $200,000 in prize money.

Illinois leads the out-of-state entries with 364 teams, 880 doubles, and 1,778 singles. Chicagoans paid $22,295 in entry fees in enlisting 306 five-man teams; 729 two-man teams, and 1,471 singles. Indiana has 227 teams, Iowa 166, and Michigan 218.

Flin Flon Sends Two Teams.

Included on the opening schedule were two teams from Flin Flon, Manitoba, on the tip of the Arctic circle. Other squads from coast to coast are entered.

Al Sindelar, secretary of the Chicago and Illinois Bowling associations, who attended the opening, predicted the scores will be the highest in A. B. C. history.

DR. C. O. BROWN, FAMED VETERAN OF '61, DIES AT 92

Marched Off to Civil War When He Was 13.

Dr. C. O. Brown.

Dr. Charles Oliver Brown, retired Congregationalist minister, and a famous veteran of the civil war, died yesterday in the Hines veterans' hospital after an illness of a month. He was 92 years old. His home was at 831 South Grove avenue, Oak Park.

Dr. Brown was a boy of 13 when he marched off to war as a bugler with his father, Maj. Oliver M. Brown, of the 3d Ohio cavalry. At 16 he was made chief of the regiment's 26 buglers, the youngest chief bugler in the Union forces at that time.

Took Part in 25 Battles.

He participated in 25 battles. He blew the cavalry charge that sent 3,000 men into battle at Lovejoy station during Sherman's sweep on Atlanta. At the battle of Selma he carried a message thru the thick of fire, and for that act of bravery, congress in later years voted him a pension increase.

The $25,000 monument erected in 1929 by the state of Illinois in Memphis, Tenn., to 2,000 Illinois soldiers buried there was almost entirely the result of Dr. Brown's efforts. He initiated the legislative action, headed the state commission at the dedication, and wrote the inscription appearing on the monument.

Last Survivor of Post.

Dr. Brown figured in the controversy 10 years ago as to whether Gen. Sherman actually made the remark "War is hell." He contended that he heard the remark during an address by Sherman at the Michigan Military academy at Orchard Lake, Mich., on June 19, 1879. It was made extemporaneously at the conclusion of a prepared address, said Dr. Brown, and was missed by the newspaper reporters because they had left with copies of the speech before Sherman concluded it.

Dr. Brown entered the ministry in 1876, and during the next 24 years held pulpits in Kalamazoo, Mich.; Dubuque, Ia.; Rochester, Mich.; Tacoma, Wash., and San Francisco, Cal. In 1900 he turned his efforts to publishing, lecturing, and writing. At one time he was vice president of La Salle Extension university, which he helped organize.

Dr. Brown was commander of the U. S. Grant post, No. 28, G. A. R., and its last surviving member. He leaves his widow, May, who is a cousin of Harriet Beecher Stowe, author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin"; three sons, three stepchildren, and 11 grandchildren, great-grandchildren, and great-great-grandchildren. Services will be held at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 124 Madison street, Oak Park, with military services later in Forest Home cemetery.

RECORDS REVEAL G. F. FISHER, WAR HERO, IS MARRIED

The marriage on Feb. 22 of George Farnsworth Fisher, 53 years old, 660 North Sheridan road, Lake Forest, a world war hero, and Miss Geraldine Mary Toohey, 29, of 5506 Wayne avenue, was disclosed yesterday when the license was returned to Jay B. Morse, Lake county clerk, in Waukegan. The marriage was performed in Fisher's home. Justice of the Peace Guy L. Grinnell of Libertyville officiated. COUNTY HAS 1ST SMALLPOX CASE IN THREE YEARS

Cook county's first case of smallpox in nearly three years was reported yesterday. Fred Faulkenburg, 57 years old, a farmer residing on River road south of Des Plaines, is the victim. He was quarantined in his home. Dr. Edward A. Piszczek, county health officer, learned that Faulkenburg's son Robert, 11 years old, was a pupil in St. Andrew's Lutheran school in Park Ridge. Robert was removed from school and vaccination was ordered for all children of the school.

Oil-Wealthy Indian Dies in Air-Conditioned Cabin

Ada, Okla., March 13 (AP).—Andrew Harden, 86, oil wealthy Indian, died today in his air conditioned log cabin. Despite his fortune Harden made few concessions to civilization. For years he stuck to his big fireplace for warmth and his carbide plant for lights and cooking fuel. He relented somewhat two years ago and had his cabin air conditioned.

JAIL'S FORGOTTEN WOMAN ORDERED BACK TO A CELL

Mrs. Daisy Tegtmeyer, 53 years old, the county jail's erstwhile "forgotten woman," was again ordered to jail for contempt of court yesterday. She remained at liberty, however, since the original mandate ordering her to jail is being held in abeyance pending her appeal to the United States Supreme court.

Judge Robert Jerome Dunne in Circuit court approved a six year old master's report fixing at $20,610 the amount she owes heirs of the estate of her father-in-law, Henry Tegtmeyer, who died in 1923. The report also assessed costs of $3,930 against Mrs. Tegtmeyer.

She was sentenced to jail Jan. 5, 1934 by Judge Hugo M. Friend for refusing to reveal the whereabouts of $20,000 in assets of Tegtmeyer's estate. She was released on bond in 1939 pending the appeal.

MRS. R. J. DUNHAM DIES; WIFE OF CITY PARKS HEAD

Mrs. Robert J. Dunham, wife of the president of the Chicago park district, died of a heart attack in their home at 1500 Lake Shore drive last evening.

Mrs. Dunham, who was the former Edith Josephine Preston of San Francisco, and Mr. Dunham were married in 1923, the year that she moved to Chicago from the west coast.

Besides Mr. Dunham she leaves a son and daughter by a previous marriage. They are Willard N. Drown Jr. of Chicago and Mrs. J. F. Sullivan of San Francisco.

Swerves in Nick of Time and Avoids Hitting Train

Everett Heskt of Washington, Kas., made a quick decision last night which saved his truck from being hit by a Belt railroad train after he failed to see the crossing gates being lowered at Archer and Kenton avenues. When he did notice the gates coming down, he was too close to the tracks to bring his truck to a stop. So he swerved to the right, driving his truck between two telegraph poles 12 feet apart, with only a few inches clearance, and pulled up just short of the tracks.

Illinois Tax Is $23,119 on Katherine Farwell Estate

Judge Perry L. Persons in Lake County court at Waukegan entered an order yesterday for the payment of $23,119 state inheritance taxes on the $1,022,736 estate of Mrs. Katherine Isham Farwell. Mrs. Farwell, the wife of Arthur L. Farwell of Libertyville, died March 3, 1940. Judge Persons approved a report of Attorney Elbert H. OAK PARK COUPLE KILLED BY AUTO IN CALIFORNIA

Thomas H. Lamond and his wife, Mrs. Agnes Lamond, of 1008 Pleasant street, Oak Park, were killed last night when they were struck by an automobile as they alighted from a street car in Glendale, Cal. Lamond was a retired executive of the Public Service company. He was 75 years old and his wife 71.

Two motorists, who ran over Thomas Collins, 55, 6752 South Ada street, at 68th street and Racine avenue early yesterday, were sought last night by police. Collins died while being taken to St. Bernard's hospital. Witnesses told police a private automobile and a taxicab each struck the victim.

Eight passengers on a Halsted street car were injured when the car collided with a truck as the latter turned to enter a warehouse at 2840 South Halsted. The truck driver, Glen Lowry, Terre Haute, Ind., was charged with reckless driving and driving on the wrong side of the street.

Charles Rudis, 55, of 833 West 33d street, unemployed, died in county hospital of injuries suffered Wednesday when he was struck by an automobile in front of 3302 South Union avenue. The driver was Sam Morelli, 6616 South Aberdeen street.

A man tentatively identified as Joseph Raffelson, 79, who formerly lived at 1510 South Avers avenue, died in count yhospital of injuries sustained Wednesday when he was struck by a truck at Western avenue and 79th street. The driver was Floyd Olson, 2161 North Oakley avenue.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 161 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 123 were killed in Chicago where 4,170 were injured in the same period.

Tom Mann, British Labor, Communist Leader, Dies

LONDON, March 13 (AP).—Tom Mann, veteran British labor leader, died today at his home in Grassington, Yorkshire. He was 84 years old. Mann, early leader of the communist movement in Britain, was deported from Germany, France, Belgium, and Ireland, and in 1919 was barred from the United States. He found this ruling still in force in 1933 when he planned to visit the United States, but was granted a 15 day permit.

DEATH VALLEY SCOTTY TELLS COURT HE HAS NO MORE GOLD MINES

Los Angeles, Cal., March 13 (AP).—Death Valley Scotty found a lot of gold mines but he doesn't have any now, he said in Federal court today.

First-day testimony in the accounting suit of Julian M. Gerard of New York against Scotty tore a bit into the mystery that surrounds him, but did not solve it.

Scotty testified that he located 17 claims in the Funeral mountains of Death Valley 37 years ago. He had described them in letters written between 1902 and 1904 as very rich, one at least being worth about $5,000,000. But Gerard failed to furnish money for development and they were abandoned, he said.

HATE TO WORK? BILL SOLVES IT: HE JUST DOESN'T

If William Hintz, 55 years old, a Highland Park mail carrier, doesn't go back to work by tomorrow he may find himself being prosecuted as a vagrant. Hintz has been carrying mail 27 years, but one day last July he just stopped going to work. He stayed away until the Christmas rush, then turned up for three or four days. Then he stayed away again until last Tuesday, when he worked half a day. He hasn't been back since. Most of the time he just stays in bed at his home at 157 North 2d street.

Postmaster Daniel Cobb said that fellow workers are interested in keeping Hintz on the job for three more years, for he will qualify for his pension then. He must, however, work six months of each year to do so.

With this in mind, Assistant State's Attorney Robert Coulson brought Hintz before County Judge Perry L. Persons last Saturday in Waukegan. Hintz was charged with contributing to the dependency of his wife, Burdetta, and their three children. Doctors who have examined Hintz can find nothing wrong with him. So the judge threatened the vagrancy charge or a sanity hearing if the postman doesn't go back to work.

All Hintz would say was, "I just don't feel like working."

INNOCENTLY INFECTED?

Since syphilis can be caught from a towel, drinking cup or cigarette, and exist for years without your even knowing it, you owe it to yourself to have a careful examination! Organized by public-spirited citizens as a corporation "NOT-FOR-PROFIT," the Public Health Institute makes a full examination for syphilis and gonorrhea at very low cost, and gives individual treatments at fees so small as to be within the reach of every wage earner.

MILLION DOLLAR CHICAGO AREA CONTRACTS LET

Other Districts Get Arms Orders.

Million dollar government contracts were awarded to two Chicagoland companies yesterday, and several other manufacturers received small orders.

One of the large contracts was let by the United States Housing authority to the George Sollitt Construction company, Chicago. It was for $1,247,600, and covered construction of 434 dwelling units in a project to be known as Longview place at Decatur, Ill. The work is scheduled to begin about the middle of April. Eight hundred men will be employed for more than a year on the project, the USHA announcement said.

Wyman-Gordon company of Harvey, Ill., one of the nation's largest makers of steel forgings, was awarded an army contract of $1,133,495 covering machinery and equipment for an expansion of facilities for producing forgings.

Plant Addition Under Way.

Late in December Wyman-Gordon, thru its Ingalls-Shepard division, began work on the Harvey plant addition. The plant itself will cost about $150,000. The equipment includes a forge shop, steam drop hammers weighing 50 tons each, and steel yard cranes of 20 tons each.

The war department announced the following contracts were awarded to Chicago companies:

Joseph T. Ryerson & Son, Inc., carbon steel strip, $6,749; Lord & Bushnell company, plywood, $1,356; Cook Electric company, jacks, $940; Graybar Electric company, cases and loading coils, $34,776; Planert Manufacturing company, clutch shoe sleeves, $525; Kellogg Switchboard and Supply company, terminals, $1,836; distributing frames, $643; American Automatic Electric Sales company, rolling ladders, $1,627; A. Finkl and Sons company, forgings, $44,200; Illinois Tool Works, cutters, $8,243, and Felt and Tarrant Manufacturing company, calculating machines, $2,040.

Other Illinois Awards.

Borg-Warner corporation, Rockford Drilling Machine division, Rockford, transmission clutches, $59,301; R. H. Armbruster Manufacturing company, Springfield, pyramidal tents, $11,960; Lohse Automotive Service, Rock Island, automotive equipment parts, $3,790; Barber-Colman company, Rockford, counterbores, $2,155; Sterling Products company, Moline, screws, $1,015, and Leich Electric company, Genoa, rectifiers, $894.

The navy department awarded contracts totaling $1,077,000 for expansion of three plants which make aircraft parts. Included was an award of $380,000 to Woodward Governor company, Rockford, Ill., for additional facilities to be used in making propeller parts. The other projects involve plants at Chula Vista, Cal., and New Haven, Conn.

Dow Chemical Gets Order.

Dow Chemical company, $8,007,407 for construction machinery and equipment to expand its Freeport, Tex., plant.

Republic Aviation corporation, $1,500,000 for building and equipping a new plant at Detroit, Mich., to manufacture hardened and ground precision parts.

Carnegie to Expand.

Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation, subsidiary of United States Steel corporation, was awarded two war department contracts totaling $3,307,100 for additions to equipment at its Munhall, Pa., and Mingo Junction, O., plants for manufacture of armor and other special steels. The company will buy and install the equipment at cost and without profit or fee, and will be repaid by the government over a five year period, according to the announcement.

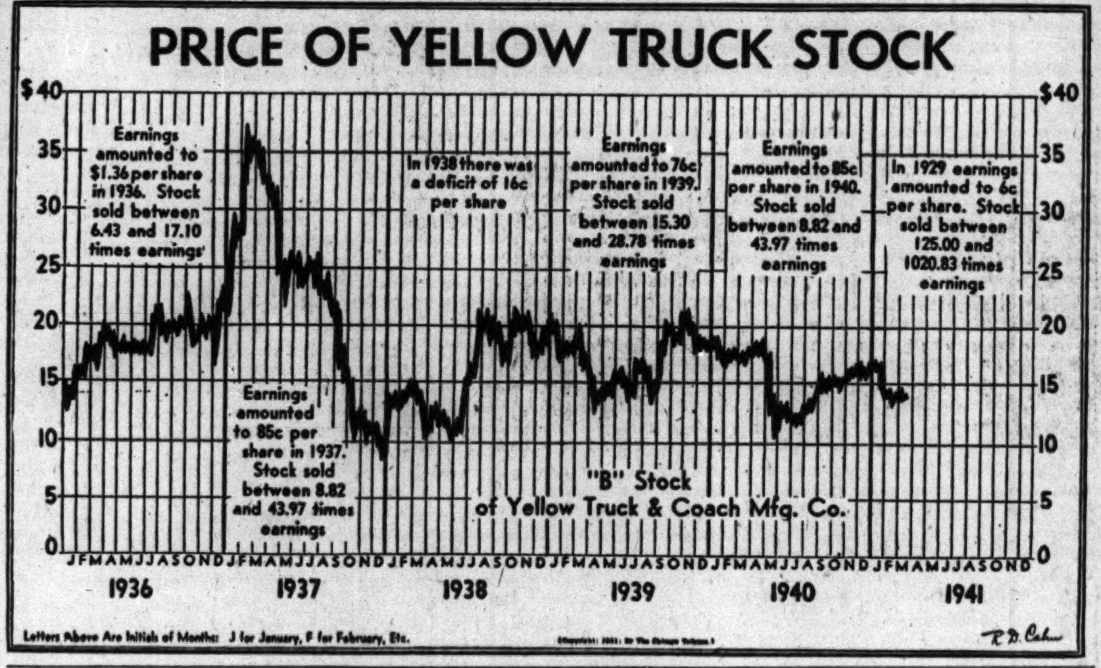
Firestone Tire and Rubber company is negotiating with the government on a $9,000,000 to $10,000,000 order for production of carriages for 40 millimeter Bofors antiaircraft guns, it was reported. The work is expected to be done in Firestone's Akron, O., plants. It also was understood that Buick division of General Motors corporation is discussing an order for these Swedish-type guns. Firestone's armament orders at present total approximately $20,000,000.

CONGRESS HEARS MINES FEAR TO FIGHT COAL ACT

Washington, D. C., March 13 (AP).—Members of the house ways and means committee asserted today they had heard "reports" that the bituminous coal division used intimidation to halt opposition to extension of the Guffey coal act for two years.

Representative Wesley E. Disney [D., Okla.], a committee member, said that "there have been rumors that a considerable number of coal operators and producers are opposed to the act, but because of possible reprisals by the division are afraid to come here to testify."

Abe Fortas, general counsel for the division, answered with the statement that "the operators have always received fair and indiscriminate treatment from the division."



Mine Workers and Operators 'Deadlocked'

New York, March 13 [Special].—Representatives of the nation's soft coal mining industry and the United Mine Workers' union were deadlocked tonight after the operators rejected a temporary peace proposal by John L. Lewis which they asserted was not made in good faith.

Charles O'Neill, spokesman for operators.

Lewis, head of the 450,000 mine workers allied with the C. I. O., suggested that his organization would accept a no work stoppage agreement if it was stipulated the operators would make any new wage and hour agreements reached later retroactive to April 1. [The present contracts expire March 31.]

Charges Filibuster Intent.

"The stipulation could impose on operators a contingent liability of millions of dollars," said Charles O'Neill of New York, spokesman for the operators. "Lewis is not talking in good faith. He is trying to gain public favor with his offer. If we agreed to this he would be in a position to filibuster indefinitely in conference."

Lewis denied these assertions. He said the mine workers were making a contribution to national welfare and preparedness by offering a guarantee that there was no necessity for a mine shutdown on April 1.

The miners have demanded a $1 a day increase in pay, paid vacations, and guarantees of 200 days' work in each year. The operators have refused to give in on any of these points and have indicated they will insist on a 40 or 42 hour work week instead of a 35 hour week as at present. This, O'Neill said, would give the miners bigger wages and increase production.

Name Subcommittees.

As a result of the impassé created by the rejection of Lewis' plan the negotiations were handed over to a group of eight men—four from each side—and the general conference will remain in recess to await the group's reports. The subcommittees will start their work tomorrow.

Representatives of the operators are L. B. Putnam and Lee Gunter for the southern states, and J. B. Morrow and O'Neill for the northern. Union representatives are Percy Tetlow, James Mark, Van A. Bittner, and William Turnblazer. They have been presented with exhaustive documents covering the contentions of both sides.

O'Neill asserted that the miners' demands were excessive, and Lewis retorted that operator estimates of the cost of meeting them were "exorbitant." Miners, the U. M. W. A. leader said, were woefully underpaid and could not accept the theory of the operators that increased taxes and expenses justified rejection of wage raises. O'Neill replied that the miners had been getting steady raises in pay since 1933 and none could be granted now.

EXCESS PROFIT REVISIONS AID MICKELBERRY'S

George E. Duwe, president of Mickelberry's Food Products company, told stockholders at their annual meeting yesterday that the company's sales and earnings before taxes for the first eight weeks of this year were substantially above the comparable 1940 level.

"Amendments to the excess profits tax act were favorable to the company, having reduced the 1940 excess profits tax figure materially," he said. "If there are expanding earnings, these amendments will be as helpful in 1941."

R. Douglas Stuart, first vice president of the Quaker Oats company, and Donald B. Lourie, general sales manager of that company, were elected Mickelberry directors to fill board vacancies. Other officers and directors were reëlected.

ICC Extends Its Authority Over Trucking Industry

Washington, D. C., March 13 (AP).—The interstate commerce commission ruled today it has authority to prescribe qualifications and maximum hours of service for mechanics, loaders and drivers' helpers employed in the motor carrier industry. It had ruled earlier that it had authority over drivers and prescribed qualifications and maximum hours for them.

FIRST YEAR HARDEST ON RETAILERS; AFTER THAT IT'S STILL TOUGH

Washington, D. C., March 13 (AP).—The first year is the hardest in operating small retail stores, the department of commerce concluded today.

Publishing sample results from studies in several cities, department experts said that persons starting small businesses on small capital usually are overoptimistic about the immediate profits.

Groceries had the highest mortality rate. The study showed that out of 100 opening in the same year only 40 would be running the second year, 26 the third, and 19 the fourth year. After that the survivors had a pretty good chance.

A study of Chicago independent meat stores showed that during a 12 year period about 23 per cent were brand new and about an equal percentage were doomed to fail within a year.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC DIPS MORE THAN USUAL FOR WEEK

Cars of revenue freight loaded in the United States during the week ended March 8 totaled 741,922, representing a larger than seasonal decline of 14,748 cars, or 1.9 per cent, from the preceding week, the Association of American Railroads reported yesterday. The week's total, however, was 121,326 cars, or 19.5 per cent, larger than for the corresponding week last year and 153,496 cars, or 26.1 per cent, ahead of 1939.

Despite the decrease, the shipments were the largest for any comparable week since 1937.

	Wk. ended March 8.	—Change from— Preceding week.	Year year.

TREASURY PLANS BIG BORROWING FOR NEXT WEEK

Washington, D. C., March 13 (AP).—The treasury said today it was considering a large borrowing operation next week, including the refunding of a $503,877,500 issue of 1⅜ per cent treasury notes which will mature June 15.

No indication was given of how much additional cash, if any, will be borrowed. Such "new money" borrowings have usually been in the amount of $500,000,000 in recent months.

The proposal followed by two weeks the refunding of $1,222,000,000 of other maturing government obligations. At that time, investors were offered a choice between 2 per cent, seven to nine year bonds or ¾ per cent two year notes.

CHICAGO STORES HAVE BEST SALES OF '41 LAST WEEK

Department store trade in Chicago and the seventh reserve district recorded further gains last week as sales volume reached new peaks for the year, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reported yesterday. For the entire nation store sales were unchanged from a year ago, the Federal Reserve board announced.

Sales of Chicago stores increased 2 per cent over the preceding week and district sales were up 3.5 per cent.

Stores in the seventh district, which includes all of Iowa and major parts of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, and Wisconsin, reported their sales volume was 4 per cent ahead of the corresponding week in 1940. In the city of Chicago dollar value of sales was estimated at 0.5 per cent below a year earlier.

Plans Announced for Vast New Shipyards in Florida

Jacksonville, Fla., March 13 (AP).—Walter A. Jones, Pittsburgh, Pa., industrialist, announced tonight that a corporation which he headed had selected Jacksonville as the site for a $25,000,000 to $40,000,000 shipyards with 25 ways and a working personnel of 25,000 to 30,000 persons. City officials announced an agreement to acquire 1,300 acres on the St. Johns river for the concern, the Jacksonville Shipbuilding corporation. Jones is chairman of the Pennsylvania turnpike commission. He talked with associates here by telephone from Pittsburgh and said the annual pay roll would exceed $25,000,000.

U. S. May Take Over British War Contracts

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 13.—Negotiations are under way between British officials, the army and the Reconstruction Finance corporation for taking over 300 to 350 million dollars of British war contracts awarded in this country and returning to the British the down payments they have made on them, it was learned today from official quarters.

Surprise was occasioned in capital circles by this willingness of the administration to pay out to the British in view of the 7 billion dollar aid to Britain program under which the United States is to furnish vast supplies of arms, munitions and food on credit because of the British plea that they are unable to pay.

Take Over Plants, Orders.

Under the negotiations, the RFC, thru the Defense Plant corporation, would take over British built plant facilities in the United States and the army would assume munitions contracts placed by the British. American manufacturers have required down payments of 20 or 25 per cent of the British contracts.

Under the army plan, the British would get back the down payments, but this sum was not disclosed by either the British or United States governments. The army would return the amount of the down payment to the manufacturer, who would in turn pass it back to the British. The plant facilities would be purchased in the same manner, but there has been some dispute between the RFC and the British purchasing commission over the valuation to be placed on these facilities.

Provide Big Cash Fund.

The negotiations if successful would give the British cash facilities of 300 to 350 millions, which it is supposed they would apply to the payment of other contracts now in process. Officials said that the British would be required to pay for the remaining contracts placed with American manufacturers prior to passage of the dictator bill giving them tremendous financial assistance. The army and RFC would only take over those contracts in which they are particularly interested.

There is no thought of taking over all British contracts placed in the United States, officials insisted.

Federal Mine Inspection Bill Is Passed by House

Washington, D. C., March 13 (AP).—The house today passed and sent to the senate a bill directing the bureau of mines to inspect coal mines and make recommendations designed to safeguard miners. At present the bureau lacks authority to enter mines without the owners' permission, or to publicize findings or make recommendations if permission is obtained.

STAPLES LIFTED STILL HIGHER BY WAVE OF BUYING

Interest Centers in Cottonseed Oil.

Speculative and commercial buying of commodities yesterday carried several staples into new high ground. Cottonseed oil, sugar, lard, butter, and eggs moved up.

Outside interests were reported particularly active in the cottonseed oil market in which available supplies were greatly diminished Wednesday when soapmakers purchased approximately 400 railroad tank cars of oil. Vegetable shortening and salad oil prices advanced ½ cent a pound to 9¼ and 8¾ cents, respectively, tank car basis, delivered at New York.

Chicago wholesale prices for refined cane sugar reached $5.12 a hundred pounds, having climbed 45 cents in the last two or three weeks, wholesalers reported.

"No Reason" for Scarcity.

"There is no reason for a scarcity of sugar," Lamborn & Co., sugar brokers, reported. "The advance in prices has resulted from the difficulty encountered in securing boats to bring the sugar from Cuba and the Philippines, particularly from the latter source."

Department of agriculture statistics showed that sugar supplies in the hands of manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers on Dec. 31 were the largest on record. This was interpreted by some officials as a sign of hoarding, according to Washington dispatches.

Lard prices reached seasonal highs for some deliveries but advances were retarded by the British withdrawal of the offer made last week to buy more than 22 million pounds of American lard. The British announcement said domestic interests were asking too high prices and that Britain would not buy any lard at this time.

Call for Identical Packages.

Traders, however, said they believed that Britain would get the lard. They said the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation's offer made Wednesday called for identical packages asked for in the British inquiry.

Buyers operated more conservatively in the butter market upon learning that the Dairy Products Marketing association expected to resume buying of dairy products soon. Traders on the Chicago Mercantile exchange expressed the opinion that the DPMA would be used as a government agency to acquire title to large supplies of dairy goods.

Egg futures extended their 1941 highs while wholesale cash prices advanced ¼ to ½ cent a dozen, storage packed extras reaching 19 cents, the highest levels of the season.

When questioned if DPMA would buy dairy products for Britain, John Brandt, president, said the agency was "putting its house in order so that it could act if the government decided to use DPMA for this purpose." Brandt said the DPMA would have between 5 and 6 million dollars available if it is decided to come back in the markets.

The department of agriculture announced that DPMA had purchased 1 million pounds of dried milk pro-

Full Speed at Engine Plant

WORKMEN BUSY AT STUDEBAKER ENGINE FACTORY

Rapid progress is being made on the underground work for the huge aircraft engine parts plant which the Studebaker corporation is erecting at Cicero and Archer avenues, near Chicago airport. The plant is to produce precision parts for Wright Aeronautical engines which are to be assembled at another factory Studebaker is building at South Bend, Ind.

Mechanized concrete mixers, power shovels, and other equipment are helping the builders expedite work on the structure, which ultimately is expected to give employment to about 4,000 persons in the Chicago region.

The plant will be one of two airplane engine factories for the Chicago area. The second will be built by the Buick division of the General Motors corporation for the manufacture of Pratt and Whitney type engines at La Grange road and North avenue, Melrose Park. It will employ about 10,000 persons. Ground for the Buick plant is expected to be broken about March 25.

WHEELING STEEL MARKETS ISSUE OF 30 MILLIONS

A new issue of $30,000,000 of Wheeling Steel corporation first mortgage sinking fund 3½ per cent 25 year series B bonds will be offered today by an underwriting group of 73 houses headed by Kuhn, Loeb & Co. The bonds will be priced at 97½.

Proceeds of the sale will be applied toward redemption of all of the company's $31,500,000 of outstanding first mortgage sinking fund 4½s, series A, which the company intends to call for payment at 105 per cent, exclusive of interest, an operation costing $33,075,000.

BUSINESS TAXED $1.05 UNDER NEW DEAL FOR EACH DOLLAR'S PROFIT

Washington, D. C., March 13 (AP).—Business has earned $1.05 for taxes against every dollar of net profits during the present administration, Representative J. William Ditter [R., Pa.], chairman of the Republican congressional committee, asserted today.

In a statement, he said "this is the burden of public spending" shown by a study of business taxes paid as compared with net profits for the period 1933-'40. Tables based on treasury statistics, he said, revealed "why there was no sustained business recovery in the United States until the inflationary war boom developed six months ago."

COLUMBIA GAS FILES SECURITIES OF 120 MILLIONS

New York, March 13 [Special].—The Columbia Gas and Electric corporation took steps today to refund its outstanding funded debt, filing with the Securities and Exchange commission an application for approval of the issuance of $120,000,000 of new debt.

This action marked the first time in several years that a holding company had sought to undertake a major debt refunding operation. Under provisions of the holding company act, such financing is subject to the closest scrutiny of the SEC. The commission has held that such debt should be eliminated rather than perpetuated.

The Columbia company indicated that $28,000,000 of the proposed securities would be in the form of serial debentures maturing from 1941 to 1951, and $92,000,000 would be sinking fund debentures maturing in 1961.

WAR CURTAILS FARM MACHINE MAKER'S SALES

But Profit Is Doubled Despite Tax Rise.

The war blockade, which has cut off trade with many European markets, also has indirectly curtailed American export sales in other countries whose purchasing power rests upon their ability to sell agricultural products in Europe, Cal Sivright, president of the Oliver Farm Equipment company, told stockholders in the annual report issued yesterday.

M. L. Joslyn reports tax rise curbs profit of his company.

The report also showed that the company was able to more than double its 1940 net income over that of 1939, altho sales declined and federal taxes increased.

Sivright explained that a gain in domestic sales fell short of offsetting a decrease in the export volume.

Canada Curtails Buying.

"Canadian business was good until the latter part of the year when governmental restrictions were imposed upon the marketing of wheat," he said. "Other export business was affected earlier in the year by the closing of European markets which resulted not only in reduced sales to customers in Europe, but also in a lower volume of business with customers in countries that formerly exported their agricultural products to Europe."

South American countries and Australia were cited as countries that have suffered from a lack of purchasing power for American products because of their inability to continue shipping the bulk of their agricultural products to Europe.

Oliver's net income for the year rose to $866,444, equal to $2.56 a share, from $430,267, or $1.27 a share, in 1939. This was the largest net income since 1937.

Sales Total 19 Millions.

Net sales amounted to $19,107,145, representing a decline of $4,527 from the 1939 sales volume of $19,111,672. The 1940 federal income tax provision was set at $315,000, compared with $191,771 paid in federal income taxes in 1939.

By close budgeting, Sivright said, the company reduced its sales costs and general expenses by more than $412,000.

He reported that the company had opened up new sales possibilities for this year with the development of a new small combine, the addition of a smaller tractor, and the prospective

CLOSE TO CHICAGO'S BASIC INDUSTRIES

● In Chicago, conventions have attained the economic rank of a basic industry. Over the last decade, the average number has passed 800 and the visitors thus accounted for, annually, have approached the one MILLION mark. Location and transportation have had much to do with this. But Chicago also has the hotels and theatres, the restaurants and stores, the sports and educational spectacles to play the host on a magnificent scale. And back of them, groups of civic-minded men who possess the vision and the contacts necessary to establishing Chicago's priority in a highly competitive field.

RALLY WAVERS; BUYERS AGAIN DESERT STOCKS

Shipbuilding Issues Lose Forenoon Advances.

New York, March 13 (AP).—Stock prices again wavered in the latter part of today's session after an early attempt to attract buyers met with only mild success. A few shipbuilding and specialty issues managed to step out in the forenoon but most of these backed away at the close. Declines of fractions to a point or so were in the majority at the close.

Volume dwindled to 339,050 shares from 461,000 yesterday, and was the smallest 5 hour turnover since March 5. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .3 of a point at 41.4, largest recession since March 3.

Rails maintained a fairly steady demeanor despite the summary of last week's freight loadings disclosing a contraseasonal drop.

Strikes Create Pessimism.

Some of the pessimism was attributed to spreading strikes and threats of a labor rift in the steel industry.

On the losing side were United States Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, United States Rubber, Sears Roebuck, J. I. Case, International Harvester, American Telephone, American Smelting, Santa Fe, General Electric, Du Pont, Allied Chemical, Eastman Kodak, New York Shipbuilding, Bath Iron Works, and Western Union. Universal Pictures preferred, a recent climber, fell 5 points on a few sales.

Clinging to advances were Great Northern, Westinghouse Electric, American Can, Montgomery Ward, and Glenn Martin.

Three blocks of stocks were offered today over the counter after the close of the stock exchange. They consisted of 42,615 shares of Commercial Credit and 10,000 of Mueller Brass, representing British holdings, and 3,000 shares of Pennsylvania Water and Power, offered from domestic sources.

CHICAGO TRADING SAGS.

Trading on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday fell to 12,000 shares, the smallest total for a full session since last October. Prices maintained their downward slant.

Transfer of 500 shares from 2 to 3 o'clock was the least for that period since the extra hour of trading was adopted last September. Only three issues moving during the last hour recorded changes from the New York close. Swift & Co. and Commonwealth Edison each gained ⅛ point to 22⅜ and 28⅛, respectively, and Libby dropped ⅛ point to 5⅛. Compared with the previous Chicago close, Commonwealth Edison was unchanged.

Waterfowl Restless.

March 13, 1941.

WATERFOWL on the Du Page county farm are making it very plain they would like some "chinook" winds and sunshine to take the ice from the ponds. At this time of year geese, ducks, and swans are eager to get their feet into open water.

The four handsome white swans still are confined to their winter quarters—a house which contains a large concrete tank along one wall. The tank is connected with a pipe from a nearby windmill so that it is full of water at all times. The overflow forms a wide ditch to the pond.

Despite the fact that snow has covered the ground most of the week the swans know that it's time for milder weather. They stand outside their private house, take an occasional swim in the ditch, and look toward the main pond as tho they're waiting impatiently for the ice to disappear.

Ducks Steal Feed.

The only steady companions of the swans are the mallard ducks which get fat stealing the swans' feed. When the flockmaster appears with his supply of grain the hungry ducks wait at the gate until he throws out the feed, then dart in and out between the swans and nibble away.

Of all the aquatic birds on the farm the 26 Canada geese have had the best time this winter. No wire restricted their activity during the cold months so they have wandered over the farm wherever they pleased. But as soon as the ponds open up they'll stop being vagabonds.

There are four new geese in the farm flock this spring. They came from the Chicago Zoölogical gardens at Brookfield in a swap for four birds from the farm flock. This exchange was for the purpose of getting new blood lines for each flock.

Hunt Nests Soon.

The 16 Muscovy ducks on the farm are in the barnyard where they can hear the bleating of the newborn lambs. The flockmaster said this week it won't be long until these big white birds will be looking around for nesting sites. Usually the Muscovies nest in the house provided for them, then when the ducklings are old enough they're taken back to the ponds where they can paddle around as they please.

There is no shortage of pheasants and quail this spring. The boys report seeing large flocks of pheasants in the cornfields. One worker identified five black necked pheasant hens [raised on the farm and released last year] and five or six of the light colored Chinese pheasant hens.

But of all the wild game birds a covey of 15 or 16 quail is the particular pride of the farm workers. These birds never went very far from the feeding station that was in a farm orchard. It's been possible to keep track of them by their marks in the snow, and a few days ago when spring flirted with Chicagoland the cheery whistles of some of the Bob Whites could be heard.

duced by the spray process and 1,741,251 pounds produced by the roller process. When the agency asked for tenders, it was indicated that the milk would be used for relief purposes.

Active profit selling cut into the advances of some commodities for future delivery and left final prices irregular compared with Wednesday's broad upswing. Domestic sugar, wool tops and rubber moved forward to their highest prices of the year, rubber soaring nearly ¾ cent a pound. Cocoa and hides declined.

Rubber Prices Advance.

Rubber, carried along by increased trade fears of shipping problems and new tension in the far east, rose 0.35 to 0.70 cent to 22.40 cents a pound in the May position. The delivery ended at 22.28 cents, and the cash price gained 0.63 cent at 22.50 cents. Similarly, silk showed a sharp advance, the cash market jumping 6½ cents a pound to $2.82½, while futures eased to an irregular close.

Wool tops yielded the major part of an early advance that carried all active contracts except March to new peaks, and finished unchanged to 0.5 cent a pound higher. The cash market gained 2 cents at $1.30. Domestic sugar futures were 0.02 to 0.05 cent a pound higher. Copper added 0.02 to 0.12 cent a pound at 11.75 cents for the May delivery.

COMPETITIVE BID FIGHT RENEWED IN REPORT BY SEC

Cites Two Refunding Deals to Support Its Stand.

Washington, D. C., March 13 (AP).—Describing what it termed "disorderly competition" in two refunding operations, the Securities and Exchange commission's public utilities division asserted today that competitive bidding was "the only possible means of avoiding competition of this character."

This view was expressed in a detailed report of an investigation of the issuance of bonds last fall by San Antonio Public Service company and Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric company, both subsidiaries of the United Light and Power company.

"The history of the two transactions," the staff said, "bears sharply upon the competitive bidding problem now being considered by the commission."

Competition Is Recommended.

The staff recently recommended that the SEC require competitive bids in the sale of public utility issues of more than $1,000,000. The commission sat for five days at public hearings on the proposal and was reported to be considering a revised form of the recommendation.

The utilities division staff declared that the outcome of the San Antonio deal "could not be regarded as entirely satisfactory from the point of view of any of the parties to the transaction."

The investigation report showed that Mellon Securities corporation, Pittsburgh, had arranged a syndicate to handle a $16,500,000 bond issue by San Antonio, with a public offering price of 107 and a net to the company of 105, but at the last minute, Otis & Co., Cleveland investment house, submitted a bid of 107 net.

Mellon Plans Changed.

Thereupon, the Mellon group changed its plans so that the bonds were sold to the public at 107½ with a net to the company of 107.

Dillon, Read & Co., New York, managed the Columbus and Southern Ohio transaction. The story of this related principally to the increase of Otis & Co.'s participation from $1,300,000 to $2,300,000. The Cleveland house mentioned competitive bidding early in the transaction, but it was not discussed further and the bonds were sold to the public at 107, with a net to the company of 105.

"It is hard to escape the conclusion," the staff said, "that, if there had been competition in the Columbus transaction, the issuing company would have received a higher price for its bonds."

FOUR PURE OIL DIRECTORS UP FOR RE-ELECTION

Pure Oil company, Chicago, yesterday sent to stockholders a proxy statement naming four directors for reelection to the board, and listing the stockholdings of the nominees and total remuneration of directors and officers. The statement was mailed in connection with the shareholders' annual meeting to be held April 12, at the company's corporate office in Columbus, O.

J. H. McCoy, Philip R. Clarke, Rawleigh Warner and L. S. Wescoat are the four directors whose terms are expiring and whom the company proposes to reëlect. Their holdings in the company, as of Feb. 10, were: McCoy, beneficial owner of 100 common shares; Clarke, beneficial owner of 100 common shares; Warner, beneficial owner of 1,000 common shares, and Wescoat, beneficial owner of 1,100 shares. Wescoat is secretary of the company, Warner is treasurer, and both are vice presidents.

U. S. BONDS RISE AS FINANCING PLANS ARE TOLD

New York, March 13 (AP).—United States government bond issues moved up briskly in light dealings today as the treasury announced it was considering going into the capital market for more funds next week. Treasuries ended with gains running to 13 points.

Railway liens gave ground in the corporate bond market, but industrials were steady and selected utility obligations gained a little.

Premium Paid on Monsanto Chemical Stock Offering

The $4 preferred stock of Monsanto Chemical company, offered yesterday at 103½, was quoted during the day at a premium of 1 to 1½ points. The issue of 75,000 shares was oversubscribed, Smith, Barney & Co., syndicate manager, announced.

Home Building Sets Highest February Volume in 13 Years

The swift pace of construction in the nation was reflected yesterday in surveys showing the biggest rush of small home building in any February since 1928, and a current tripling of engineering awards as compared with a year ago.

Last month's building in 37 eastern states included more than 18,000 small homes costing $90,782,000, the biggest February volume of such building in 13 years, the F. W. Dodge corporation reported.

34 Per Cent of Total.

That type of construction accounted for more than 34 per cent of the $270,373,000 total February contract volume in the states surveyed. The small home figure was 59 per cent above the $57,118,000 for February, 1940.

Engineering construction awards this week, totaling $132,626,000, more than tripled last year's volume and topped the preceding 1941 week by 28 per cent, Engineering News-Record reported.

Armament contracts boosted public awards to four times those of a year ago and 36 per cent above last week. Private awards were 40 per cent larger than last year, but slipped 3 per cent under a week ago.

All Classes Exceed 1940.

	Latest wk.	Prev. wk.	Yr. ago.
Private	$ 20,683	$ 21,423	$14,748
State, municipal..	27,620	22,545	26,023
Federal	84,323	59,994	2,537
Total	$132,626	$103,962	$43,308

Dun & Bradstreet placed the February volume of new buildings, alterations, and repairs in 215 cities at $93,602,664, which was 11.3 per cent less than in January but 3.4 per cent larger than in February, 1940. It was the largest February total since 1931.

LINES ASSURED AIRPLANE MOTOR, PARTS SUPPLIES

Washington, D. C., March 13 (AP).—William S. Knudsen, director general of the Office of Production Management, assured commercial air lines today that they would continue to receive motors and other material required for the maintenance of efficient air transport service.

"It is obvious, of course," Knudsen said in a statement, "that the military airplane program is of paramount importance in the national defense effort.

"But it is a matter of fundamental policy, determined when civilian aircraft facilities were established, that the air lines shall continue to receive delivery of motors, propellers, instruments, spare parts, and material necessary for maintenance and overhauling operations."

GRAINS FINISH LITTLE CHANGED; SOY BEANS GAIN

Soy beans developed independent strength and at one time the May delivery was up 2⅝ cents and sold at $1.00⅛ a bushel, the highest price in about two months. Closing trades were ½ to ⅝ cent higher. The pronounced strength shown in cottonseed oil and other competing oils was a factor in advancing bean prices.

Wheat futures finished ¼ cent lower after a range of about 1⅛ cents for the day. Corn was unchanged to ¼ cent higher and oats unchanged to ¼ cent lower.

ARTHUR SURKAMP
New York, Mar. 5, 1941 Treasurer

People and Events

F. L. C. Bond of Toronto, Ont., yesterday was elected president of the American Railway Engineering association. He is vice president and general manager of the central region of the Canadian National railways. William F. Cummings, Boston, Mass., was chosen as vice president. New directors named were F. S. Schwinn, Houston, Tex.; Elmer T. Howson, and B. R. Kulp, both of Chicago.

Frank McNair, vice president and director of the Harris Trust and Savings bank, will leave March 17 from Miami, Fla., for a seven week industrial survey tour of South America sponsored by the National Research council. He will be one of a group of 21 industrialists, bankers, and research engineers who will cover a 17,000 mile route that will include six countries.

Frank McNair (left), F. L. C. Bond, and Max O'Rell Truitt (right), whose names were in yesterday's business news.

Plans for spring merchandising and advertising of Dodge trucks were outlined to Chicago area Dodge dealers yesterday at a special meeting in the Stevens hotel. The meeting was conducted by Lee D. Cosart, sales manager, truck division, of the Dodge Brothers corporation.

Wroe Alderson, market research specialist, will discuss income classification at a meeting of the Chicago chapter of the American Marketing association next Tuesday evening at the Sportsmen's club, 360 North Michigan avenue.

Edward Simon, until a year ago vice president and director of Goldblatt Brothers, has submitted his resignation, effective April 1, from the Sontag Drug company, southern California chain of drug stores.

President Roosevelt yesterday accepted the resignation of Max O'Rell Truitt as a member of the maritime commission, effective April 1. Truitt said he would become associated with the law firm of Homer Cummins, former attorney general, and William Stanley of Maryland.

The State Street Lighting association at its annual meeting in the Palmer House yesterday elected Bruce MacLeish, president; Walter L. Gregory, vice president, and Willard W. Cole, secretary and treasurer. Cole, Hughston M. McBain, and James S. Schoff were elected directors.

STOVE COMPANY OFFICIALS MAY BE ELIMINATED

Attorneys Discuss Plans for Belleville Firm.

All former officials and directors of the Enterprise foundry, Belleville, Ill., stove company which is being investigated by postal authorities, will be eliminated from the management by the proposed plan of reorganization, Assistant Attorney General James W. Breen said yesterday.

He made the statement after a conference in Chicago on the plan with Attorneys Joseph McGlynn and Harold Baker of East St. Louis, Ill. McGlynn represents the National Stock Yards National Bank of East St. Louis and other creditors. Baker represents the trustee, J. Edward Yoch of Belleville.

State Is Among Creditors.

Breen explained that the attorney general's office was consulted because the state is one of the company's creditors having a claim of $10,227 for unemployment compensation payments. No decisions were reached, and Breen said that the conference would be resumed in four or five days. The attorneys will submit to him the complete plan in writing.

Another provision of the plan, Breen said, would give employés stock in the new company in lieu of the $75,000 which they contributed to the old company.

A petition for permission to submit a reorganization plan under the federal bankruptcy act was filed last November in the federal court in East St. Louis. The proposed plan is to be submitted to the court on March 25.

Assistant Attorneys General Joe A. Pearce and James H. O'Brien also attended the conference yesterday.

Pledged Stoves Missing.

At the request of Montgomery Ward & Co. and Spiegel, Inc., Chicago mail order houses, Jack Stahl, a federal postal inspector attached to the Chicago office is investigating the tangled affairs of the company.

According to the auditor's report filed in court there is a shortage of $86,000 worth of stoves and parts which had been posted as collateral for a bank loan.

The report said that the company borrowed $108,250 from the National Stock Yards National bank, putting up that amount in paid stove orders as collateral. The stoves were paid for by the two Chicago companies and were to have been made and stored for them. However, an inventory failed to find them, and the companies deny they received either the stoves or invoices.

Carnegie-Illinois Plants Tie in Safety Contest

Nineteen companies yesterday were named winners in the Greater Chicago Safety council's 24th semiannual interplant accident prevention contest. Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation's south works and the company's sheet and tin mills tied for first place. The south works, between July 1 and Dec. 31, 1940, showed 15,621,684 man-hours worked, with 47 accidents. The sheet and tin mills worked 9,556,061 hours, with 29 accidents. Standard Oil Company of Indiana, with 4,265,936 man-hours worked and four accidents, won second place.

introduction of a one row corn picker-husker. The company, which has main offices in Chicago, is engaged in producing metal bomb packing crates for the armament program. However, altho some of this work was completed last year, Sivright said that the amout billed accounted for less than one per cent of the sales volume.

Joslyn Profit Lower.

Lower profit margins and increased taxes and other costs reduced the 1940 net income of the Joslyn Manufacturing and Supply company to $798,707, equal to $4.73 a share, from $1,148,782, or $7.06 a share, reported in 1939.

M. L. Joslyn, president, reported that consolidated sales, including certain subsidiary companies not covered in 1939, totaled $16,424,002, the largest sales volume in the company's history. The 1940 federal and state tax bill totaled $481,403, compared with $406,707 in 1939.

The American Hair and Felt company, with main offices in Chicago, reported 1940 net income of $410,109, equal to $1.04 a share, compared with $376,987, or 86 cents a share, in 1939.

Net income of the Holland Furnace company in 1940 totaled $1,616,506, equal to $3.59 a share, against $1,453,185, or $3.11 a share. Net sales were $15,566,284, compared with the 1939 sales volume of $12,306,046.

The Western Union Telegraph company reported January net income of $148,094, compared with a net loss of $166,895 for the same month a year ago.

SPORTING GOODS FIRM WILL OPEN AT 9 N. WABASH

Von Lengerke and Antoine to Use New Building.

Von Lengerke and Antoine, 50 year old Chicago sporting equipment company, will open its new six story home at 9 North Wabash avenue shortly after noon on Monday, Jacques de La Chapelle, vice president, announced yesterday.

Jacques de La Chapelle

The company was founded in 1891 by two sportsmen, Oswald von Lengerke and Charles Antoine, when they opened a small store at 246 South Wabash avenue for the sale of guns and fishing tackle. Business was so good that in three years a move was made to larger quarters at 271 South Wabash. Bicycles, which were the vogue in those days, were added.

Becomes Widely Known.

By 1896 the company had become so well known thruout the middle west as a sports goods center that further expansion was made necessary and a store at Wabash avenue and Van Buren streets was taken. New departments were added which handled such wares as cutlery, athletic goods and photographic supplies. That store was destroyed by fire and the company after a brief tenancy in the Palmer House moved to 33 South Wabash.

In 1928 Von Lengerke and Antoine became a part of the Abercrombie and Fitch company, New York firm which also was founded by two sportsmen. However, the Chicago unit is operated under local management with de La Chapelle, son-in-law of Antoine, in charge.

Add Many New Lines.

With the opening of the new home, many lines other than the guns and fishing tackle of the early days will be handled. The first floor will sell fishing tackle, luggage, sporting gifts, cameras, books, and prints, with the mezzanine devoted to athletic equipment. On the second floor there will be a gun room and camp and marine supplies. The third and fourth floors will be devoted to men's and women's sports clothing and shoes and the other two floors will be used for offices and stock rooms.

James S. Cobb, chairman of the board of Abercrombie and Fitch, is coming from New York to attend the opening.

BANKS' EXCESS RESERVE FUNDS RISE 40 MILLION

Regain Part of Preceding Week's Decline.

The amount of idle lendable funds in banks increased $40,000,000 in the week ended Wednesday, reversing the trend of the preceding week, the Federal Reserve board reported yesterday. Th increase raised the excess reserves of member banks to $6,480,000,000. In the preceding week idle funds fell $100,000,000.

"Additions to member bank reserves in the latest week arose from increases of $81,000,000 in gold stock, $7,000,000 in reserve bank credit, and $3,000,000 in treasury currency, and a decrease of $24,000,000 in nonmember deposits and other federal reserve accounts, offset in part by gains of $30,000,000 in treasury deposits with reserve banks, $6,000,000 in money in circulation, and $4,000,000 in treasury cash," the board said.

The total of money in circulation was $8,811,000,000 as of Wednesday.

Chicago member banks reported they had $522,000,000 of commercial, industrial, and agricultural loans outstanding, $10,000,000 more than a week earlier. In New York City, business loans rose $53,000,000.

GENERAL BAKING.

I should think that profits of General Baking would be fairly steady because people eat bread in good times or bad. Is this correct? I should like to have the company's earnings record and a review of its dividend payments.—M. W.

Answer: Altho bread sales of General Baking company remain generally stable thru lush and lean years, its earnings vary in accordance with costs of raw materials, labor, and taxes, as well as with fluctuations in its cake and pie sales, which reflect changes in consumer purchasing power.

The second largest bread baker in the country, General Baking has a daily output of more than 1 million bread loaves, which account for about 90 per cent of its total production. The company's bakeries and distributing branches are scattered over 20 states in the middle west, central south, and north Atlantic coast. Headquarters are in New York City.

1936	$2,611,839	$1.20	$1.20
1937	1,504,813	.50	.75
1938	2,713,423	1.27	.80
1939	1,507,027	.50	.60
1940	1,923,926	.77	.60

Common dividends have been paid in each year since 1921. Regular dividends on the preferred stock have been paid quarterly. The company has outstanding 87,503 shares of $8 cumulative preferred stock of no par value and 1,578,697 shares of $5 par common stock.

CARNEGIE METALS.

Can you tell me what has happened to the Carnegie Metals company? I do not see its stock listed on the curb.—R. V.

Answer: The Securities and Exchange commission has authorized the New York Curb and the Pittsburgh Stock exchanges to delist the 1,362,673 shares of $1 par capital stock of the Carnegie Metals company, Pittsburgh, Pa. The stock was suspended from trading last May.

The action was taken on the grounds that the company has turned over the Mexican mining property of its subsidiary and some of its own assets for operation under a provisional agreement by representatives of a Mexican miners' union, and that the company virtually has terminated operations. Plans for resumption of operations or for liquidation have not been announced by the company.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

An increase in hog receipts caused a break of 10 to 15 cents in prices the stockyards yesterday, erasing all of Wednesday's gains. A total of 20,500 hogs arrived during the day, which was 5,500 more than expected.

All leading packers bought freely at the lower prices. Near the close several lots of light butchers reached $7.95 and $8.00 a hundred pounds. The practical top for the day, however, was $7.90.

Only a few loads of shipping cattle escaped the cut of 15 to 25 cents that became general in the market for most steers and yearlings. Demand was narrow and the undertone to the market very weak.

Cattle receipts, 5,500; shipments, 2,500.
Sheep receipts, 16,500; shipments, 2,000.
